5. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the payment of court reporter’s fees provided in subsections 2 and 3 of this section shall be made by the state upon a voucher approved by the court. A surcharge of fifteen dollars shall be assessed as costs in each court proceeding filed within this state in all other criminal cases, except for traffic violation cases in which the defendant is found guilty of a misdemeanor.

3. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the moneys collected by clerks of the courts pursuant to the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall be collected and disbursed in accordance with sections 488.010 to 488.020, and shall be payable to the state treasurer.

4. The state treasurer shall deposit such moneys or other gifts, grants, or moneys received on a monthly basis into the “DNA Profiling Analysis Fund”, which is hereby created in the state treasury. The fund shall be administered by the department of public safety. The moneys deposited into the DNA profiling analysis fund shall be used only by the highway patrol crime lab to fulfill the purposes of the DNA profiling system pursuant to section 650.052. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund.

5. The provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of this section shall expire on August 28, 2019.

513.430. 1. The following property shall be exempt from attachment and execution to the extent of any person’s interest therein:

No amount of any accrued dividend or interest under, or loan value of, any such life insurance contracts shall be exempt from any claim for child support. a. Such plan or contract was established by or under the auspices of an insider that employed such person at the time such person's rights under such plan or contract arose;

b. Such payment is on account of age or length of service; and

c. Such plan or contract does not qualify under Section 401(a), 403(a), 403(b), 408, 408A or 409 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (26 U.S.C. Section 401(a), 403(a), 403(b), 408, 408A or 409); except that, any such payment to any person shall be subject to attachment or execution pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order, as defined by Section 414(p) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, issued by a court in any proceeding for dissolution of marriage or legal separation or a proceeding for disposition of property following dissolution of marriage by a court which lacked personal jurisdiction over the absent spouse or lacked jurisdiction to dispose of marital property at the time of the original judgment of dissolution;

As used in this paragraph, the terms "alternate payee" and "qualified domestic relations order” have the meaning given to them in Section 414(p) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. If proceedings under Title 11 of the United States Code are commenced by or against such person, no amount of funds shall be exempt in such proceedings under any such plan, contract, or trust which is fraudulent as defined in subsection 2 of section 428.024 and for the period such person participated within three years prior to the commencement of such proceedings. For the purposes of this section, when the fraudulently conveyed funds are recovered and after, such funds shall be deducted and then treated as though the funds had never been contributed to the plan, contract, or trust;

(11) The debtor’s right to receive, or property that is traceable to, a payment on account of the wrongful death of an individual of whom the debtor was a dependent, to the extent reasonably necessary for the support of the debtor and any dependent of the debtor;

2. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to exempt from attachment or execution for a valid judicial or administrative order for the payment of child support or maintenance any money or assets, payable to a participant or beneficiary from, or any interest of any participant or beneficiary in, a retirement plan which is qualified pursuant to Section 408A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

513.440. Each head of a family may select and hold, exempt from execution, any other property, real, personal or mixed, or debts and wages, not exceeding in value the amount of one thousand [two] six hundred fifty dollars plus [three] four hundred fifty dollars for each of such person’s unmarried dependent children under the age of twenty-one years or dependent as defined by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, determined to be disabled by the Social Security Administration, except ten percent of any debt, income, salary or wages due such head of a family.

514.040. 1. Except as provided in subsection 3 of this section, if any court shall, before or after the commencement of any suit pending before it, be satisfied that the plaintiff is a poor person, and unable to prosecute his or her suit, and pay all or any portion of the costs and expenses thereof, such court may, in its discretion, permit him or her to commence and prosecute his or her action as a poor person, and thereupon such poor person shall have all necessary process and proceedings as in other cases, without fees, tax or charge as the court determines the person cannot pay; and the court may assign to such person counsel, who, as well as all other officers of the court, shall perform their duties in such suit without fee or reward as the court may excuse; but if judgment is entered for the plaintiff, costs shall be recovered, which shall be collected for the use of the officers of the court.

2. In any civil action brought in a court of this state by any offender convicted of a crime who is confined in any state prison or correctional center, the court shall not reduce the amount required as security for costs upon filing such suit to an amount of less than ten dollars pursuant to this section. This subsection shall not apply to any action for which no sum as security for costs is required to be paid upon filing such suit.

3. Where a party is represented in a civil action by a legal aid society or a legal services or other nonprofit organization funded in whole or substantial part by moneys appropriated by the general assembly of the state of Missouri, which has as its primary purpose the furnishing of legal services to indigent persons, by a law school clinic which has as its primary purpose educating law students through furnishing legal services to indigent persons, or by private counsel working on behalf of or under the auspices of such society, all costs and expenses, except guardian ad litem fees as provided by this subsection, related to the prosecution of the suit may be waived without the necessity of a motion and court approval, provided that a determination has been made by such society or organization that such party is unable to pay the costs, fees and expenses necessary to prosecute or defend the action, and that a certification that such determination has been made is filed with the clerk of the court. In the event an action involving the appointment of a guardian ad litem goes to trial, an updated certification shall be filed prior to the trial commencing. The waiver of guardian ad litem fees for a party who has filed a certification may be reviewed by the court at the conclusion of the action upon the motion of any party requesting the court to apportion guardian ad litem fees.

4. Any party may present additional evidence on the financial condition of the parties. Based upon that evidence, if the court finds the certifying party has the present ability to pay, the court may enter judgment ordering the certifying party to pay a portion of the guardian ad litem fees.

5. Any failure to pay guardian ad litem fees shall not preclude a certifying party from filing future suits, including motions to modify, and shall not be used as a basis to limit the certifying party's prosecution or defense of the action.

515.575. 1. Except as otherwise ordered by the court, the entry of an order appointing a general receiver shall operate as a stay, applicable to all persons, of:

(1) The commencement or continuation, including the issuance, employment, or service of process, of a judicial, administrative, or other action or proceeding against the debtor that was or could have been commenced before the entry of the order of appointment, or to recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the entry of the order of appointment;

(2) The enforcement against the debtor or any estate property of a judgment obtained before the order of appointment;

(3) Any act to obtain possession of estate property from the receiver, or to interfere with, or exercise control over, estate property;

(4) Any act to create, perfect, or enforce any lien or claim against estate property except by exercise of a right of setoff, to the extent that the lien secures a claim against the debtor that arose before the entry of the order of appointment; or

(5) Any act to collect, assess, or recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the entry of the order of appointment.

2. The stay shall automatically expire as to the acts specified in subdivisions (1), (2), and [(3)] (5) of subsection 1 of this section sixty days after the entry of the order of appointment unless before the expiration of the sixty-day period the debtor or receiver, for good cause shown, obtains an order of the court extending the stay, after notice and a hearing. A person whose action or proceeding is stayed by motion to the court may seek relief from the stay for good cause shown. Any judgment obtained against the debtor or estate property following the entry of the order of appointment is not a lien against estate property unless the receivership is terminated prior to a conveyance of the property against which the judgment would otherwise constitute a lien.

3. The entry of an order appointing a receiver does not operate as a stay of:

(1) The commencement or continuation of a criminal proceeding against the debtor;

(2) The commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding to establish paternity, or to establish or modify an order for alimony, maintenance, or support, or to collect alimony, maintenance, or support under any order of a court;

(3) Any act to perfect or to maintain or continue the perfection of an interest in estate property pursuant to any generally applicable Missouri law that permits perfection of an interest in property to be effective against an entity that acquires rights in such property before the date of perfection. Such right to perfect an interest in estate property includes any act to perfect an interest in purchase money collateral pursuant to sections 400.9-301 to 400.9-339, perfection of a lien that may be placed against real property under the provisions of chapter 429, or the assertion of a right to continue in possession of any estate property that is in the possession of a person entitled to retain possession of such property pending payment for work performed with respect to such property. If perfection of an interest would otherwise require seizure of the property involved or the commencement of an action, the perfection shall instead be accomplished by filing, and by serving upon the receiver, or receiver's counsel, if any, notice of the interest within the time fixed by law for seizure or commencement;

(4) The commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding by a governmental unit to enforce its police or regulatory power;

(5) The enforcement of a judgment, other than a money judgment, obtained in an action or proceeding by a governmental unit to enforce its police or regulatory power, or with respect to any licensure of the debtor;

(6) The exercise of a right of setoff, including but not limited to, any right of a commodity broker, forward contract merchant, stockbroker, financial institution, or securities clearing agency to set off a claim for a margin payment or settlement payment arising out of a commodity contract, forward contract, or securities contract against cash, securities, or other property held or due from the commodity broker, forward contract merchant, stockbroker, financial institution, or securities clearing agency to margin, guarantee, secure, or settle the commodity contract, forward contract, or securities contract, and any right of a swap participant to set off a claim for a payment due to the swap participant under or in connection with a swap agreement against any payment due from the swap participant under or in connection with the swap agreement or against cash, securities, or other property of the debtor held by or due from the swap participant to guarantee, secure, or settle the swap agreement;

(7) The establishment by a governmental unit of any tax liability and any appeal thereof; or

(8) Any action pending in a court other than that in which the receiver is appointed until transcription of the order appointing the receiver or extending the stay is made to the other court in which an action against the debtor is pending.

4. For the purposes of subdivision (8) of subsection 3 of this section, the receiver or any party in interest is authorized to cause to be transcribed any order appointing a receiver or extending the stay to any and all courts in which any action against a debtor is pending in this state. A court that receives a transcript of an order of receivership or extension of stay may on its own order sua sponte transfer the matter before the court to the court issuing an order of receivership.

515.635. To the extent that funds are available in the estate for distribution to creditors in a general receivership, the holder of an allowed noncontingent, liquidated claim is entitled to receive interest at the legal rate or other applicable rate from the date of appointment of the receiver or the date on which the claim became a noncontingent, liquidated claim. If there are [sufficient] insufficient funds in the estate to fully pay all interest owing to all members of the class, then interest shall be paid proportionately to each member of the class.

544.671. Notwithstanding any supreme court rule or judicial ruling to the contrary, no defendant under a sentence of death or imprisonment in the penitentiary for life, or any sentence of imprisonment for a violation of section 579.065, 565.021, [or] 565.050, 565.052 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, 565.054 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, 565.056 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, section 566.030, 566.031, 566.032, 566.040 as it existed prior to August 28, 2013, 566.060, 566.061, 566.062, 566.070 as it existed prior to August 28, 2013, or 566.100, and no defendant who has pled guilty to or been found guilty of any felony sexual offense under chapter 566, where the victim was less than seventeen years of age at the time the crime was committed, any sexual offense under chapter 568, where the victim was less than seventeen years of age at the time the crime was committed, or any pornographic offense involving a minor as set forth in sections 573.023, 573.025, 573.035, and 573.037, and any felony violation of section 573.040, shall be entitled to bail pending appeal after June 29, 1994. Pursuant to the prerogative of the general assembly to declare the public policy of this state in matters regarding criminal liability of persons and to enact laws relating to judicial procedure, the general assembly declares that subsequent to June 29, 1994, no person shall be entitled to bail or continuation of bail pursuant to section 547.170 if that person is under a sentence of death or imprisonment in the penitentiary for life, or any sentence of imprisonment for a violation of section 579.065, 565.021, [or] 565.050, 565.052 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, 565.054 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, 565.056 in which the victim is a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or emergency medical service provider assaulted in the performance of his or her official duties or as a direct result of such official duties, section 566.030, 566.031, 566.032, 566.040 as it existed prior to August 28, 2013, 566.060, 566.061, 566.062, 566.070 as it existed prior to August 28, 2013, or 566.100, [and no defendant who] or if that person has pled guilty to or been found guilty of any felony sexual offense under chapter 566, where the victim was less than seventeen years of age at the time the crime was committed, any sexual offense under chapter 568, where the victim was less than seventeen years of age at the time the crime was committed, or any pornographic offense involving a minor as set forth in sections 573.023, 573.025, 573.035, and 573.037, and any felony violation of section 573.040.

552.020. 1. No person who as a result of mental disease or defect lacks capacity to understand the proceedings against him or her or to assist in his or her own defense shall be tried, convicted or sentenced for the commission of an offense so long as the incapacity endures.

2. Whenever any judge has reasonable cause to believe that the accused lacks mental fitness to proceed, [he] the judge shall, upon his or her own motion or upon motion filed by the state or by or on behalf of the accused, by order of record, appoint one or more private psychiatrists or psychologists, as defined in section 632.005, or physicians with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to persons with an intellectual disability or developmental disability or mental illness, who are neither employees nor contractors of the department of mental health for purposes of performing the examination in question, to examine the accused; or shall direct the director to have the accused so examined by one or more psychiatrists or psychologists, as defined in section 632.005, or physicians with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to persons with an intellectual disability, developmental disability, or mental illness. The order shall direct that a written report or reports of such examination be filed with the clerk of the court. No private physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist shall be appointed by the court unless he or she has consented to act. The examinations ordered shall be made at such time and place and under such conditions as the court deems proper; except that, if the order directs the director of the department to have the accused examined, the director, or his or her designee, shall determine the time, place and conditions under which the examination shall be conducted. The order may include provisions for the interview of witnesses and may require the provision of police reports to the department for use in evaluations. The department shall establish standards and provide training for those individuals performing examinations pursuant to this section and section 552.030. No individual who is employed by or contracts with the department shall be designated to perform an examination pursuant to this chapter unless the individual meets the qualifications so established by the department. Any examination performed pursuant to this subsection shall be completed and filed with the court within sixty days of the order unless the court for good cause orders otherwise. Nothing in this section or section 552.030 shall be construed to permit psychologists to engage in any activity not authorized by chapter 337. One pretrial evaluation shall be provided at no charge to the defendant by the department. All costs of subsequent evaluations shall be assessed to the party requesting the evaluation.

3. A report of the examination made under this section shall include:

(1) Detailed findings;

(2) An opinion as to whether the accused has a mental disease or defect;

(3) An opinion based upon a reasonable degree of medical or psychological certainty as to whether the accused, as a result of a mental disease or defect, lacks capacity to understand the proceedings against him or her or to assist in his or her own defense;

(4) A recommendation as to whether the accused should be held in custody in a suitable hospital facility for treatment pending determination, by the court, of mental fitness to proceed; and

(5) A recommendation as to whether the accused, if found by the court to be mentally fit to proceed, should be detained in such hospital facility pending further proceedings.

4. If the accused has pleaded lack of responsibility due to mental disease or defect or has given the written notice provided in subsection 2 of section 552.030, the court shall order the report of the examination conducted pursuant to this section to include, in addition to the information required in subsection 3 of this section, an opinion as to whether at the time of the alleged criminal conduct the accused, as a result of mental disease or defect, did not know or appreciate the nature, quality, or wrongfulness of his or her conduct or as a result of mental disease or defect was incapable of conforming his or her conduct to the requirements of law. A plea of not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect shall not be accepted by the court in the absence of any such pretrial evaluation which supports such a defense. In addition, if the accused has pleaded not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect, and the alleged crime is not a dangerous felony as defined in section 556.061, or those crimes set forth in subsection 11 of section 552.040, or the attempts thereof, the court shall order the report of the examination to include an opinion as to whether or not the accused should be immediately conditionally released by the court pursuant to the provisions of section 552.040 or should be committed to a mental health or developmental disability facility. If such an evaluation is conducted at the direction of the director of the department of mental health, the court shall also order the report of the examination to include an opinion as to the conditions of release which are consistent with the needs of the accused and the interest of public safety, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

- (1) Location and degree of necessary supervision of housing;
- (2) Location of and responsibilities for appropriate psychiatric, rehabilitation and aftercare services, including the frequency of such services;
- (3) Medication follow-up, including necessary testing to monitor medication compliance;
- (4) At least monthly contact with the department's forensic case monitor;
- (5) Any other conditions or supervision as may be warranted by the circumstances of the case.

5. If the report contains the recommendation that the accused should be committed to or held in a suitable hospital facility pending determination of the issue of mental fitness to proceed, and if the accused is not admitted to bail or released on other conditions, the court may order that the accused be committed to or held in a suitable hospital facility pending determination of the issue of mental fitness to proceed.

6. The clerk of the court shall deliver copies of the report to the prosecuting or circuit attorney and to the accused or his or her counsel. The report shall not be a public record or open to the public. Within ten days after the filing of the report, both the defendant and the state shall, upon written request, be entitled to an order granting them an examination of the accused by a psychiatrist or psychologist, as defined in section 632.005, or a physician with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to persons with an intellectual disability or developmental disability or mental illness, of their own choosing and at their own expense. An examination performed pursuant to this subsection shall be completed and a report filed with the court within sixty days of the date it is received by the department or private psychiatrist, psychologist or physician unless the court, for good cause, orders otherwise. A copy shall be furnished the opposing party.

7. If neither the state nor the accused nor his or her counsel requests a second examination relative to fitness to proceed or contests the findings of the report referred to in subsections 2 and 3 of this section, the court may make a determination and finding on the basis of the report filed or may hold a hearing on its own motion. If any such opinion is contested, the court shall hold a hearing on the issue. The court shall determine the issue of mental fitness to proceed and may impanel a jury of six persons to assist in making the determination. The report or reports may be received in evidence at any hearing on the issue but the party contesting any opinion therein shall have the right to summon and to cross-examine the examiner who rendered such opinion and to offer evidence upon the issue.

8. At a hearing on the issue pursuant to subsection 7 of this section, the accused is presumed to have the mental fitness to proceed. The burden of proving that the accused does not have the mental fitness to proceed is by a preponderance of the evidence and the burden of going forward with the evidence is on the party raising the issue. The burden of going forward shall be on the state if the court raises the issue.

9. If the court determines that the accused lacks mental fitness to proceed, the criminal proceedings shall be suspended and the court shall commit him or her to the director of the department of mental health. After the person has been committed, legal counsel for the department of mental health shall have standing to file motions and participate in hearings on the issue of involuntary medications.

10. Any person committed pursuant to subsection 9 of this section shall be entitled to the writ of habeas corpus upon proper petition to the court that committed him or her. The issue of the mental fitness to proceed after commitment under subsection 9 of this section may also be raised by a motion filed by the director of the department of mental health or by the state, alleging the mental fitness of the accused to proceed. A report relating to the issue of the accused's mental fitness to proceed may be attached thereto. If the motion is not contested by the accused or his or her counsel or if after a hearing on a motion the court finds the accused mentally fit to proceed, or if he or she is ordered discharged from the director's custody upon a habeas corpus hearing, the criminal proceedings shall be resumed.

11. The following provisions shall apply after a commitment as provided in this section:

(1) Six months after such commitment, the court which ordered the accused committed shall order an examination by the head of the facility in which the accused is committed, or a qualified designee, to ascertain whether the accused is mentally fit to proceed and if not, whether there is a substantial probability that the accused will attain the mental fitness to proceed to trial in the foreseeable future. The order shall direct that written report or reports of the examination be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days and the clerk shall deliver copies to the prosecuting attorney or circuit attorney and to the accused or his or her counsel. The report required by this subsection shall conform to the requirements under subsection 3 of this section with the additional requirement that it include an opinion, if the accused lacks mental fitness to proceed, as to whether there is a substantial probability that the accused will attain the mental fitness to proceed in the foreseeable future;

(2) Within ten days after the filing of the report, both the accused and the state shall, upon written request, be entitled to an order granting them an examination of the accused by a psychiatrist or psychologist, as defined in section 632.005, or a physician with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to persons with an intellectual disability or developmental disability or mental illness, of their own choosing and at their own expense. An examination performed pursuant to this subdivision shall be completed and filed with the court within thirty days unless the court, for good cause, orders otherwise. A copy shall be furnished to the opposing party;

(3) If neither the state nor the accused nor his or her counsel requests a second examination relative to fitness to proceed or contests the findings of the report referred to in subdivision (1) of this subsection, the court may make a determination and finding on the basis of the report filed, or may hold a hearing on its own motion. If any such opinion is contested, the court shall hold a hearing on the issue. The report or reports may be received in evidence at any hearing on the issue but the party contesting any opinion therein relative to fitness to proceed shall have the right to summon and to cross-examine the examiner who rendered such opinion and to offer evidence upon the issue;

(4) If the accused is found mentally fit to proceed, the criminal proceedings shall be resumed;

(5) If it is found that the accused lacks mental fitness to proceed but there is a substantial probability the accused will be mentally fit to proceed in the reasonably foreseeable future, the court shall continue such commitment for a period not longer than six months, after which the court shall reinstitute the proceedings required under subdivision (1) of this subsection;

(6) If it is found that the accused lacks mental fitness to proceed and there is no substantial probability that the accused will be mentally fit to proceed in the reasonably foreseeable future, the court shall dismiss the charges without prejudice and the accused shall be discharged, but only if proper proceedings have been filed under chapter 632 or chapter 475, in which case those sections and no others will be applicable. The probate division of the circuit court shall have concurrent jurisdiction over the accused upon the filing of a proper pleading to determine if the accused shall be involuntarily detained under chapter 632, or to determine if the accused shall be declared incapacitated under chapter 475, and approved for admission by the guardian under section 632.120 or 633.120, to a mental health or developmental disability facility. No statement made by the accused in the course of any examination or treatment pursuant to this section and no information received by any examiner or other person in the course thereof, whether such examination or treatment was made with or without the consent of the accused or upon his or her motion or upon that of others, shall be admitted in evidence against the accused on the issue of guilt in any criminal proceeding then or thereafter pending in any court, state or federal. A finding by the court that the accused is mentally fit to proceed shall in no way prejudice the accused in a defense to the crime charged on the ground that at the time thereof he or she was afflicted with a mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, nor shall such finding by the court be introduced in evidence on that issue nor otherwise be brought to the notice of the jury.

577.037. 1. Upon the trial of any person for any criminal offense or violations of county or municipal ordinances, or in any license suspension or revocation proceeding pursuant to the provisions of chapter 302, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while operating a vehicle, vessel, or aircraft, or acting as a flight crew member of any aircraft, while in an intoxicated condition or with an excessive blood alcohol content, the amount of alcohol in the person’s blood at the time of the act, as shown by any chemical analysis of the person’s blood, breath, saliva, or urine, is admissible in evidence and the provisions of subdivision (5) of section 491.060 shall not prevent the admissibility or introduction of such evidence if otherwise admissible.

2. If a chemical analysis of the defendant's breath, blood, saliva, or urine demonstrates there was eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, this shall be prima facie evidence that the person was intoxicated at the time the specimen was taken. If a chemical analysis of the defendant's breath, blood, saliva, or urine demonstrates that there was less than eight-hundredths of one percent of alcohol in the defendant's blood, any charge alleging a criminal offense related to the operation of a vehicle, vessel, or aircraft while in an intoxicated condition shall be dismissed with prejudice unless one or more of the following considerations cause the court to find a dismissal unwarranted:

(1) There is evidence that the chemical analysis is unreliable as evidence of the defendant's intoxication at the time of the alleged violation due to the lapse of time between the alleged violation and the obtaining of the specimen;

(2) There is evidence that the defendant was under the influence of a controlled substance, or drug, or a combination of either or both with or without alcohol; or

(3) There is substantial evidence of intoxication from physical observations of witnesses or admissions of the defendant.

3. Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per two hundred ten liters of breath.

4. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether the person was intoxicated.

5. A chemical analysis of a person's breath, blood, saliva or urine, in order to give rise to the presumption or to have the effect provided for in subsection 2 of this section, shall have been performed as provided in sections 577.020 to 577.041 and in accordance with methods and standards approved by the state department of health and senior services.

6. For any criminal offense, violation of a county or municipal ordinance, or in any license suspension or revocation proceeding under the provisions of chapter 302 arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while operating a vehicle, vessel, or aircraft, or acting as a flight crew member of any aircraft, while in an intoxicated condition or with an excessive blood alcohol content occurring on or between the dates of December 30, 2012, and April 4, 2014, notwithstanding any other provision of law or regulation, a relevant chemical analysis of a person's breath shall be admissible in all proceedings after the effective date of this section if the standard simulator solutions used to verify and calibrate evidential breath analyzers had a vapor concentration within five percent of the following values:

(1) One-tenth of one percent;

(2) Eight-hundredths of one percent; or

(3) Four-hundredths of one percent;

and otherwise were in accordance with methods and standards approved by the department of health and senior services. This provision is a procedural rule and applies to all actions in progress whether commenced before or after the effective date of this section. Such chemical breath analysis shall be admissible in all proceedings after the effective date of this section even if the offense occurred before the effective date of this section.

7. It is the intent of the legislature to reverse, overturn, and abrogate earlier case law interpretations related to the admissibility of chemical breath analyses to include, but not be limited to, holdings in Stiers v. Dir. of Revenue, 477 S.W.3d 611, (Mo. 2016); and Stiers v. Dir. of Revenue, ED 101407, 2015 WL 343310 (Mo.App. E.D. Jan. 27, 2015).

577.060. 1. A person commits the offense of leaving the scene of an accident when:

(2) Having knowledge of such accident he or she leaves the place of the injury, damage or accident without stopping and giving the following information to the other party or to a law enforcement officer, or if no law enforcement officer is in the vicinity, then to the nearest law enforcement agency:

(a) His or her name;

(b) His or her residence, including city and street number;

(c) The registration or license number for his or her vehicle or vessel; and

(d) His or her operator's license number, if any.

2. For the purposes of this section, all law enforcement officers shall have jurisdiction, when invited by an injured person, to enter the premises of any privately owned property for the purpose of investigating an accident and performing all necessary duties regarding such accident.

3. The offense of leaving the scene of an accident is:

(1) A class A misdemeanor; [or]

(2) A class E felony if:

(a) Physical injury was caused to another party; or

(b) Damage in excess of one thousand dollars was caused to the property of another person; or

(c) The defendant has previously been found guilty of any offense in violation of this section; or committed in another jurisdiction which, if committed in this state, would be a violation of an offense of this section; or

(3) A class D felony if a death has occurred as a result of the accident.

4. A law enforcement officer who investigates or receives information of an accident involving an all-terrain vehicle and also involving the loss of life or serious physical injury shall make a written report of the investigation or information received and such additional facts relating to the accident as may come to his or her knowledge, mail the information to the department of public safety, and keep a record thereof in his or her office.

5. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the operation of all-terrain vehicles when property damage is sustained in sanctioned all-terrain vehicle races, derbies and rallies.

589.664. 1. If an individual is a participant in the Address Confidentiality Program pursuant to section 589.663, no person or entity shall be compelled to disclose the participant's actual address during the discovery phase of or during a proceeding before a court or other tribunal unless the court or tribunal first finds, on the record, that:

(1) There is a reasonable belief that the address is needed to obtain information or evidence without which the investigation, prosecution, or litigation cannot proceed; and

(2) There is no other practicable way of obtaining the information or evidence.

2. The court must first provide the program participant and the secretary of state notice that address disclosure is sought.

3. The program participant shall have an opportunity to present evidence regarding the potential harm to the safety of the program participant if the address is disclosed. In determining whether to compel disclosure, the court must consider whether the potential harm to the safety of the participant is outweighed by the interest in disclosure.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision in law, no court shall order an individual who has had his or her application accepted by the secretary to disclose his or her actual address or location of his or her residence without giving the secretary proper notice. The secretary shall have the right to intervene in any civil proceeding in which a court is considering a participant to disclose their actual address.

5. Disclosure of a participant's actual address under this section shall be limited under the terms of the order to ensure that the disclosure and dissemination of the actual address will be no wider than necessary for the purposes of the investigation, prosecution, or litigation.

6. Nothing in this section prevents the court or other tribunal from issuing a protective order to prevent disclosure of information other than the participant's actual address that could reasonably lead to the discovery of the program participant's location.

589.675. If the secretary deems it appropriate, the secretary [shall] may make a program participant's address and mailing address available for inspection or copying [under the following circumstances:

(1)] to a person identified in a court order, upon the secretary's receipt of such court order that complies with section 559.664 [specifically orders the disclosure of a particular program participant's address and mailing address and the reasons stated for the disclosure; or

(2) If the certification has been cancelled because the applicant or program participant violated subdivision (2) of section 589.663].

595.045. 1. There is established in the state treasury the "Crime Victims' Compensation Fund". A surcharge of seven dollars and fifty cents shall be assessed as costs in each court proceeding filed in any court in the state in all criminal cases including violations of any county ordinance or any violation of criminal or traffic laws of the state, including an infraction and violation of a municipal ordinance; except that no such fee shall be collected in any proceeding in any court when the proceeding or the defendant has been dismissed by the court or when costs are to be paid by the state, county, or municipality. A surcharge of seven dollars and fifty cents shall be assessed as costs in a juvenile court proceeding in which a child is found by the court to come within the applicable provisions of subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 211.031.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the moneys collected by clerks of the courts pursuant to the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall be collected and disbursed in accordance with sections 488.010 to 488.020 and shall be payable to the director of the department of revenue.

3. The director of revenue shall deposit annually the amount of two hundred fifty thousand dollars to the state forensic laboratory account administered by the department of public safety to provide financial assistance to defray expenses of crime laboratories if such analytical laboratories are registered with the federal Drug Enforcement Agency or the Missouri department of health and senior services. Subject to appropriations made therefor, such funds shall be distributed by the department of public safety to the crime laboratories serving the courts of this state making analysis of a controlled substance or analysis of blood, breath or urine in relation to a court proceeding.

4. The remaining funds collected under subsection 1 of this section shall be denoted to the payment of an annual appropriation for the administrative and operational costs of the office for victims of crime and, if a statewide automated crime victim notification system is established pursuant to section 650.310, to the monthly payment of expenditures actually incurred in the operation of such system. Additional remaining funds shall be subject to the following provisions:

(1) On the first of every month, the director of revenue or the director's designee shall determine the balance of the funds in the crime victims' compensation fund available to satisfy the amount of compensation payable pursuant to sections 595.010 to 595.075, excluding sections 595.050 and 595.055;

(2) Beginning on September 1, 2004, and on the first of each month, the director of revenue or the director's designee shall deposit fifty percent of the balance of funds available to the credit of the crime victims' compensation fund and fifty percent to the services to victims' fund established in section 595.100.

5. The director of revenue or such director's designee shall at least monthly report the moneys paid pursuant to this section into the crime victims' compensation fund and the services to victims fund to the department of public safety.

6. The moneys collected by clerks of municipal courts pursuant to subsection 1 of this section shall be collected and disbursed as provided by sections 488.010 to 488.020. Five percent of such moneys shall be payable to the city treasury of the city from which such funds were collected. The remaining ninety-five percent of such moneys shall be payable to the director of revenue. The funds received by the director of revenue pursuant to this subsection shall be distributed as follows:

(1) On the first of every month, the director of revenue or the director's designee shall determine the balance of the funds in the crime victims' compensation fund available to satisfy the amount of compensation payable pursuant to sections 595.010 to 595.075, excluding sections 595.050 and 595.055;

(2) Beginning on September 1, 2004, and on the first of each month the director of revenue or the director's designee shall deposit fifty percent of the balance of funds available to the credit of the crime victims' compensation fund and fifty percent to the services to victims' fund established in section

7. These funds shall be subject to a biennial audit by the Missouri state auditor. Such audit shall include all records associated with crime victims' compensation funds collected, held or disbursed by any state agency.

8. In addition to the moneys collected pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, the court shall enter a judgment in favor of the state of Missouri, payable to the crime victims' compensation fund, of sixty-eight dollars upon a plea of guilty or a finding of guilt for a class A or B felony; forty-six dollars upon a plea of guilty or finding of guilt for a class C [or], D, or E felony; and ten dollars upon a plea of guilty or a finding of guilt for any misdemeanor under Missouri law except for those in chapter 252 relating to fish and game, chapter 302 relating to drivers' and commercial drivers' license, chapter 303 relating to motor vehicle financial responsibility, chapter 304 relating to traffic regulations, chapter 306 relating to watercraft regulation and licensing, and chapter 307 relating to vehicle equipment regulations. Any clerk of the court receiving moneys pursuant to such judgments shall collect and disburse such crime victims' compensation judgments in the manner provided by sections 488.010 to 488.020. Such funds shall be payable to the state treasury and deposited to the credit of the crime victims' compensation fund.

9. The clerk of the court processing such funds shall maintain records of all dispositions described in subsection 1 of this section and all dispositions where a judgment has been entered against a defendant in favor of the state of Missouri in accordance with this section; all payments made on judgments for alcohol-related traffic offenses; and any judgment or portion of a judgment entered but not collected. These records shall be subject to audit by the state auditor. The clerk of each court transmitting such funds shall report separately the amount of dollars collected on judgments entered for alcohol-related traffic offenses from other crime victims' compensation collections or services to victims collections.

10. The department of revenue shall maintain records of funds transmitted to the crime victims' compensation fund by each reporting court and collections pursuant to subsection 16 of this section and shall maintain separate records of collection for alcohol-related offenses.

11. The state courts administrator shall include in the annual report required by section 476.350 the circuit court caseloads and the number of crime victims' compensation judgments entered.

12. All awards made to injured victims under sections 595.010 to 595.105 and all appropriations for administration of sections 595.010 to 595.105, except sections 595.050 and 595.055, shall be made from the crime victims' compensation fund. Any unexpended balance remaining in the crime victims' compensation fund at the end of each biennium shall not be subject to the provision of section 33.080 requiring the transfer of such unexpended balance to the ordinary revenue fund of the state, but shall remain in the crime victims' compensation fund. In the event that there are insufficient funds in the crime victims' compensation fund to pay all claims in full, all claims shall be paid on a pro rata basis. If there are no funds in the crime victims' compensation fund, then no claim shall be paid until funds have again accumulated in the crime victims' compensation fund. When sufficient funds become available from the fund, awards which have not been paid shall be paid in chronological order with the oldest paid first. In the event an award was to be paid in installments and some remaining installments have not been paid due to a lack of funds, then when funds do become available that award shall be paid in full. All such awards on which installments remain due shall be paid in full in chronological order before any other postdated award shall be paid. Any award pursuant to this subsection is specifically not a claim against the state, if it cannot be paid due to a lack of funds in the crime victims' compensation fund.

13. When judgment is entered against a defendant as provided in this section and such sum, or any part thereof, remains unpaid, there shall be withheld from any disbursement, payment, benefit, compensation, salary, or other transfer of money from the state of Missouri to such defendant an amount equal to the unpaid amount of such judgment. Such amount shall be paid forthwith to the crime victims' compensation fund and satisfaction of such judgment shall be entered on the court record. Under no circumstances shall the general revenue fund be used to reimburse court costs or pay for such judgment. The director of the department of corrections shall have the authority to pay into the crime victims' compensation fund from an offender's compensation or account the amount owed by the offender to the crime victims' compensation fund, provided that the offender has failed to pay the amount owed to the fund prior to entering a correctional facility of the department of corrections.

14. All interest earned as a result of investing funds in the crime victims' compensation fund shall be paid into the crime victims' compensation fund and not into the general revenue of this state.

15. Any person who knowingly makes a fraudulent claim or false statement in connection with any claim hereunder is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

16. The department may receive gifts and contributions for the benefit of crime victims. Such gifts and contributions shall be credited to the crime victims' compensation fund as used solely for compensating victims under the provisions of sections 595.010 to 595.075.

595.219. 1. In addition to the court's authority to order a defendant to make restitution for the damage or loss caused by his or her offense as provided in section 559.105, the court may enter a judgment of restitution against the offenders convicted of official misconduct in the first or second degrees pursuant to the provisions of this section.

2. The court may order the defendant to make restitution to:

(1) The victim;

(2) Any governmental entity; or

(3) A third-party payor, including an insurer that has made payment to the victim to compensate the victim for a property loss or a pecuniary loss.

3. Restitution payments to the victim have priority over restitution payments to a third-party payor. If the victim has been compensated for the victim's loss by a third-party payor, the court may order restitution payments to the third-party payor in the amount that the third-party payor compensated the victim.

4. Payment of restitution to a victim under this section has priority over payment of restitution to any governmental entity.

5. A restitution hearing to determine the liability of the defendant shall be held not later than thirty days after final disposition of the case and may be extended by the court for good cause. In the restitution hearing, a written statement or bill for medical, dental, hospital, funeral, or burial expenses shall be prima facie evidence that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill represents a fair and reasonable charge for the services or materials provided. The burden of proving that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill is not fair and reasonable shall be on the person challenging the fairness and reasonableness of the amount.

6. A judgment of restitution against a defendant may not be entered unless the defendant has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to be heard and to present appropriate evidence in his or her behalf. The defendant shall be advised of his or her right to obtain counsel for representation at the hearing. A hearing under this section may be held as part of a final disposition hearing for the case.

7. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as enforcing monetary judgments by the prosecuting attorney on behalf of the victim.

8. A judgment of restitution ordered pursuant to this section against a defendant shall not be a bar to a proceeding against the defendant pursuant to section 537.045 or section 8.150 for the balance of the damages not paid pursuant to this section.

650.520. 1. There is hereby created a statewide program called the “Blue Alert System” referred to in this section as the “system” to aid in the identification, location, and apprehension of any individual or individuals suspected of killing or seriously wounding any local, state, or federal law enforcement officer.

2. For the purposes of this section, “law enforcement officer” means any public servant having both the power and duty to make arrests for violations of the laws of this state, and federal law enforcement officers authorized to carry firearms and to make arrests for violations of the laws of the United States.

3. The department of public safety shall develop regions to provide the system. The department of public safety shall coordinate local law enforcement agencies and public commercial television and radio broadcasters to provide an effective system. In the event that a local law enforcement agency opts not to set up a system and a killing or serious wounding of a law enforcement officer occurs within the jurisdiction, it shall notify the department of public safety who will notify local media in the region.

4. The blue alert system shall include all state agencies capable of providing urgent and timely information to the public together with broadcasters and other private entities that volunteer to participate in the dissemination of urgent public information. At a minimum, the blue alert system shall include the department of public safety, highway patrol, department of transportation, and Missouri lottery.

5. The department of public safety shall have the authority to develop, implement, and manage the blue alert system.

6. Participation in the blue alert system is entirely at the option of local law enforcement agencies, federally licensed radio and television broadcasters, and other private entities that volunteer to participate in the dissemination of urgent public information.

7. Any person who knowingly makes a false report that triggers an alert pursuant to this section is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.”; and 456.4-420. 1. If a trust instrument containing a no-contest clause is or has become irrevocable, an interested person may file a petition to the court for an interlocutory determination whether a particular motion, petition, or other claim for relief by the interested person would trigger application of the no-contest clause or would otherwise trigger a forfeiture that is enforceable under applicable law and public policy.

2. The petition described in subsection 1 of this section shall be verified under oath. The petition may be filed by an interested person either as a separate judicial proceeding, or brought with other claims for relief in a single judicial proceeding, all in the manner prescribed generally for such proceedings under this chapter. If a petition is joined with other claims for relief, the court shall enter its order or judgment on the petition before proceeding any further with any other claim for relief joined therein. In ruling on such a petition, the court shall consider the text of the clause, the context to the terms of the trust instrument as a whole, and in the context of the verified factual allegations in the petition. No evidence beyond the pleadings and the trust instrument shall be taken except as required to resolve an ambiguity in the no-contest clause.

3. An order or judgment determining a petition described in subsection 1 of this section shall have the effect set forth in subsections 4 and 5 of this section, and shall be subject to appeal as with other final judgments. If the order disposes of fewer than all claims for relief in a judicial proceeding, that order is subject to interlocutory appeal in accordance with the applicable rules for taking such an appeal. If an interlocutory appeal is taken, the court may stay the pending judicial proceeding until final disposition of said appeal on such terms and conditions as the court deems reasonable and proper under the circumstances. A final ruling on the applicability of a no-contest clause shall not preclude any later filing and adjudication of other claims related to the trust.

4. An order or judgment, in whole or in part, on a petition described in subsection 1 of this section shall result in the no-contest clause being enforceable to the extent of the court’s ruling, and shall govern application of the no-contest clause to the extent that the interested person then proceeds forward with the claims described therein. In the event such an interlocutory order or judgment is vacated, reversed, or otherwise modified on appeal, no interested person shall be prejudiced by any reliance, through action, inaction, or otherwise, on the order or judgment prior to final disposition of the appeal.

5. An order or judgment shall have effect only as to the specific trust terms and factual basis recited in the petition. If claims are later filed that are materially different than those upon which the order or judgment is based, then to the extent such new claims are raised, the party in whose favor the order or judgment was entered shall have no protection from enforcement of the no-contest clause otherwise afforded by the order and judgment entered under this section.

6. For purposes of this section, a “no-contest clause” shall mean a provision in a trust instrument purporting to rescind a donative transfer to, or a fiduciary appointment of, any person, or that otherwise effects a forfeiture of some or all of an interested person’s beneficial interest in a trust estate as a result of some action taken by the beneficiary. This definition shall not be construed in any way as determining whether a no-contest clause is enforceable under applicable law and public policy in a particular factual situation. As used in this section, the term “no-contest clause” shall also mean an “in terrorem clause”.

7. A no-contest clause is not enforceable against an interested person in, but not limited to, the following circumstances:

(1) Filing a motion, petition, or other claim for relief objecting to the jurisdiction or venue of the court over a proceeding concerning a trust, or over any person joined, or attempted to be joined, in such a proceeding;

(2) Filing a motion, petition, or other claim for relief concerning an accounting, report, or notice that has or should have been made by a trustee, provided the interested person otherwise has standing to do so under applicable law, including, but not limited to, section 456.6-603;

(3) Filing a motion, petition, or other claim for relief under chapter 475 concerning the appointment of a guardian or conservator for the settlor;

(4) Filing a motion, petition, or other claim for relief under chapter 404 concerning the settlor;

(5) Disclosure to any person of information concerning a trust instrument or that is relevant to a proceeding before the court concerning the trust instrument or property of the trust estate, unless such disclosure is otherwise prohibited by law;

(6) Filing a motion, pleading, or other claim for relief seeking approval of a nonjudicial settlement agreement concerning a trust instrument, as set forth in section 456.1-111;

(7) Filing a motion, pleading, or other claim for relief concerning a breach of trust by a trustee including, but not limited to, a claim under section 456.10-1001. For purposes of this subdivision, “breach of trust” means a trustee’s violation of the terms of a trust instrument, a violation of the trustee’s general fiduciary obligations, or a trustee’s violation of a duty that equity imposes on a trustee;

(8) Filing a motion, pleading, or other claim for relief concerning removal of a trustee including, but not limited to, a claim for removal under section 456.7-706;

(9) To the extent a petition under subsection 1 of this section is limited to the procedure and purpose described therein.

8. In any proceeding brought under this section, the court may award costs, expenses, and attorneys' fees to any party, as provided in section 456.10-1004.

456.8-808. 1. While a trust is revocable, the trustee may follow a direction of the settlor that is contrary to the terms of the trust.

2. A trust instrument may provide for [the appointment of a trust protector. For purposes of this section, a "trust protector", whether referred to in the trust instrument by that name or by some other name, is a person, other than the settlor, a trustee, or a beneficiary, who is expressly granted in the trust instrument one or more powers over the trust] one or more persons, not then serving as a trustee and not the settlor or a beneficiary, to be given any powers over the trust as expressly granted in the trust instrument. Any such person may be identified and appointed as a trust protector or similar term. Whenever a trust instrument names, appoints, authorizes, or otherwise designates a trust protector, the trust shall be deemed a directed trust.

3. A trust protector appointed in the trust instrument shall have only the powers granted to the trust protector by the express terms of the trust instrument, and a trust protector is only authorized to act within the scope of the authority expressly granted in the trust instrument. Without limiting the authority of the settlor to grant powers to a trust protector, the express powers that may be granted include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Remove and appoint a trustee or a trust protector or name a successor trustee or trust protector;

(2) Modify or amend the trust instrument to:

(a) Achieve favorable tax status or respond to changes in the Internal Revenue Code or state law, or the rulings and regulations under such code or law;

(b) Reflect legal changes that affect trust administration;

(c) Correct errors or ambiguities that might otherwise require court construction; or

(d) Correct a drafting error that defeats a grantor's intent;

(3) Increase, decrease, modify, or restrict the interests of the beneficiary or beneficiaries of the trust;

(4) Terminate the trust in favor of the beneficiary or beneficiaries of the trust;

(5) Change the applicable law governing the trust and the trust situs; or

(6) Such other powers as are expressly granted to the trust protector in the trust instrument.

4. Notwithstanding any provision in the trust instrument to the contrary, a trust protector shall have no power to modify a trust to:

(1) Remove a requirement from a trust created to meet the requirements of 42 U.S.C. Section 1396p(d)(4) to pay back a governmental entity for benefits provided to the permissible beneficiary of the trust at the death of that beneficiary; or

(2) Reduce or eliminate an income interest of the income beneficiary of any of the following types of trusts:

(a) A trust for which a marital deduction has been taken for federal tax purposes under Section 2056 or 2523 of the Internal Revenue Code or for state tax purposes under any comparable provision of applicable state law, during the life of the settlor's spouse;

(b) A charitable remainder trust under Section 664 of the Internal Revenue Code, during the life of the noncharitable beneficiary;

(c) A grantor retained annuity trust under Section 2702 of the Internal Revenue Code, during any period in which the settlor is a beneficiary; or

(d) A trust for which an election as a qualified Sub-Chapter S Trust under Section 1361(d) of the Internal Revenue Code is currently in place.

5. Except to the extent otherwise provided in a trust instrument specifically referring to this subsection, the trust protector shall not exercise a power in a way that would result in a taxable gift for federal gift tax purposes or cause the inclusion of any assets of the trust in the trust protector's gross estate for federal estate tax purposes.

6. Except to the extent otherwise provided in the trust instrument and in subsection 7 of this section, and notwithstanding any provision of sections 456.1-101 to 456.11-1106 to the contrary:

(1) A trust protector shall act in a fiduciary capacity in carrying out the powers granted to the trust protector in the trust instrument, and shall have such duties to the beneficiaries, the settlor, or the trust as set forth in the trust instrument; provided, however, that the trust instrument may provide that the trust protector shall act in a nonfiduciary capacity. A trust protector is not a trustee, and is not liable or accountable as a trustee when performing or declining to perform the express powers given to the trust protector in the trust instrument. A trust protector is not liable for the acts or omissions of any fiduciary or beneficiary under the trust instrument;

(2) A trust protector is exonerated from any and all liability for the trust protector's acts or omissions, or arising from any exercise or nonexercise of the powers expressly conferred on the trust protector in the trust instrument, unless it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that the acts or omissions of the trust protector were done or omitted in breach of the trust protector's duty, in bad faith or with reckless indifference;

(3) A trust protector is authorized to exercise the express powers granted in the trust instrument at any time and from time to time after the trust protector acquires knowledge of their appointment as trust protector and of the powers granted. The trust protector may take any action, judicial or otherwise, necessary to carry out the duties given to the trust protector in the trust instrument;

(4) A trust protector is entitled to receive, from the assets of the trust for which the trust protector is acting, reasonable compensation, and reimbursement of the reasonable costs and expenses incurred, in determining whether to carry out, and in carrying out, the express powers given to the trust protector in the trust instrument;

(5) A trust protector is entitled to receive, from the assets of the trust for which the trust protector is acting, reimbursement of the reasonable costs and expenses, including attorney's fees, of defending any claim made against the trust protector arising from the acts or omissions of the trust protector acting in that capacity unless it is established by clear and convincing evidence that the trust protector was acting in bad faith or with reckless indifference; and

(6) The express powers granted in the trust instrument shall not be exercised by the trust protector for the trust protector's own personal benefit.

7. If a trust protector is granted a power in the trust instrument to direct, consent to, or disapprove a trustee's actual or proposed investment decision, distribution decision, or other decision of the trustee required to be performed under applicable trust law in carrying out the duties of the trustee in administering the trust, then only with respect to such power, excluding the powers identified in subsection 3 of this section, the trust protector shall have the same duties and liabilities as if serving as a trustee under the trust instrument unless the trust instrument expressly provides otherwise. In carrying out any written directions given to the trustee by the trust protector concerning actual or proposed investment decisions, the trustee shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 469.900 to 469.913. For purposes of this subsection, "investment decisions" means, with respect to any investment, decisions to retain, purchase, sell, exchange, tender, or otherwise engage in transactions affecting the ownership of investments or rights therein, and, with respect to nonpublicly traded investments, the valuation thereof.

8. Any trustee of a directed trust shall not be accountable under the law or equity for any act or omission of a trust protector and shall stand absolved from liability for executing the decisions or instructions from a trust protector, or for monitoring the actions or inactions of a trust protector. A trustee shall take reasonable steps to facilitate the activity of a trust protector in a directed trust. A trustee shall carry out the written directions given to the trustee by a trust protector acting within the scope of the powers expressly granted to the trust protector in the trust instrument. Except [in cases of bad faith or reckless indifference on the part of the trustee, or] as otherwise provided in the trust instrument, the trustee shall not be liable for any loss resulting directly or indirectly from any act taken or omitted as a result of the written direction of the trust protector or the failure of the trust protector to provide consent. Except as otherwise provided in the trust instrument, the trustee shall have no duty to monitor the conduct of the trust protector, provide advice to or consult with the trust protector, or communicate with or warn or apprise any beneficiary concerning instances in which the trustee would or might have exercised the trustee's own discretion in a manner different from the manner directed by the trust protector. Except as otherwise provided in the trust instrument, any actions taken by the trustee at the trust protector's direction shall be deemed to be administrative actions taken by the trustee solely to allow the trustee to carry out the instructions of the trust protector, and shall not be deemed to constitute an act by the trustee to monitor the trust protector or otherwise participate in actions within the scope of the trust protector's authority.

9. Except to the extent otherwise expressly provided in the trust instrument, the trust protector shall be entitled to receive information regarding the administration of the trust as follows:

(1) Upon the request of the trust protector, unless unreasonable under the circumstances, the trustee shall promptly provide to the trust protector any and all information related to the trust that may relate to the exercise or nonexercise of a power expressly granted to the trust protector in the trust instrument. The trustee has no obligation to provide any information to the trust protector except to the extent a trust protector requests information under this section;

(2) The request of the trust protector for information under this section shall be with respect to a single trust that is sufficiently identified to enable the trustee to locate the records of the trust; and

(3) If the trustee is bound by any confidentiality restrictions with respect to an asset of a trust, a trust protector who requests information under this section about such asset shall agree to be bound by the confidentiality restrictions that bind the trustee before receiving such information from the trustee.

10. A trust protector may resign by giving thirty days' written notice to the trustee and any successor trust protector. A successor trust protector, if any, shall have all the powers expressly granted in the trust instrument to the resigning trust protector unless such powers are expressly modified for the successor trust protector.

11. A trust protector of a trust having its principal place of administration in this state submits personally to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state during any period that the principal place of administration of the trust is located in this state and the trust protector is serving in such capacity. The trust instrument may also provide that a trust protector is subject to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of this state as a condition of appointment.”; and”; and

The method of selection of municipal judges shall be provided by charter or ordinance. Each municipal judge shall be selected for a term of not less than two years as provided by charter or ordinance.

2. Except where prohibited by charter or ordinance, the municipal judge may be a part-time judge and may serve as municipal judge in more than one municipality.

3. No person shall serve as a municipal judge of any municipality with a population of seven thousand five hundred or more or of any municipality in a county of the first class with a charter form of government unless the person is licensed to practice law in this state unless, prior to January 2, 1979, such person has served as municipal judge of that same municipality for at least two years.

4. Notwithstanding any other statute, a municipal judge need not be a resident of the municipality or of the circuit in which the municipal judge serves except where ordinance or charter provides otherwise. Municipal judges shall be residents of Missouri.

5. Judges selected under the provisions of this section shall be municipal judges of the circuit court and shall be divisions of the circuit court of the circuit in which the municipality, or major geographical portion thereof, is located. The presiding judge of the circuit shall have general administrative authority over the judges and court personnel of the municipal divisions within the circuit.

6. No municipal judge shall hold any other office in the municipality which the municipal judge serves as judge. The compensation of any municipal judge and other court personnel shall not be dependent in any way upon the number of cases tried, the number of guilty verdicts reached or the amount of fines imposed or collected.

7. Municipal judges shall be at least twenty-one years of age. No person shall serve as municipal judge after that person has reached that person's seventy-fifth birthday.

8. Within six months after selection for the position, each municipal judge who is not licensed to practice law in this state shall satisfactorily complete the course of instruction for municipal judges prescribed by the supreme court. The state courts administrator shall certify to the supreme court the names of those judges who satisfactorily complete the prescribed course. If a municipal judge fails to complete satisfactorily the prescribed course within six months after the municipal judge's selection as municipal judge, the municipal judge's office shall be deemed vacant and such person shall not thereafter be permitted to serve as a municipal judge, nor shall any compensation thereafter be paid to such person for serving as municipal judge.

9. No municipal judge shall serve as a municipal judge in more than five municipalities at one time. A court that serves more than one municipality shall be treated as a single municipality for the purposes of this subsection.

479.353. 1. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary, the following conditions shall apply to minor traffic violations and municipal ordinance violations:

(1) The court shall not assess a fine, if combined with the amount of court costs, totaling in excess of:

(2) The court shall not sentence a person to confinement, except the court may sentence a person to confinement for any violation involving alcohol or controlled substances, violations endangering the health or welfare of others, or eluding or giving false information to a law enforcement officer;

(3) A person shall not be placed in confinement for failure to pay a fine unless such nonpayment violates terms of probation or unless the due process procedures mandated by Missouri supreme court rule 37.65 or its successor rule are strictly followed by the court;

(4) Court costs that apply shall be assessed against the defendant unless the court finds that the defendant is indigent based on standards set forth in determining such by the presiding judge of the circuit. Such standards shall reflect model rules and requirements to be developed by the supreme court; and

(5) No court costs shall be assessed if the defendant is found to be indigent under subdivision (4) of this section or if the case is dismissed.

2. When an individual has been held in custody on a notice to show cause warrant for an underlying minor traffic violation, the court, on its own motion or on the motion of any interested party, may review the original fine and sentence and waive or reduce such fine or sentence when the court finds it reasonable given the circumstances of the case.

479.354. For any notice to appear in court, citation, or summons on a minor traffic violation, the date and time the defendant is to appear in court shall be given when such notice to appear in court, citation, or summons is first provided to the defendant. 2. As used in this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “AIM zone”, an area identified through a resolution passed by the port authority board of commissioners appointed under section 68.045 that is being developed or redeveloped for any purpose so long as any infrastructure and building built or improved is in the development area. The port authority board of commissioners shall file an annual report indicating the established AIM zones with the department of revenue;

(2) “County average wage”, the average wages in each county as determined by the Missouri department of economic development for the most recently completed full calendar year. However, if the computed county average wage is above the statewide average wage, the statewide average wage shall be deemed the county average wage for such county for the purpose of determining eligibility;

(3) “New job”, the number of full-time employees located at the project facility that exceeds the project facility base employment less any decrease in the number of full-time employees at related facilities below the related facility base employment. No job that was created prior to the date of the notice of intent shall be deemed a new job. An employee that spends less than fifty percent of the employee’s work time at the facility is still considered to be located at a facility if the employee receives his or her directions and control from that facility, is on the facility’s payroll, one hundred percent of the employee’s income from such employment is Missouri income, and the employee is paid at or above the [state] county average wage.

Such zone may only include the area within the port authority’s jurisdiction, ownership, or control, and may include any such area. The port authority shall determine the boundaries for each AIM zone, and more than one AIM zone may exist within the port authority’s jurisdiction or under the port authority’s ownership or control, and may be expanded or contracted by resolution of the port authority board of commissioners.

4. Fifty percent of the state tax withholdings imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.265 on new jobs within such zone after development or redevelopment has commenced shall not be remitted to the general revenue fund of the state of Missouri. Such moneys shall be deposited into the port authority AIM zone fund established under subsection 5 of this section for the purpose of continuing to expand, develop, and redevelop AIM zones identified by the port authority board of commissioners and may be used for managerial, engineering, legal, research, promotion, planning, satisfaction of bonds issued under section 68.040, and any other expenses.

5. There is hereby created in the state treasury the “Port Authority AIM Zone Fund”, which shall consist of money collected under this section. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund and shall approve disbursements from the fund in accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180 to the port authorities from which the funds were collected, less the pro-rata portion appropriated by the general assembly to be used solely for the administration of this section which shall not exceed ten percent of the total amount collected within the zones of a port authority. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

6. The port authority shall approve any projects that begin construction and disperse any money collected under this section. The port authority shall submit an annual budget for the funds to the department of economic development explaining how and when such money will be spent.

7. The provision of section 23.253 notwithstanding, no AIM zone may be established after August 28, 2023. Any AIM zone created prior to that date shall continue to exist and be coterminous with the retirement of all debts incurred under subsection 4 of this section. 2. The ballot of submission shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following language:

Shall the county of (county’s name) impose a countywide sales tax of (insert amount) and reduce its total property tax levy annually by (insert amount) percent of the total amount of sales tax revenue collected in the same tax year?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If you are in favor of the question, place an “X” in the box opposite “YES”. If you are opposed to the question, place an “X” in the box opposite “NO”.

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the ordinance or order and any amendments thereto shall be in effect. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the governing body of the county shall have no power to impose the sales tax and reduce the property tax as herein authorized unless and until the governing body of the county shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose the sales tax and reduce the property tax under the provisions of sections 67.500 to 67.545 and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon.

3. The sales tax may be imposed at a rate of one-fourth of one percent, three-eighths of one percent or one-half of one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail of all tangible personal property or taxable services at retail within any county adopting such tax, if such property and services are subject to taxation by the state of Missouri under the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525. Each year in which a sales tax is imposed under the provisions of sections 67.500 to 67.545, the county shall, after determining its budget, excluding funds required to be set aside and placed to the credit of special road districts, within the limits set by the constitution and laws of this state for the following calendar year and the total property tax levy needed to raise the revenues required by such budget, reduce that total property tax levy in an amount sufficient to decrease the total property taxes it will collect by an amount equal to one of the following:

4. No county in this state shall impose a tax under this section for the purpose of funding in whole or in part the construction, operation, or maintenance of any zoological activities, zoological facilities, zoological organizations, the metropolitan zoological park and museum district as created under section 184.350, or any zoological boards.

67.547. 1. In addition to the tax authorized by section 67.505, any county as defined in section 67.750 may, by a majority vote of its governing body, impose an additional county sales tax on all sales which are subject to taxation under the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525. The tax authorized by this section shall be in addition to any and all other sales tax allowed by law; except that no ordinance or order imposing a sales tax under the provisions of this section shall be effective unless the governing body of the county submits to the voters of the county, at a county or state general, primary or special election, a proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose such tax.

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the ordinance or order and any amendments thereto shall be in effect. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the governing body of the county shall have no power to impose the sales tax as herein authorized unless and until the governing body of the county submits another proposal to authorize the governing body of the county to impose the sales tax under the provisions of this section and such proposal is approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. A county shall not submit to the voters a proposed sales tax under this section for a period of two years from the date of an election in which the county previously submitted to the voters a proposed sales tax under this section, regardless of whether the initial proposed sales tax was approved or disapproved by the voters. 6. Except as prohibited under section 184.353, residents of any county that does not adopt a sales tax under this section for the purpose of supporting zoological activities may be charged an admission fee for zoological facilities, programs, or events that are not part of the zoological subdistrict defined under subsection 15 of section 184.352 as of August 28, 2017.

7. In any county of the second classification with more than nineteen thousand seven hundred but fewer than nineteen thousand eight hundred inhabitants, the proceeds of the sales tax authorized by this section shall be distributed so that an amount equal to three-fourths of the proceeds of the tax shall be distributed to the county and the remaining one-fourth shall be distributed equally among the

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 30, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting the following after all of said line:

“59.800. 1. Beginning on July 1, 2001, notwithstanding any other condition precedent required by law to the recording of any instrument specified in subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of section 59.330, an additional fee of [five] six dollars shall be charged and collected by every recorder of deeds in this state on each instrument recorded. The additional fee shall be distributed as follows:

(1) One dollar and twenty-five cents to the recorder's fund established pursuant to subsection 1 of section 59.319, provided, however, that all funds received pursuant to this section shall be used exclusively for the purchase, installation, upgrade and maintenance of modern technology necessary to operate the recorder's office in an efficient manner;

(2) One dollar and seventy-five cents to the county general revenue fund; and

(3) [Two] Three dollars to the fund established in subsection 2 of this section.

2. (1) There is hereby established a revolving fund known as the "Statutory County Recorder's Fund", which shall receive funds paid to the recorders of deeds of the counties of this state pursuant to subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section. The director of the department of revenue shall be custodian of the fund and shall make disbursements from the fund for the purpose of subsidizing the fees collected by counties that hereafter elect or have heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder. The subsidy shall consist of the total amount of moneys collected pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section subtracted from fifty-five thousand dollars, except if the annual average of funds collected under subsection 1 over the previous three-year period is insufficient to meet all obligations calculated in this subdivision and in which case the provisions of subdivision (2) of this subsection shall apply. The moneys paid to qualifying counties pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the county general revenue fund. For purposes of this section a "qualified county" is a county that hereafter elects or has heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder and in which the office of the recorder of deeds collects less than fifty-five thousand dollars in fees pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section, on an annual basis. Moneys in the statutory county recorder's fund shall not be considered state funds and shall be deemed nonstate funds.

(2) If funds collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section are insufficient to meet obligations set out in subsection 1 of this section, the department of revenue shall calculate the projected shortfall that would otherwise be incurred using the formula set out above. If the fund balance is greater than the annual average disbursement of the previous three years, then up to thirty-three percent of such excess may be used to meet the obligation. If this amount is insufficient or unavailable, the director of the department of revenue shall set a new requisite amount to determine a qualified county under subdivision (1) of this subsection other than fifty-five thousand dollars, which reflects the revenue collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section plus an additional thirty-three percent should the balance exist in the statutory recorder's fund."; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 7

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 30, Page 2, Section 88.770, Line 41, by inserting the following after all of said section and line:

4. The road overseer of any district, or county highway engineer, who finds any road damaged or obstructed as above specified, [shall] may notify the [person] landowner violating the provisions of this section, [verbally or] in writing, using any mail service with delivery tracking, to remove such obstruction, to repair such damage in a manner approved by the road overseer or county highway engineer making the request, or to pay the reasonable cost of such removal or repair. [Within ten days after being notified, he shall pay the sum of five dollars for each and every day after the tenth day if such obstruction is maintained or permitted to remain; such fine to be recovered by suit brought by the road overseer, in the name of the road district, in any court of competent jurisdiction] If the landowner fails to remove any obstruction, make any repairs, or remit any payment of costs as requested within thirty days of the tracked delivery date, the road overseer or county highway engineer may petition the associate circuit court of the county in which the land is located to authorize the overseer or engineer or an agent or employee thereof, to enter the landowner's land to remove the obstruction or to repair the damage, in order to restore the roadway or drainage ditch to a condition substantially the same as the adjacent roadways and drainage ditches. Such entry on the landowner's lands shall be limited to the extent necessary to repair the roadway or drainage ditch, and shall constitute no cause of action for trespass. Such authorization and entry shall not be granted until the opportunity for a hearing has been completed and the petition has been granted. The petition shall include an estimate of the costs.

5. If the court enters a judgment granting the petition and authorizing the actions requested therein, the judgment shall include an award for the reasonable cost of removal or repair, court costs, and reasonable attorney's fees, and shall become a lien on such lands, and shall be collected as state and county taxes are collected by law. If the court denies the petition, the county shall be responsible for the landowner's court costs and reasonable attorney's fees."; and

In any election either for at-large candidates or candidates elected by the voters of subdistricts, if there are more than two candidates, a majority of the votes are not required to elect but the candidate having a plurality of the votes [if there is only one office to be filled and the candidates having the highest number of votes, if more than one office is to be filled,] shall be elected.

5. The names of all candidates shall appear upon the ballot without party designation and in the order of the priority of the times of filing their petitions of nomination. No candidate may file both at large and from a subdistrict and the names of all candidates shall appear only once on the ballot, nor may any candidate file more than one declaration of candidacy. The state board of education shall order a special election to fill such a vacancy. A letter from the commissioner of education, delivered by certified mail to the election authority or authorities that would normally conduct an election for school board members shall be the authority for the election authority or authorities to proceed with election procedures. If a vacancy occurs less than six months prior to the time of holding an election as provided in subsection 2 of this section, no special election shall occur and the vacancy shall be filled at the next election day on which local elections are held as specified in the charter of any home rule city with more than four hundred thousand inhabitants and located in more than one county.”; and

In any fiscal year no member of the governing body of any political subdivision of the state shall receive any compensation or payment of expenses after the end of the time within which the financial statement of the political subdivision is required to be filed with the state auditor and until such time as the notice from the state auditor of the filing of the annual financial report for the fiscal year has been received.

6. The state auditor shall prepare sample forms for financial reports and shall mail the same to the political subdivisions of the state. Failure of the auditor to supply such forms shall not in any way excuse any person from the performance of any duty imposed by this section.

“115.124. 1. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, in a nonpartisan election in any political subdivision or special district including municipal elections in any city, town, or village with [one] two thousand or fewer inhabitants that have adopted a proposal pursuant to subsection 3 of this section but excluding municipal elections in any city, town, or village with more than [one] two thousand inhabitants, if the notice provided for in subsection 5 of section 115.127 has been published in at least one newspaper of general circulation as defined in section 493.050 in the district, and [if the number of candidates who have filed for a particular office is equal to the number of positions in that office to be filled by the election, no election shall be held for such office] if the number of candidates for each office in a particular political subdivision, special district, or municipality is equal to the number of positions for each office within the political subdivision, special district, or municipality to be filled by the election and no ballot measure is placed on the ballot such that a particular political subdivision will owe no proportional election costs if an election is not held, then no election shall be held, and the candidates shall assume the responsibilities of their offices at the same time and in the same manner as if they had been elected. If no election is held for [such office] a particular political subdivision, special district, or municipality as provided in this section, the election authority shall publish a notice containing the names of the candidates that shall assume the responsibilities of office under this section. Such notice shall be published in at least one newspaper of general circulation as defined in section 493.050 in such political subdivision or district by the first of the month in which the election would have occurred, had it been contested. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if at any election the number of candidates filing for a particular office exceeds the number of positions to be filled at such election, the election authority shall hold the election as scheduled, even if a sufficient number of candidates withdraw from such contest for that office so that the number of candidates remaining after the filing deadline is equal to the number of positions to be filled.

2. The election authority or political subdivision responsible for the oversight of the filing of candidates in any nonpartisan election in any political subdivision or special district shall clearly designate where candidates shall form a line to effectuate such filings and determine the order of such filings; except that, in the case of candidates who file a declaration of candidacy with the election authority or political subdivision prior to 5:00 p.m. on the first day for filing, the election authority or political subdivision may determine by random drawing the order in which such candidates' names shall appear on the ballot. If a drawing is conducted pursuant to this subsection, it shall be conducted so that each candidate, or candidate's representative if the candidate filed under subsection 2 of section 115.355, may draw a number at random at the time of filing. If such drawing is conducted, the election authority or political subdivision shall record the number drawn with the candidate's declaration of candidacy. If such drawing is conducted, the names of candidates filing on the first day of filing for each office on each ballot shall be listed in ascending order of the numbers so drawn.

3. The governing body of any city, town, or village with [one] two thousand or fewer inhabitants may submit to the voters at any available election, a question to adopt the provisions of subsection 1 of this section for municipal elections. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the question, then the city, town, or village shall conduct nonpartisan municipal elections as provided in subsection 1 of this section for all nonpartisan elections remaining in the year in which the proposal was adopted and for the six calendar years immediately following such approval. At the end of such six-year period, each such city, town, or village shall be prohibited from conducting such elections in such a manner unless such a question is again adopted by the majority of qualified voters as provided in this subsection.”; and

2. As used in this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “AIM zone”, an area identified through a resolution passed by the port authority board of commissioners appointed under section 68.045 that is being developed or redeveloped for any purpose so long as any infrastructure and building built or improved is in the development area. The port authority board of commissioners shall file an annual report indicating the established AIM zones with the department of revenue;

(2) “County average wage”, the average wages in each county as determined by the Missouri department of economic development for the most recently completed full calendar year. However, if the computed county average wage is above the statewide average wage, the statewide average wage shall be deemed the county average wage for such county for the purpose of determining eligibility;

(3) “New job”, the number of full-time employees located at the project facility that exceeds the project facility base employment less any decrease in the number of full-time employees at related facilities below the related facility base employment. No job that was created prior to the date of the notice of intent shall be deemed a new job. An employee that spends less than fifty percent of the employee's work time at the facility is still considered to be located at a facility if the employee receives his or her directions and control from that facility, is on the facility's payroll, one hundred percent of the employee's income from such employment is Missouri income, and the employee is paid at or above the [state] county average wage.

3. Any port authority located in this state may establish an AIM zone. Such zone may only include the area within the port authority's jurisdiction, ownership, or control, and may include any such area. The port authority shall determine the boundaries for each AIM zone, and more than one AIM zone may exist within the port authority's jurisdiction or under the port authority's ownership or control, and may be expanded or contracted by resolution of the port authority board of commissioners.

4. Fifty percent of the state tax withholdings imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.265 on new jobs within such zone after development or redevelopment has commenced shall not be remitted to the general revenue fund of the state of Missouri. Such moneys shall be deposited into the port authority AIM zone fund established under subsection 5 of this section for the purpose of continuing to expand, develop, and redevelop AIM zones identified by the port authority board of commissioners and may be used for managerial, engineering, legal, research, promotion, planning, satisfaction of bonds issued under section 68.040, and any other expenses.

5. There is hereby created in the state treasury the "Port Authority AIM Zone Fund", which shall consist of money collected under this section. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund and shall approve disbursements from the fund in accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180 to the port authorities from which the funds were collected, less the pro-rata portion appropriated by the general assembly to be used solely for the administration of this section which shall not exceed ten percent of the total amount collected within the zones of a port authority. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

6. The port authority shall approve any projects that begin construction and disperse any money collected under this section. The port authority shall submit an annual budget for the funds to the department of economic development explaining how and when such money will be spent.

7. The provision of section 23.253 notwithstanding, no AIM zone may be established after August 28, 2023. Any AIM zone created prior to that date shall continue to exist and be coterminous with the retirement of all debts incurred under subsection 4 of this section. No debts may be incurred or reauthorized using AIM zone revenue after August 28, 2023."; and more than three hundred thousand inhabitants, the election authority of the city in which the greater portion of the school district lies, and of the county if the district includes territory not within the city limits, shall serve ex officio as a redistricting commission. The commission shall on or before November 1, 2018, divide the school district into five subdistricts, all subdistricts being of compact and contiguous territory and as nearly equal in the number of inhabitants as practicable and thereafter the board shall redistrict the district into subdivisions as soon as practicable after each United States decennial census. In establishing the subdistricts each member shall have one vote and a majority vote of the total membership of the commission is required to make effective any action of the commission.

162.492. 1. In all urban districts containing the greater part of the population of a city which has

2. School elections for the election of directors shall be held on municipal election days in 2014 and 2016. At the election in 2014, directors shall be elected to hold office until 2019 and until their successors are elected and qualified. At the election in 2016, directors shall be elected until 2019 and until their successors are elected and qualified. Beginning in 2019, school elections for the election of directors shall be held on the local election date as specified in the charter of a home rule city with more than four hundred thousand inhabitants and located in more than one county. Beginning at the election for school directors in 2019, the number of directors on the board shall be reduced from nine to seven. Two directors shall be at-large directors and five directors shall represent the subdistricts, with one director from each of the subdistricts. [Directors shall serve a four-year term] At the 2019 election, one of the at-large directors and the directors from subdistricts one, three, and five shall be elected for a two-year term, and the other at-large director and the directors from subdistricts two and four shall be elected for a four-year term. Thereafter, all seven directors shall serve a four-year term. Directors shall serve until the next election and until their successors, then elected, are duly qualified as provided in this section. In addition to other qualifications prescribed by law, each member elected from a subdistrict shall be a resident of the subdistrict from which he or she is elected. The subdistricts shall be numbered from one to five. [Each voter may vote for two candidates for at-large director and the two receiving the largest number of votes cast shall be elected.]

3. The five candidates, one from each of the subdistricts, who receive a plurality of the votes cast by the voters of that subdistrict and the at-large candidates receiving a plurality of the at-large votes shall be elected. The name of no candidate for nomination shall be printed on the ballot unless the candidate has at least sixty days prior to the election filed a declaration of candidacy with the secretary of the board of directors containing the signatures of at least two hundred fifty registered voters who are residents of the subdistrict within which the candidate for nomination to a subdistrict office resides, and in case of at-large candidates the signatures of at least five hundred registered voters. The election authority shall determine the validity of all signatures on declarations of candidacy.

4. In any election either for at-large candidates or candidates elected by the voters of subdistricts, if there are more than two candidates, a majority of the votes are not required to elect but the candidate having a plurality of the votes [if there is only one office to be filled and the candidates having the highest number of votes, if more than one office is to be filled,] shall be elected.

5. The names of all candidates shall appear upon the ballot without party designation and in the order of the priority of the times of filing their petitions of nomination. No candidate may file both at large and from a subdistrict and the names of all candidates shall appear only once on the ballot, nor may any candidate file more than one declaration of candidacy. All declarations shall designate the candidate's residence and whether the candidate is filing at large or from a subdistrict and the numerical designation of the subdistrict or at-large area.

6. The provisions of all sections relating to seven-director school districts shall also apply to and govern urban districts in cities of more than three hundred thousand inhabitants, to the extent applicable and not in conflict with the provisions of those sections specifically relating to such urban districts.

7. Vacancies which occur on the school board between the dates of election shall be filled by special election if such vacancy happens more than six months prior to the time of holding an election as provided in subsection 2 of this section. The state board of education shall order a special election to fill such a vacancy. A letter from the commissioner of education, delivered by certified mail to the election authority or authorities that would normally conduct an election for school board members shall be the authority for the election authority or authorities to proceed with election procedures. If a vacancy occurs less than six months prior to the time of holding an election as provided in subsection 2 of this section, no special election shall occur and the vacancy shall be filled at the next election day on which local elections are held as specified in the charter of any home rule city with more than four hundred thousand inhabitants and located in more than one county.”; and

If a charter school is paid more or less than the amounts due pursuant to this section, the amount of overpayment or underpayment shall be adjusted equally in the next twelve payments by the school district or the department of elementary and secondary education, as appropriate. Any dispute between the school district and a charter school as to the amount owing to the charter school shall be resolved by the department of elementary and secondary education, and the department's decision shall be the final administrative action for the purposes of review pursuant to chapter 536. Such services may include but are not limited to food service, custodial service, maintenance, management assistance, curriculum assistance, media services and libraries and shall be subject to negotiation between the charter school and the local school board or other entity. (5) Ensure that the legal counsel for the charter school shall report directly to the charter school's governing board; and

(6) Provide a process to ensure that the expenditures that the education service provider intends to bill to the charter school shall receive prior approval of the governing board or its designee.

9. A charter school shall be eligible for transportation state aid pursuant to section 163.161 and shall be free to contract with the local district, or any other entity, for the provision of transportation to the students of the charter school.

The proportionate share of money generated under other federal or state categorical aid programs shall be directed to charter schools serving such students eligible for that aid.

(2) A charter school shall provide the special services provided pursuant to section 162.705 and may provide the special services pursuant to a contract with a school district or any provider of such services.

11. A charter school may not charge tuition or impose fees that a school district is prohibited from charging or imposing, except that a charter school may receive tuition payments from districts in the same or an adjoining county for nonresident students who transfer to an approved charter school, as defined in section 167.131, from an unaccredited district.

12. A charter school is authorized to incur debt in anticipation of receipt of funds. A charter school may also borrow to finance facilities and other capital items. A school district may incur bonded indebtedness or take other measures to provide for physical facilities and other capital items for charter schools that it sponsors or contracts with. Except as otherwise specifically provided in sections 160.400 to 160.425, upon the dissolution of a charter school, any liabilities of the corporation will be satisfied through the procedures of chapter 355. A charter school shall satisfy all its financial obligations within twelve months of notice from the sponsor of the charter school's closure under subsection 8 of section

160.405. The department of elementary and secondary education may withhold funding at a level the department determines to be adequate during a school's last year of operation until the department determines that school records, liabilities, and reporting requirements, including a full audit, are satisfied.

13. Charter schools shall not have the power to acquire property by eminent domain.

14. The governing body of a charter school is authorized to accept grants, gifts or donations of any kind and to expend or use such grants, gifts or donations. (5) For all other districts and charter schools, the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall become effective in any school year subsequent to a school year in which the amount appropriated for subsections 1 and 2 of section 163.031 is equal to or exceeds the amount necessary to fund the entire entitlement calculation determined by subsections 1 and 2 of section 163.031, and shall remain effective in all school years thereafter, irrespective of the amount appropriated for subsections 1 and 2 of section 163.031 in any succeeding year, provided that in the first school year in which subsection 1 of this section becomes effective under this subdivision, school districts and charter schools shall receive thirty-three percent of the funding associated with such pupils; in the second school year, school districts and charter schools shall receive sixty-six percent of the funding associated with such pupils; and in the third school year, school districts and charter schools shall receive one hundred percent of the funding associated with such pupils.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 114, Page 3, Section 50.1190, Lines 1-9, by removing all of said section and lines; and

Further amend said bill, Page 4, Section 52.290, Line 27, by inserting immediately after all of said section and line the following:

“59.800. 1. Beginning on July 1, 2001, notwithstanding any other condition precedent required by law to the recording of any instrument specified in subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of section 59.330, an additional fee of [five] six dollars shall be charged and collected by every recorder of deeds in this state on each instrument recorded. The additional fee shall be distributed as follows:

(1) One dollar and twenty-five cents to the recorder’s fund established pursuant to subsection 1 of section 59.319, provided, however, that all funds received pursuant to this section shall be used exclusively for the purchase, installation, upgrade and maintenance of modern technology necessary to operate the recorder’s office in an efficient manner;

(2) One dollar and seventy-five cents to the county general revenue fund; and

(3) [Two] Three dollars to the fund established in subsection 2 of this section.

2. (1) There is hereby established a revolving fund known as the “Statutory County Recorder’s Fund”, which shall receive funds paid to the recorders of deeds of the counties of this state pursuant to subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section. The director of the department of revenue shall be custodian of the fund and shall make disbursements from the fund for the purpose of subsidizing the fees collected by counties that hereafter elect or have heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder. The subsidy shall consist of the total amount of moneys collected pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section subtracted from fifty-five thousand dollars, except if the annual average of funds collected under subsection 1 over the previous three-year period is insufficient to meet all obligations calculated in this subdivision and in which case the provisions of subdivision (2) of this subsection shall apply. The moneys paid to qualifying counties pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the county general revenue fund. For purposes of this section a “qualified county” is a county that hereafter elects or has heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder and in which the office of the recorder of deeds collects less than fifty-five thousand dollars in fees pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section, on an annual basis. Moneys in the statutory county recorder’s fund shall not be considered state funds and shall be deemed nonstate funds.

(2) If funds collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section are insufficient to meet obligations set out in subsection 1 of this section, the department of revenue shall calculate the projected shortfall that would otherwise be incurred using the formula set out above. If the fund balance is greater than the annual average disbursement of the previous three years, then up to thirty-three percent of such excess may be used to meet the obligation. If this amount is insufficient or unavailable, the director of the department of revenue shall set a new requisite amount to determine a qualified county under subdivision (1) of this subsection other than fifty-five thousand dollars, which reflects the revenue collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section plus an additional thirty-three percent should the balance exist in the statutory recorder’s fund.”; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 18 and 19, Section 137.280, Lines 49-56, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“4. If annual waivers exceed forty percent then by February first of each year the assessor shall transmit to the county employees’ retirement fund an electronic or paper copy of the log maintained under subsection 3 of section 50.1020 for the prior calendar year.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTIETH DAY—THURSDAY, MAY 11, 2017

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Let your steadfast love, O Lord, be upon us, even as we hope in you.” (Psalm 33:22)

Gracious God, our souls hunger for You to be with us this day, for it will be filled with tension and stress. But we know that You willingly provide us hope and love for our lives. We ask that you bring us a sense of joy in Your presence so we can convey with our lives and decisions that we trust in You and desire always to do that which pleases You. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

Senator Kehoe announced photographers from St. Louis Public Radio, Associated Press, KMIZ-TV and KSDK-TV were given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Libla offered Senate Resolution No. 1007, regarding OAKS Senior Nutrition Center, Kennett, which was adopted.

Senator Hummel offered Senate Resolution No. 1008, regarding Ryan Michael Jones, Kearney, which was adopted.

Senator Munzlinger offered Senate Resolution No. 1009, regarding the Fiftieth Anniversary of Public Water Supply District #1, Macon County, which was adopted.

REMONSTRANCES

Senator Wallingford offered the following remonstrance:

SENATE REMONSTRANCE NO. 1

Whereas, the $2.5 million reduction in state funding has the potential of devastating the operations of Centers for Independent Living (CIL), causing layoffs, reduction in services and possible closure of some CILs; and

Whereas, CILs are the most cost efficient, effective, and prudent providers of opportunities and services to people with disabilities. They offer a range of services to anyone regardless of disability and help encourage and develop in Missouri citizens with disability a sense of identity, independence, and initiative; and

Whereas, CILs provide training, socialization, employment, and other services based on five core services upon which the IL grant is based. By so severely cutting those funds, we put at risk these unique opportunities for people with disabilities which are all too rare and often unavailable any where else; and

Whereas, there is great misunderstanding concerning these organizations and that ignorance has led to CILs being taken for granted. The IL grant is wholly different and completely separate from any contract services (such as Medicaid home and community based services) or other grants for which a CIL may qualify. CILs are nonprofits whose primary concern is mission not money; and

Whereas, last year CILs served 25,118 and were already extremely underfunded. The current cut will mean a 41% cut in services offered by CILs with only 14,820 being served next year; and

Whereas, CILs across the state are at risk of closing; and

Whereas, the 22 CILs in Missouri employ 245 staff. This $2.5 million dollar cut may result in approximately a 37% reduction in staff or 90 people losing their jobs; and

Whereas, the average funding level for each CIL will decrease from $203,897 to $120,059; and

Whereas, because the progress which resulted in the establishment of Centers for Independent Living was the result of protracted struggle, self-sacrifice, patient negotiation, and the hope of building more equitable communities is now at risk, it should be understood in no uncertain terms what is at risk in our state because of the impact of these cuts:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, hereby remonstrate against cutting CIL funding.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Kehoe moved that HCR 28 be taken up for adoption, which motion prevailed.

On motion of Senator Kehoe, HCR 28 was adopted by the following vote:

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 95, Page 5, Section 108.170, Line 132, by inserting after said section and line the following:

“110.010. 1. The public funds of every county, township, city, town, village, school district of every character, road district, sewer district, fire protection district, ambulance district, water supply district, drainage or levee district, state hospital, state schools for the mentally deficient, Missouri School for the Deaf, Missouri School for the Blind, Missouri Training School for Boys, training school for girls, Missouri Veterans’ Home, Missouri State Chest Hospital, state university, Missouri state teachers’ colleges, Lincoln University, which are deposited in any banking institution acting as a legal depository of the funds under the statutes of Missouri requiring the letting and deposit of the same and the furnishing of security therefor, shall be secured by the deposit of securities of the character prescribed by section 30.270 for the security of funds deposited by the state treasurer.

2. The securities shall, at the option of the depository banking institution, be delivered either to the fiscal officer or the governing body of the municipal corporation or other depositor of the funds, or by depositing the securities with another banking institution or safe depository as trustee satisfactory to both parties to the depository agreement. The trustee may be a bank owned or controlled by the same bank holding company as the depository banking institution.

3. The rights and duties of the several parties to the depository contract shall be the same as those of the state and the depository banking institution respectively under section 30.270. If a depository banking institution deposits the bonds or securities with a trustee as above provided, and the municipal corporation or other depositor of funds gives notice in writing to the trustee that there has been a breach of the depository contract and makes demand in writing on the trustee for the securities, or any part thereof, then the trustee shall forthwith surrender to the municipal corporation or other depositor of funds a sufficient amount of the securities to fully protect the depositor from loss and the trustee shall thereby be discharged of all further responsibility in respect to the securities so surrendered.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 95, Page 2, Section 50.622, Line 22, by inserting the following after all of said line:

“59.800. 1. Beginning on July 1, 2001, notwithstanding any other condition precedent required by law to the recording of any instrument specified in subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of section 59.330, an additional fee of [five] ~~six~~ dollars shall be charged and collected by every recorder of deeds in this state on each instrument recorded. The additional fee shall be distributed as follows:

(1) One dollar and twenty-five cents to the recorder’s fund established pursuant to subsection 1 of section 59.319, provided, however, that all funds received pursuant to this section shall be used exclusively for the purchase, installation, upgrade and maintenance of modern technology necessary to operate the recorder’s office in an efficient manner;

(2) One dollar and seventy-five cents to the county general revenue fund; and

(3) [Two] Three dollars to the fund established in subsection 2 of this section.

2. (1) There is hereby established a revolving fund known as the “Statutory County Recorder’s Fund”, which shall receive funds paid to the recorders of deeds of the counties of this state pursuant to subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section. The director of the department of revenue shall be custodian of the fund and shall make disbursements from the fund for the purpose of subsidizing the fees collected by counties that hereafter elect or have heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder. The subsidy shall consist of the total amount of moneys collected pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section subtracted from fifty-five thousand dollars, except if the annual average of funds collected under subsection 1 over the previous three-year period is insufficient to meet all obligations calculated in this subdivision and in which case the provisions of subdivision (2) of this subsection shall apply. The moneys paid to qualifying counties pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the county general revenue fund. For purposes of this section a “qualified county” is a county that hereafter elects or has heretofore elected to separate the offices of clerk of the circuit court and recorder and in which the office of the recorder of deeds collects less than fifty-five thousand dollars in fees pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section, on an annual basis. Moneys in the statutory county recorder's fund shall not be considered state funds and shall be deemed nonstate funds.

(2) If funds collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section are insufficient to meet obligations set out in subsection 1 of this section, the department of revenue shall calculate the projected shortfall that would otherwise be incurred using the formula set out above. If the fund balance is greater than the annual average disbursement of the previous three years, then up to thirty-three percent of such excess may be used to meet the obligation. If this amount is insufficient or unavailable, the director of the department of revenue shall set a new requisite amount to determine a qualified county under subdivision (1) of this subsection other than fifty-five thousand dollars, which reflects the revenue collected under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section plus an additional thirty-three percent should the balance exist in the statutory recorder's fund.”; and

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 478, Pages 1 to 4, Section 161.670, Lines 1 to 95, by removing all of said section and lines from the bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“161.670. 1. Notwithstanding any other law, prior to July 1, 2007, the state board of education shall establish [a virtual public school] the “Missouri Course Access and Virtual School Program” to serve school-age students residing in the state. The [virtual public school] Missouri course access and virtual school program shall offer instruction in a virtual setting using technology, intranet, and/or internet methods of communication. Any student under the age of twenty-one in grades kindergarten through twelve who resides in this state shall be eligible to enroll in the [virtual public school regardless of the student’s physical location] Missouri course access and virtual school program under to subsection 3 of this section.

2. For purposes of calculation and distribution of state school aid, students enrolled in [a virtual public school] the Missouri course access and virtual school program shall be included[, at the choice of the student’s parent or guardian,] in the student enrollment of the school district in which the student physically [resides] is enrolled under subsection 3 of this section. The [virtual public school] Missouri course access and virtual school program shall report to the district of residence the following information about each student served by the [virtual public school] Missouri course access and virtual school program: name, address, eligibility for free or reduced-price lunch, limited English proficiency status, special education needs, and the number of courses in which the student is enrolled. The [virtual public school] Missouri course access and virtual school program shall promptly notify the resident district when a student discontinues enrollment. A “full-time equivalent student” is a student who successfully has completed the instructional equivalent of six credits per regular term. Each [virtual] Missouri course access program course shall count as one class and shall generate that portion of a full-time equivalent that a comparable course offered by the school district would generate. In no case shall more than the full-time equivalency of a regular term of attendance for a single student be used to claim state aid. Full-time equivalent student credit completed shall be reported to the department of elementary and secondary education in the manner prescribed by the department. Nothing in this section shall prohibit students from enrolling in additional courses under a separate agreement that includes terms for paying tuition or course fees.

3. [When a school district has one or more resident students enrolled in a virtual public school program authorized by this section, whose parent or guardian has chosen to include such student in the district’s enrollment, the department of elementary and secondary education shall disburse an amount corresponding to fifteen percent of the state aid under sections 163.031 and 163.043 attributable to such student to the resident district. Subject to an annual appropriation by the general assembly, the department shall disburse an amount corresponding to eighty-five percent of the state adequacy target attributable to such student to the virtual public school.

4.] (1) A school district or charter school shall allow any eligible student who resides in such district to enroll in Missouri course access program courses of his or her choice as a part of the student’s annual course load each school year or a full-time virtual school option, with any costs associated with such course or courses to be paid by the school district or charter school if:

(a) The student is enrolled full-time in and has attended, for at least one semester immediately prior to enrolling in the Missouri course access program, a public school, including any public charter school; and

(b) Prior to enrolling in any Missouri course access program course, a student has received approval from his or her school principal through the procedure described under subdivision (2) of this subsection.

(2) School districts and charter schools, through the school principal and in cooperation with the school's counselor or a person designated by the district or charter school, shall approve or disapprove a student's request to enroll in a Missouri course access program course or full-time virtual school. The school counselor or a person designated by the district or charter school shall advise any student who requests to enroll in a Missouri course access program course or a full-time virtual school and submit a recommendation to the school principal for final approval. The advice of the school counselor or the person designated by the district or charter school shall be based on his or her assessment of whether participation in the program and enrollment in a particular course are in the student's best interest and shall be done in consultation with the student's parent or legal guardian. Each school district and charter school shall develop a procedure under which a student may appeal the decision made under the provisions of this subdivision. In cases of denial of a request, the school district or charter school shall inform students and parents of the reason for denial and inform them of their right to appeal any enrollment denials in state course access program courses or full-time virtual school to the department of elementary and secondary education, which shall provide a final enrollment decision within seven calendar days. The state board of education shall establish guidelines governing the appeals process.

(3) For students enrolled in any Missouri course access program course in which costs associated with such course are to be paid by the school district or charter school as described under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the school district or charter school shall pay the content provider directly on a pro rata monthly basis based on a student's completion of assignments and assessments. If a student discontinues enrollment, the district or charter school may stop making monthly payments to the content provider. No school district or charter school shall pay, for any one course for a student, more than the market necessary costs but in no case shall pay more than fourteen percent of the state adequacy target, as defined under section 163.011, as calculated at the end of the most recent school year for any single, year-long course and no more than seven percent of the state adequacy target as described above for any single semester equivalent course. Payment for a full-time virtual school student shall not exceed the state adequacy target, unless the student receives additional federal or state aid. Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit a school district or charter school from negotiating lower costs directly with course or full-time virtual school providers, particularly in cases where several students enroll in a single course or full-time virtual school.

(4) In the case of a student who is a candidate for A+ tuition reimbursement and taking a virtual course under this section, the school shall attribute no less than ninety-five percent attendance to any such student who has completed such virtual course.

(5) The Missouri course access program shall ensure that individual learning plans designed by certified teachers and professional staff are developed for all students enrolled in more than two full-time course access program courses or a full-time virtual school.

(6) Providers shall monitor student success and engagement of students enrolled in their program and report the information to the school district or charter school. Providers may make recommendations to the school district or charter school regarding the student's continued enrollment in the program. The school district or charter school shall consider recommendations from providers and monitor the progress and success of enrolled students that are enrolled in any course or full-time virtual school offered under this section and may terminate or alter the course offering if it is found the course or full-time virtual school is not meeting the educational needs of the students enrolled in the course.

(7) School districts and charter schools shall monitor student progress and success, and course or full-time virtual school quality, and annually provide feedback to the department of elementary and secondary education regarding course quality.

(8) Pursuant to rules to be adopted by the department of elementary and secondary education, when a student transfers into a school district or charter school, credits previously gained through successful passage of approved courses under the Missouri course access program shall be accepted by the school district or charter school.

(9) Nothing in this section shall prohibit home school students, private school students, or students wishing to take additional courses beyond their regular course load from enrolling in Missouri course access program courses under an agreement that includes terms for paying tuition or course fees.

(10) Nothing in this subsection shall require any school district, charter school, or the state to provide computers, equipment, or internet access to any student unless required by an eligible student with a disability to comply with federal law.

(11) The authorization process shall provide for continuous monitoring of approved providers and courses. The department shall revoke or suspend or take other corrective action regarding the authorization of any course or provider no longer meeting the requirements of the program. Unless immediate action is necessary, prior to revocation or suspension, the department shall notify the provider and give the provider a reasonable time period to take corrective action to avoid revocation or suspension. The process shall provide for periodic renewal of authorization no less frequently than once every three years.

(12) Courses approved as of January 1, 2018, by the department to participate in the Missouri virtual instruction program shall be automatically approved to participate in the state course access and virtual school program, but shall be subject to periodic renewal.

4. School districts or charter schools shall inform parents of their child's right to participate in the program. Availability of the program shall be made clear in the parent handbook, registration documents, and featured on the home page of the school district or charter school's website.

5. The department shall:

(1) Establish an authorization process for course or full-time virtual school providers that includes multiple opportunities for submission each year;

(2) Pursuant to the timeline established by the department, authorize course or full-time virtual school providers that submit all necessary information pursuant to the requirements of the process;

(3) Review, pursuant to the authorization process, proposals from providers to provide individual courses or a comprehensive, full-time equivalent course of study for students through the Missouri course access and virtual school program. The department shall ensure that these comprehensive courses of study align with state academic standards and that there is consistency and compatibility in the curriculum used by all providers from one grade level to the next grade level; and

(4) Within thirty days of any denial, provide a written explanation to any course providers or full-time virtual school providers that are denied authorization.

6. If a course or full-time virtual school provider is denied authorization, the course provider may reapply at any point in the future.

7. The department shall publish the process established under this section, including any deadlines and any guidelines applicable to the submission and authorization process for course or full-time virtual school providers on its website.

8. If the department determines that there are insufficient funds available for evaluating and authorizing course or full-time virtual school providers, the department may charge applicant course or full-time virtual school providers a fee up to, but no greater than, the amount of the costs in order to ensure that evaluation occurs. The department shall establish and publish a fee schedule for purposes of this subsection.

9. Except as specified in this section and as may be specified by rule of the state board of education, the [virtual public school] Missouri course access and virtual school program shall comply with all state laws and regulations applicable to school districts, including but not limited to the Missouri school improvement program (MSIP), [adequate yearly progress (AYP),] annual performance report (APR), teacher certification, and curriculum standards.

[5.] 10. The state board of education through the rulemaking process and the department of elementary and secondary education in its policies and procedures shall ensure that multiple content providers are allowed, ensure digital content conforms to accessibility requirements, provide an easily accessible link for providers to submit courses or full-time virtual schools on the Missouri course access and virtual school program website, and allow any person, organization, or entity to submit courses or full-time virtual schools for approval. No content provider shall be allowed that is unwilling to accept payments in the amount and manner as described under subdivision (3) of subsection 3 of this section or does not meet performance or quality standards adopted by the state board of education.

[6.] 11. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2006, shall be invalid and void.”; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 6 and 7, Section 167.121, Lines 1 to 42, by removing all of said section from the bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“167.121. [1.] If the residence of a pupil is so located that attendance in the district of residence constitutes an unusual or unreasonable transportation hardship because of natural barriers, travel time, or distance, the commissioner of education or his designee may assign the pupil to another district. Subject to the provisions of this section, all existing assignments shall be reviewed prior to July 1, 1984, and from time to time thereafter, and may be continued or rescinded. The board of education of the district in which the pupil lives shall pay the tuition of the pupil assigned. The tuition shall not exceed the pro rata cost of instruction.

[2. (1) For the school year beginning July 1, 2008, and each succeeding school year, a parent or guardian residing in a lapsed public school district or a district that has scored either unaccredited or provisionally accredited, or a combination thereof, on two consecutive annual performance reports may enroll the parent's or guardian's child in the Missouri virtual school created in section 161.670 provided the pupil first enrolls in the school district of residence. The school district of residence shall include the pupil's enrollment in the virtual school created in section 161.670 in determining the district's average daily attendance. Full-time enrollment in the virtual school shall constitute one average daily attendance equivalent in the school district of residence. Average daily attendance for part-time enrollment in the virtual school shall be calculated as a percentage of the total number of virtual courses enrolled in divided by the number of courses required for full-time attendance in the school district of residence.

(2) A pupil's residence, for purposes of this section, means residency established under section 167.020. Except for students residing in a K-8 district attending high school in a district under section 167.131, the board of the home district shall pay to the virtual school the amount required under section 161.670.

(3) Nothing in this section shall require any school district or the state to provide computers, equipment, internet or other access, supplies, materials or funding, except as provided in this section, as may be deemed necessary for a pupil to participate in the virtual school created in section 161.670.

(4) Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.]

Section B. Sections 161.670 and 167.121 of this act shall become effective July 1, 2018.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

- (6) The program rewards students in the game format for accomplishment in demonstrating the application of math and language skills in the contexts of the STEM careers and technologies;
- (7) The program automatically produces analytic reports for individual students and for classes, including analysis of performance against individual math and language skills objectives;
- (8) The curriculum is available in a self-paced format over the internet, allowing access to students through individual student accounts anywhere that the student can access the internet;
- (9) The curriculum includes a narrative soundtrack accompanying and matching all instructional text to assist students in developing reading skills in the context of STEM careers;
- (10) The program has a validation from a national, third-party nonprofit organization that the program increases STEM career awareness and interest;

The fund shall consist of any appropriations, gifts, bequests, or public or private donations to such fund. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. In accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, the state treasurer may approve disbursements of public moneys in accordance with distribution requirements and procedures developed by the department of elementary and secondary education. The fund shall be a dedicated fund and, upon appropriation, moneys in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of this section.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund.

(3) The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

6. The department of elementary and secondary education may promulgate all necessary rules and regulations for the administration of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed SS for SB 124.

With House Amendment No. 1.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 124, Page 1, In the Title, Line 3, by deleting all of said line and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“to regulatory authority.”; and

“393.355. 1. As used in this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Aluminum smelting facility”, a facility whose primary industry is the smelting of aluminum and primary metals, Standard Industrial Classification Code 3334, is located in a county of the third classification, and has had electrical service provided to said facility in the past, in part or whole, by a municipally-owned utility and, in part or whole, by an electric generating cooperative owned by rural electric cooperatives;

(2) “Electrical corporation”, as defined in section 386.020, but shall not include an electrical corporation as defined and set forth in subsection 2 of section 393.110;

(3) “Steel works facility”, a facility whose primary industry is the production or fabrication of steel, North American Industrial Classification System 331110, and is located in a county of the third classification.

2. Notwithstanding section 393.130 or any other provision of law to the contrary, the public service commission shall have the authority to approve a special rate that is not based on the electrical corporation's cost of service for an aluminum smelting facility or a steel works facility if the commission:

(1) Determines the special rate is in the interest of the state of Missouri when considering the collective interests of the customers of the electrical corporation serving the facility and the interests of the citizens of the state generally in promoting economic development, improving the tax base, providing employment opportunities in the state, and promoting such other benefits to the state as the commission may determine are created by approval of the special rate;

(2) In each general rate proceeding of the electrical corporation serving the facility, allocates the reduced revenues from the special rate as compared to the revenues that would have been generated at the rate the facility would have paid without the special rate to the electrical corporation's other customers through a uniform percentage adjustment to all components of the base rates of all customer classes; and

(3) Approves a tracking mechanism meeting the requirements of subsection 3 of this section.

3. Any commission order approving a special rate authorized by this section to provide service to an aluminum smelting facility or steel works facility in the manner specified in subsection 4 of this section shall establish a tracking mechanism to track changes in the net margin experienced by the electrical corporation serving the facility with the tracker to apply retroactively to the date the electrical corporation's base rates were last set in its last general rate proceeding concluded prior to the effective date of this section. The commission shall ensure that the changes in net margin experienced by the electrical corporation are calculated in such a manner that the electrical corporation's net income is neither increased nor decreased. The changes in net margin shall be deferred to a regulatory liability or regulatory asset, as applicable, with the balance of such regulatory asset or liability to be included in the revenue requirement of the electrical corporation in each of its general rate proceedings through an amortization of the balance over a reasonable period until fully returned to or collected from the electrical corporation's customers.

4. An electrical corporation is authorized to provide electric service to an aluminum smelting facility or steel works facility at a special rate authorized by this section in one of two ways, as follows:

(1) Under a rate schedule reflecting the special rate if the facility is located within the electrical corporation's certificated service territory; or

(2) Notwithstanding section 393.170, under a contract reflecting the special rate approved by the commission under the terms and conditions of this section.

In any case where the electric service is provided under contract referenced in subdivision (2) of this subsection, the facility shall be a commission-regulated retail electric customer of the electrical corporation and the rates, charges, and revenues under the contract shall, for ratemaking purposes, be treated by the commission as if the rates, charges, and revenues arise under the electrical corporation's tariff.

5. To receive a special rate, the facility shall file a written application with the commission specifying the requested special rate, any terms or conditions proposed by the facility respecting the requested special rate, and provide information regarding how the requested special rate meets the criteria specified in subdivision (1) of subsection 2 of this section. A special rate provided for by this section shall not continue beyond December 31, 2027. The commission may impose such conditions on the special rate as it deems appropriate so long as it otherwise complies with the provisions of this section.

393.356. Electrical corporations may file proposed rate or regulatory mechanisms or plans with the commission for the commission's approval. If such a mechanism or plan is approved by the commission as filed or is approved by the commission with modifications acceptable to the electrical corporation, or if the commission approves a special rate under section 393.355, the commission shall lack the authority to modify or eliminate any such mechanism, plan, or special rate during the specified term.

393.1410. 1. It shall be the policy of the state of Missouri for the commission to support expenditures by electrical corporations that maintain or improve the reliability, safety, security, or automation of electric infrastructure, including through the use of the latest technologies to meet the needs and expectations of customers. It shall also be the policy of the state of Missouri for the commission to approve rates designed to allow electrical corporations to recover their full cost of service and provide a reasonable opportunity to earn a fair return.

2. The commission may utilize rate adjustment mechanisms not otherwise specifically authorized by statute including, but not limited to, mechanisms to promote modernization and replacement of an electrical corporation's infrastructure. The commission may also use partially forecasted test years, true-ups of retail revenue requirement components, tracking mechanisms, grid modernization incentive mechanisms, interim rates, performance-based ratemaking, revenue decoupling with regular adjustments, or decisional pre-approval with post construction review of construction projects. To the extent the commission's approval of a rate adjustment mechanism or other mechanism provided for by this section specifies a term over which the approval is to continue, the commission shall lack the authority to modify or eliminate the electrical corporation's use of the mechanism or tool during the specified term."'; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 831, Page 31, Section 169.715, Line 35, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“476.521. 1. Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 476 to the contrary, each person who first becomes a judge on or after January 1, 2011, and continues to be a judge may receive benefits as provided in sections [476.445 to 476.688] 476.450 to 476.690 subject to the provisions of this section. However, any person who filed as a candidate in 2010 to become a judge, was ultimately elected in 2010 and became a judge in 2011 as a result of such election, was eligible in 2010 to receive a future annuity under section 104.1084, and is a judge on the effective date of this section, shall not be subject to the provisions of this section.

2. Any person who is at least sixty-seven years of age, has served in this state an aggregate of at least twelve years, continuously or otherwise, as a judge, and ceases to hold office by reason of the expiration of the judge’s term, voluntary resignation, or retirement pursuant to the provisions of Subsection 2 of Section 24 of Article V of the Constitution of Missouri may receive benefits as provided in sections 476.515 to 476.565. The twelve-year requirement of this subsection may be fulfilled by service as judge in any of the courts covered, or by service in any combination as judge of such courts, totaling an aggregate of twelve years. Any judge who is at least sixty-seven years of age and who has served less than twelve years and is otherwise qualified under sections 476.515 to 476.565 may retire after reaching age sixty-seven, or thereafter, at a reduced retirement compensation in a sum equal to the proportion of the retirement compensation provided in section 476.530 that his or her period of judicial service bears to twelve years.

3. Any person who is at least sixty-two years of age or older, has served in this state an aggregate of at least twenty years, continuously or otherwise, as a judge, and ceases to hold office by reason of the expiration of the judge’s term, voluntary resignation, or retirement pursuant to the provisions of Subsection 2 of Section 24 of Article V of the Constitution of Missouri may receive benefits as provided in sections 476.515 to 476.565. The twenty-year requirement of this subsection may be fulfilled by service as a judge in any of the courts covered, or by service in any combination as judge of such courts, totaling an aggregate of twenty years. Any judge who is at least sixty-two years of age and who has served less than twenty years and is otherwise qualified under sections 476.515 to 476.565 may retire after reaching age sixty-two, at a reduced retirement compensation in a sum equal to the proportion of the retirement compensation provided in section 476.530 that his or her period of judicial service bears to twenty years.

4. All judges under this section required by the provisions of Section 26 of Article V of the Constitution of Missouri to retire at the age of seventy years shall retire upon reaching that age.

5. The provisions of sections 104.344, 476.524, and 476.690 shall not apply to judges covered by this section.

6. A judge shall be required to contribute four percent of the judge’s compensation to the retirement system, which shall stand to the judge’s credit in his or her individual account with the system, together with investment credits thereon, for purposes of funding retirement benefits payable as provided in sections 476.515 to 476.565, subject to the following provisions:

(1) The state of Missouri employer, pursuant to the provisions of 26 U.S.C. Section 414(h)(2), shall pick up and pay the contributions that would otherwise be payable by the judge under this section. The contributions so picked up shall be treated as employer contributions for purposes of determining the judge's compensation that is includable in the judge's gross income for federal income tax purposes;

(2) Judge contributions picked up by the employer shall be paid from the same source of funds used for the payment of compensation to a judge. A deduction shall be made from each judge's compensation equal to the amount of the judge's contributions picked up by the employer. This deduction, however, shall not reduce the judge's compensation for purposes of computing benefits under the retirement system pursuant to this chapter;

(3) Judge contributions so picked up shall be credited to a separate account within the judge's individual account so that the amounts contributed pursuant to this section may be distinguished from the amounts contributed on an after-tax basis;

(4) The contributions, although designated as employee contributions, are being paid by the employer in lieu of the contributions by the judge. The judge shall not have the option of choosing to receive the contributed amounts directly instead of having them paid by the employer to the retirement system;

(5) Interest shall be credited annually on June thirtieth based on the value in the account as of July first of the immediately preceding year at a rate of four percent. Interest credits shall cease upon retirement of the judge;

(6) A judge whose employment is terminated may request a refund of his or her contributions and interest credited thereon. If such judge is married at the time of such request, such request shall not be processed without consent from the spouse. A judge is not eligible to request a refund if the judge's retirement benefit is subject to a division of benefit order pursuant to section 104.312. Such refund shall be paid by the system after ninety days from the date of termination of employment or the request, whichever is later and shall include all contributions made to any retirement plan administered by the system and interest credited thereon. A judge may not request a refund after such judge becomes eligible for retirement benefits under sections 476.515 to 476.565. A judge who receives a refund shall forfeit all the judge's service and future rights to receive benefits from the system and shall not be eligible to receive any long-term disability benefits; provided that any judge or former judge receiving long-term disability benefits shall not be eligible for a refund. If such judge subsequently becomes a judge and works continuously for at least one year, the service previously forfeited shall be restored if the judge returns to the system the amount previously refunded plus interest at a rate established by the board;

(7) The beneficiary of any judge who made contributions shall receive a refund upon the judge's death equal to the amount, if any, of such contributions less any retirement benefits received by the judge unless an annuity is payable to a survivor or beneficiary as a result of the judge's death. In that event, the beneficiary of the survivor or beneficiary who received the annuity shall receive a refund upon the survivor's or beneficiary's death equal to the amount, if any, of the judge's contributions less any annuity amounts received by the judge and the survivor or beneficiary.

7. The employee contribution rate, the benefits provided under sections 476.515 to 476.565 to judges covered under this section, and any other provision of sections 476.515 to 476.565 with regard to judges covered under this section may be altered, amended, increased, decreased, or repealed, but only with respect to services rendered by the judge after the effective date of such alteration, amendment, increase, decrease, or repeal, or, with respect to interest credits, for periods of time after the effective date of such alteration, amendment, increase, decrease, or repeal.

8. Any judge who is receiving retirement compensation under section 476.529 or 476.530 who becomes employed as an employee eligible to participate in the closed plan or in the year 2000 plan under chapter 104, shall not receive such retirement compensation for any calendar month in which the retired judge is so employed. Any judge who is receiving retirement compensation under section 476.529 or section 476.530 who subsequently serves as a judge as defined pursuant to subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of section 476.515 shall not receive such retirement compensation for any calendar month in which the retired judge is serving as a judge; except that upon retirement such judge's annuity shall be recalculated to include any additional service or salary accrued based on the judge's subsequent service. A judge who is receiving compensation under section 476.529 or 476.530 may continue to receive such retirement compensation while serving as a senior judge or senior commissioner and shall receive additional credit and salary for such service pursuant to section 476.682.”; and

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTY-FIRST DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 12, 2017

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments; for that is the whole duty of everyone.” (Ecclesiastes 12:13)

Heavenly Father in a few short hours we will bring this session to its constitutional end. So we are thankful for all the blessings You have provided us throughout this session. We pray that we have not wasted our time here nor the use of the talents each has provided. Fill our hearts with the richness of Your grace so we rejoice in Your presence and promise and know that You will never let us go. And once again we ask that You watch our “going out and coming in” bringing us safely back to loved ones who so enrich our lives and share the joys You have provided. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

36.100. 1. The director shall ascertain the duties, authority and responsibilities of all positions subject to this chapter. After consultation with the appointing authorities, the director shall prepare and recommend to the board, and maintain on a continuing basis, a position classification plan, which shall group all positions in the classified service in classes, based on their duties, authority and responsibilities. Except as provided in subsection 2 of this section, The position classification plan shall set forth, for each class of positions, a class title and a statement of the duties, authority and responsibilities thereof, and the qualifications that are necessary or desirable for the satisfactory performance of the duties of the class; provided, that no plan shall be adopted which prohibits the substitution of experience for education for each class of positions, except that, the board may determine that there is no equivalent substitution in particular cases. Classifications should be sufficiently broad in scope to include as many comparable positions as possible both on an intra- and inter-departmental basis, including both merit and nonmerit agencies.

2. The classification plan may group [management] positions with similar levels of responsibility or expertise into broad classification bands.

3. The director shall require an initial and ongoing review of the number of classifications in each division of service and shall, in consultation with the agencies, eliminate and combine classes when possible, taking into consideration the recruitment, examination, selection and compensation of personnel in the various classes.

36.120. 1. Before establishing a new position in divisions of the service subject to this chapter, or before making any permanent and substantial change of the duties, authority or responsibilities of a position subject to this chapter, an appointing authority shall notify the director in writing of the appointing authority's intention to do so, except where the positions may be allocated by the appointing authority.

2. The director may at any time allocate any new position to a class, or change the allocation of any position to a class, or recommend to the board changes in the classification plan. Any change in the classification plan recommended by the director shall take effect when approved by the board, or on the ninetieth day after it is recommended to the board if prior thereto the board has not approved it. In case of necessity requiring the immediate establishment of a new class, the director may establish such a class on an interim basis pending approval of the class by the board as recommended by the director.

3. When the allocation of a position to a class is changed, the director shall notify the appointing authority. If allocation authority is delegated, the appointing authority shall notify the director of any changes in the allocation. If the position is filled at the time of reallocation to a class, the appointing authority shall immediately notify the incumbent of the position regarding the allocation change. If the incumbent does not agree with the new allocation, the incumbent may, under conditions specified in the rules, submit to the director a request for a review of the allocation of the position.

4. If any change is made in the classification plan by which a class of positions is divided, altered, or abolished, or classes are combined, the director shall forthwith reallocate the positions affected to their appropriate classes in the amended classification plan. An employee who is occupying a position reallocated to a different class shall, subject to the regulations, be given the same status in the new class as previously held in the class from which his or her position is reallocated. [The director may require that the employee achieve a satisfactory grade on a noncompetitive test of fitness for the class to which his or her position has been reallocated.] The employee shall possess the minimum qualifications for the class to which his or her position has been reallocated.

5. After a class of positions has been approved by the board, the director is authorized to make such changes in the class title or in the statement of duties and qualifications for the class as the director finds necessary for current maintenance of the classification plan; provided, however, that changes which materially affect the nature and level of a class or which involve a change in salary range for the class shall be approved by the board.

36.140. 1. After consultation with appointing authorities and the state fiscal officers, and after a public hearing, the director shall prepare and recommend to the board a pay plan for all classes subject to this chapter. The pay plan shall include, for each class of positions, a minimum and a maximum rate, and such provision for intermediate rates as the director considers necessary or equitable. The pay plan may also provide for the use of open, or stepless, pay ranges. The pay plan may include provision for grouping of [management] positions with similar levels of responsibility or expertise into broad classification bands for purposes of determining compensation and for such salary differentials and other pay structures as the director considers necessary or equitable. In establishing the rates, the director shall give consideration to the experience in recruiting for positions in the state service, the rates of pay prevailing in the state for the services performed, and for comparable services in public and private employment, living costs, maintenance, or other benefits received by employees, and the financial condition and policies of the state. These considerations shall be made on a statewide basis and shall not make any distinction based on geographical areas or urban and rural conditions. The pay plan shall take effect when approved by the board and the governor, and each employee appointed to a position subject to this chapter after the adoption of the pay plan shall be paid according to the provisions of the pay plan for the position in which he or she is employed; provided, that the commissioner of administration certifies that there are funds appropriated and available to pay the adopted pay plan. The pay plan shall also be used as the basis for preparing budget estimates for submission to the legislature insofar as such budget estimates concern payment for services performed in positions subject to this chapter. Amendments to the pay plan may be recommended by the director from time to time as circumstances require and such amendments shall take effect when approved as provided by this section. The conditions under which employees may be appointed at a rate above the minimum provided for the class, or advance from one rate to another within the rates applicable to their positions, shall be determined by the regulations.

2. Any change in the pay plan shall be made on a uniform statewide basis. No employee in a position subject to this chapter shall receive more or less compensation than another employee solely because of the geographical area in which the employee lives or works.

36.170. 1. The director [shall from time to time] may conduct such open competitive and promotional examinations as the director considers necessary. The examinations shall be of such character as to determine the [relative] qualifications, fitness and ability of the persons tested to perform the duties of the position or class for which a register is to be established. No question shall be so framed as to elicit information concerning the political or religious opinions or affiliations of an applicant.

2. Agencies may request authority from the director, or the director may delegate authority to agencies, to administer examinations for some or all positions[, in accordance with rules adopted by the board] or job classes. When such [a request is approved] action is taken, the director[, in accordance with rules established by the board,] shall establish standards and guidelines to be followed.

3. Pursuant to rules promulgated by the board, appointing authorities may request that the division of personnel administer promotional examinations limited to those already employed by the state or within the department or division of service involved.

4. All examinations requiring an applicant's physical presence conducted by the director shall be conducted in a location which is [fully] accessible to persons with disabilities or if such a facility is not available in a given location for such regular examinations, a special examination will be arranged upon request of an applicant with a disability in a facility which is [fully] accessible.

36.180. 1. The standards of education or experience in the classification plan for each class shall be established on the basis of specified knowledge, skills and abilities. Admission to examinations or the opportunity to be considered for appointment shall be open to all persons who possess the qualifications and who may be lawfully appointed to a position in the class for which a register is to be established. [The regulations may also require that applicants achieve at least a satisfactory grade in each progressive part of the examination in order to be admitted to subsequent parts of the examination or to receive a final passing score.]

2. [To ensure competitive equality between the hearing impaired or the blind and persons not so disabled, the applicant may request from the director the furnishing of a certified interpreter for the hearing impaired or an amanuensis or a reader for the blind when necessary, and the furnishing of a place to take such examination, or such other similar prerequisites to ensure equality in such examination.] An applicant may request a reasonable accommodation in order to have an opportunity to compete for positions subject to this chapter. The director and the appointing authority filling the particular position shall ensure that reasonable accommodations are granted to applicants to offer them an opportunity to compete for positions.

3. The director may reject the application of any person for admission to an examination, strike the name of any person from the register, refuse to certify the name of any person, or withdraw the certification of a person if the director finds that the person lacks any of the qualifications, has been convicted of a crime which raises questions about his or her qualifications, has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency, has made a false statement of a material fact or practiced or attempted to practice any fraud or deception, in his or her application or examination or in attempting to secure appointment.

4. The director may take such action as is authorized in subsection 3 of this section if the director finds the person has a health condition or disability which would clearly prohibit the person from performing the duties required for the position for which the applicant has applied.

36.190. 1. [The director shall give] Appropriate public notice [of] shall be given for each open competitive [and promotional] examination or when a job class is opened for recruitment sufficiently in advance [of such examination] and sufficiently widespread in scope to afford persons who are interested [in participating in the examination] a reasonable opportunity to apply. [The time elapsing between the official announcement of an examination and the holding of such examination shall be not less than two calendar weeks, except that a lesser period of advance notice may be permissible under the regulations when the examination is conducted under the provisions of subsection 3 of section 36.320 or when the needs of the service pursuant to subsection 1 of section 36.260 require special notices.]

2. Each official notice of an examination or of when a job class or position is opened for recruitment shall state the title, duties, pay and qualifications of [positions for which the examination is to be held] the job class or position; the time, place and manner of making application [for admission to such examination;] and any other information which [the director consider] may be considered pertinent and useful.

3. The director shall ensure that the official announcement of an examination is given the widest distribution necessary to inform qualified persons that the examination is being given. The director may use any means that the director considers necessary to inform qualified persons about the examination. These include, but are not limited to, paid advertisements in newspapers, periodicals, electronic media and announcements to educational institutions. The director may also publish a periodic bulletin containing information about examinations to be sent to subscribers at a price approximating the cost of publication.

36.200. The methods for [rating the various parts of the examinations and the minimum satisfactory grade] evaluating the qualifications of each applicant shall be determined by the regulations. Each person who takes any examination shall be given written notice, which may be by electronic means, as to whether [he passed or failed the examination] the applicant is eligible for a particular job class, and [he] shall be entitled to inspect [his ratings and] the applicant's examination papers, but examination papers shall not be open to the general public. A manifest error in [rating an examination which affects the relative ranking of persons] an eligibility determination shall be corrected if called to the attention of the director within thirty days after the [establishment of the register] determination, but such correction shall not invalidate any appointment previously made from such a register unless it is established that the error was made in bad faith and with intent to deprive a person of certification or to gain certification for a person that does not meet the minimum qualifications for the class involved.

36.210. Other provision of the law to the contrary notwithstanding, special procedures for the examination and selection of personnel are authorized as follows:

[(1) For positions involving unskilled or semiskilled labor, or domestic, attendant, custodial or comparable work, when the character or place of the work makes it impracticable to supply the needs of the service by appointments made in accordance with the procedure prescribed in other provisions of this chapter, the director, in accordance with the regulations, shall authorize the use of such other procedures as the director determines to be appropriate in order to meet the needs of the service, while assuring the selection of such employees on the basis of merit and fitness. Such procedures, subject to the regulations, may include the testing of applicants and maintenance of registers of eligibles by localities; the testing of applicants, singly or in groups, at periodic intervals, at the place of employment or elsewhere, after such notice as the director considers adequate; the registration of applicants who pass a noncompetitive examination or submit satisfactory evidence of their qualifications, and appointment of registered applicants; or any variation or combination of the foregoing or other suitable methods. When the director finds noncompetitive registration and selection procedures to be appropriate, the director is hereby authorized to delegate to each appointing authority the responsibility for such registration and for selection and appointment of registered applicants. When such delegation is made, the director shall establish the necessary guidelines and standards for appointing authorities and shall require such reports and perform such audits as the director deems necessary to ensure compliance with these guidelines and standards.]

[(2)] (1) The regulations may prescribe the conditions under which interns, trainees, and participants in special state or federal training, rehabilitation, and employment programs who successfully complete a period of internship or training may be appointed to a permanent position subject to this chapter after passing a noncompetitive qualifying examination.

[(3) The board may, in accordance with the regulations, waive competitive examinations for a class or position if it finds that the supply of qualified applicants is generally insufficient to justify competitive examinations and provide meaningful competition in the selection of employees. A request that competitive examination be waived for a particular class or position pursuant to this provision may be made to the board by the director or an appointing authority. The board shall review determinations pursuant to this provision at least annually. Upon waiving such examinations, the regulations of the board shall provide for the registration and appointment of applicants who present satisfactory evidence of their qualifications.]

[(4)] (2) Upon the approval of the director in accordance with the regulations of the board, appointing authorities may promote employees on the basis of a qualifying noncompetitive examination. Such noncompetitive promotions may be approved in, but are not necessarily limited to, situations in which the promotion represents a normal progression to the next higher level within an established occupational job series, or where the director determines that an employee has been an assistant, understudy or trainee for the position involved or otherwise has had such specific experience or training that a noncompetitive promotion to the position in question is to the best interests of the state service.

[(5)] (3) Appointing authorities may request, pursuant to regulations established by the board, to conduct alternative promotional procedures for positions and classes in their divisions of service. The board shall approve such alternative procedures which it finds to be in keeping with merit principles and the best interest of the state service. Upon approval, the appointing authority shall be responsible to conduct promotional procedures in accordance with the board's approval and without favoritism, prejudice or discrimination. The board may withdraw approval pursuant to this provision if it finds that this responsibility has not been met.

[(6)] (4) Where appropriate, the director may establish registers by locality for selected classes.

36.220. 1. In any competitive examination given for the purpose of establishing a register of eligibles, veterans, disabled veterans, surviving spouses, and spouses of disabled veterans shall be given preference in appointment and examination [in the following manner:]. For positions and classifications with unranked registers, a veteran, or the surviving spouse of a veteran, a disabled veteran, or the spouse of a disabled veteran shall be given preference in appointments over other eligibles if all other relevant job-related factors are equal. Applicants eligible for a veterans preference will be listed before other eligibles on each certificate. Applicants eligible for a veterans preference will also be identified on the certificate as eligible for the preference.

[(1) A veteran, or the surviving spouse of any veteran whose name appears on a register of eligibles who made a passing grade, shall have five points added to his or her final grade, and his or her rank on the register shall be determined on the basis of this augmented grade.

(2) The spouse of a disabled veteran, whose name appears on a register of eligibles and who made a passing grade, shall have five points added to his or her final grade, and his or her rank on the register shall be determined on the basis of this augmented grade. This preference shall be given only if the veteran is not employed in the state service and the disability renders him or her unqualified for entrance into the state service.

(3) A disabled veteran, whose name appears on a register of eligibles and who made a passing grade, shall have ten points added to his or her final grade, and his or her rank on the register shall be determined on the basis of this augmented grade.]

2. Any person who has been honorably discharged from the Armed Forces of the United States shall receive appropriate credit for any training or experience gained therein in any examination if the training or experience is related to the duties of the class of positions for which the examination is given.

36.225. 1. In any competitive examination given for the purpose of establishing a register of eligibles, a parental preference shall be given to persons who were previously employed by the state but terminated such employment to care for young children. This preference shall be given only for persons who were full-time homemakers and caretakers of children under the age of ten and were not otherwise gainfully employed for a period of at least two years.

2. [If the name of a person eligible for a parental preference appears on a register of eligibles who made a passing grade, such person shall have five points added to the final grade, and the rank of such person on the register shall be determined on the basis of this augmented grade.] For positions and classifications with unranked registers, applicants entitled to parental preference shall be given this preference in appointments over other eligibles, excluding applicants eligible for a veterans preference, if all other relevant job-related factors are equal.

36.240. 1. Whenever an appointing authority proposes to fill one or more vacancies in a class of positions subject to this chapter, the appointing authority shall submit to the director, as far in advance of the desired appointment date as possible, a requisition for the certification of eligible persons from an appropriate register. The requisition shall contain information as required by the director. The appointing authority, subject to conditions specified in the regulations, may also designate special requirements of domicile or the possession of special skills. If the director finds that such requirements would contribute substantially to effective performance of the duties involved, certification may be limited to persons on the register who meet such requirements.

2. When vacancies to be filled are in a class from which employees have been laid off, or demoted in lieu of layoff, certification shall be limited to previous employees until all employees of a division of service on the appropriate reinstatement register have been reinstated in order of rank on the register. Thereafter, certification from reinstatement and other registers shall be in accordance with the provisions of this section and the regulations of the board.

3. Upon a request for certification, the director shall certify for selection [the names of the top fifteen ranking available eligibles or] the names of available eligibles. [comprising the top ranking fifteen percent of available eligibles, whichever is greater, plus such additional eligibles as have a final rating equal to that of the last certified eligible. Upon request of the appointing authority, the director may also certify, for each additional vacancy to be filled from the same certification, the next five ranking available eligibles plus such additional eligibles as have a final rating equal to that of the last certified eligible.

4. If the director finds that the nature of the examination process and the type of positions involved justify alternative procedures for filling vacancies, the board may by rule prescribe such procedures which may include certification by broad category of examination rating or within a specified range of scores.]

[5] 4. When a position in divisions of the service subject to this chapter is limited in duration, certification may be limited to [the highest ranking eligible] any eligible who will accept employment under such conditions. A person appointed to a position under such conditions shall retain his or her [relative] position on the register and shall be eligible for certification to a permanent position [in the regular order] until the register itself has expired. If a temporary position is limited to less than ninety calendar days' duration, the appointing authority may fill the position by temporary appointment in the manner provided in section 36.270.

[6] 5. The rules shall prescribe the conditions under which the name of an eligible who has been certified to and considered for appointment by an appointing authority but has not been appointed may be withheld from further certification to such appointing authority. The eligible shall be entitled to retain his or her place on the eligible register during the life of the register, and shall be certified [in the order of his or her rank] to other vacancies in the class under other appointing authorities.

[7] 6. Eligibles who are not available for appointment when offered certification shall be granted a waiver of certification upon their request. Eligibles who do not respond within a reasonable period to a notice of certification may at the discretion of the director be dropped from the eligible register.

[8] 7. Any person who has obtained regular status in a class of positions subject to subsection 1 of section 36.030 and who has resigned from state service in good standing or who has accepted demotion or transfer for personal reasons may be reemployed without competitive certification in the same or comparable class at the discretion of the appointing authority and under conditions specified in the regulations. Any person who has successfully served at least one year in a position not subject to subsection 1 of section 36.030, but which is subject to section 36.031, and who has resigned from state service in good standing or who has accepted demotion or transfer for personal reasons, may be reemployed without competitive certification in the same or comparable class at the discretion of the appointing authority and under conditions specified in the regulations, provided he or she possesses the qualifications [and has successfully completed a noncompetitive examination] for the class involved. No one shall be reemployed pursuant to this section until reinstatement has first been offered to all eligibles on the reinstatement register for the class and division of service involved.

[9] 8. Preference in certification and appointment from promotional registers or registers of eligibles under conditions specified in the regulations, may be given to employees of the division of service in which the vacancy occurs.

36.320. 1. The director shall establish and maintain such promotional registers and registers of eligibles for the various positions or classes of positions subject to this chapter as the director deems necessary or desirable to meet the needs of the service. On each promotional register and register of eligibles, the eligibles [shall] may be ranked in the order of their ratings given for the purpose of establishing or replenishing such a register or may be unranked and placed on the register if the applicant meets the minimum criteria for the position or class.

2. The time during which a promotional register or register of eligibles remains in force shall be [one year from the date on which it is officially established by the director; except that, before the expiration of a register, the director may by order extend the time during which such register remains in force when the needs of the service so require] determined by the director so as to best meet the needs of the service. In no event shall the total period during which a register is in force exceed three years from the date on which the register was originally established. The director may consolidate or cancel promotional registers and registers of eligibles as the needs of the service require[, and as authorized by the regulations].

3. In circumstances where there is a continuous need for substantial numbers of eligibles for a certain class of positions, the director may, after first establishing such a register, replenish the register from time to time by inserting the names of additional eligibles who are found to be qualified on the basis of determinations similar to those used as a basis for establishing the original register. The method for establishing, replenishing, and cancelling such a register shall be determined by the regulations.”; and

OBJECTIONS

Senators Emery, Eigel and Kraus submitted the following:

Ron Richard
President Pro Tem
Missouri State Senate
Room 326
Jefferson City, MO 65102

Dear Mr. President:

We hereby submit this objection to the signing of House Bill 151 pursuant to Article III, Section 30 of the Constitution of Missouri. Please print this letter in the Senate Journal and we ask that this objection accompany the bill when delivered to the Governor for signing.

This act runs contrary to the constitutional protections guaranteed in the Missouri and United States constitutions, and for this reason should not become the law of this state.

Article I, section 4 of the Missouri Constitution clearly states that Missouri is a free and independent state subject only to the United States Constitution. Additionally, the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution clearly states that powers not granted to the federal government are reserved for the States or the people. Nowhere in the United States Constitution is there a grant of authority to condition citizens' rights on participation in an identity database or to dictate standards for state-issued identification. In fact, quite the opposite is true, Article IV, Section 1 of the United States Constitution guarantees states the right that their acts, records, and proceedings shall be given full faith and credit by every other state in the union.

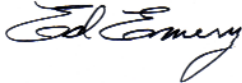

Provisions in the federal REAL ID Act of 2005 place an unnecessary burden on the right to petition one's government for redress of grievances under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, freedom of movement throughout the United States under Substantive Due Process, and threaten the continued free exercise of our other constitutional rights. Access to federal courthouses and military bases are already denied to persons without access to REAL ID compliant identification, and due to the sheer size of our country, certain states and lands otherwise held by the United States are all but impossible for citizens of average means to reach without use of a federally-regulated airline flight. For a law burdening fundamental rights such as these to be constitutional, the government action undertaken must be necessary to further a compelling government interest. The REAL ID Act of 2005 intrudes on citizens' privacy beyond what is truly necessary to ensure aircraft and courthouse safety and security, and for that reason we must resist implementing it in our state system of identification.

Although the federal government has been granted the authority to regulate interstate commerce, such authority is not without limits. The federal government exceeds its constitutional authority when it attempts to commandeer or improperly coerce a state or states, or when it places an undue burden on the free exercise of the rights endowed to us by our creator. Reliance on the bare assertion that an action implicates interstate commerce and thus is appropriate for unbridled federal regulation does violence to the notion that we live in a free and independent state and sets a dangerous precedent with regard to federal overreach. Such a dismissive viewpoint disregards the existence of the Tenth Amendment and the discrete list of federal powers enumerated in Article I, Section 8 of the United States Constitution. Implementation of federal standards for identification issued by the several states directly infringes the rights of Missourians, and poses a threat to the full faith and credit that is already owed to state-issued identification irrespective of federal approval. It takes no imagination to envision that REAL ID compliant identification, and thus participation in a federally-approved database, will subsequently be required for exercise of other constitutional rights.

Our state cannot be complicit in allowing regulation of interstate commerce to extend to infringement of constitutional rights. Free exercise of the rights endowed to us by our creator cannot and shall not be subjugated to the discretion or approval of the federal government. Free exercise of the rights endowed to us by our creator does not mean free exercise conditioned on participation in a federally-approved identification program.

Because this proposed legislation poses a threat to the free exercise of constitutional rights that none but our creator is entitled to infringe, we ask the Governor to act for the good of the people of Missouri and veto House Bill 151.

Sincerely,

Senator Sifton submitted the following:

RE: Objection to the signing of SS#2/HCS/HB 1194 & 1193 by the President Pro-Tem

Dear Ms. Crouse:

Pursuant to the provisions Article III, § 30 of the Missouri Constitution and Senate Rule 68, please consider this correspondence as my objection to the signing of SS#2/HCS/HB 1194 & 1193 by the President Pro-Tem. In accordance with these provisions, please print this correspondence in the Senate Journal and annex it to the legislation to be considered by the Governor.

The legislation referenced above was 3d read in the Senate on the final day of session. Numerous procedural irregularities call into question whether it was validly adopted and thus whether it can therefore become law. The points raised below are supported by a review of the audio recordings of the proceedings.

During the proceedings on the final day, Senator Onder raised a point of order that the substitute motions that I was attempting to offer were out of order under Senate Rule 73. Senator Richard was then recognized by the presiding officer – while Senator Schaaf had possession of the floor – and ruled on the point of order. Senator Schaaf then appealed the ruling on the point of order. Pursuant to Senate Rule 10, rulings on points of order are subject to an appeal to the entire Senate. However, no vote or any other action was ever taken on Senator Schaaf's appeal of the ruling on the point of order.

The Senate also violated Rule 76 regarding standing at ease in multiple instances. The rule states, in pertinent part, "When a senator is engaged in debate or discussion and seeks to have the senate stand at ease, the senator must seek unanimous consent of the body."

While Senator Schaaf was speaking on a point of order raised by Senator Schatz, Senator Richard sought the recognition of the presiding officer – again despite Senator Schaaf having possession of the floor at that time. When asked by the presiding officer for what purpose he rose, Senator Richard replied "to stand at ease for five minutes to rule on the point of order." Both Senators Schaaf and Nasheed are heard on the audio to object to the Senate standing at ease. The presiding officer nevertheless put the Senate at ease.

Senator Richard was not engaged in debate or discussion and was therefore ineligible to ask the Senate to stand at ease. In addition, the request did not have the unanimous consent of the body as Senators Schaaf and Nasheed immediately objected. Finally, after the Senate had been at ease for well over five minutes, Senator Walsh sought recognition and pointed out that Rule 76 required unanimous consent, that she no longer gave it, and moved to adjourn. Senator Onder, who was then presiding, refused to recognize her in violation of Senate Rules.

The final procedural irregularity that I wish to address is that the third read motion on the bill was never properly put before the body. Rule 87 requires that when a motion is made it must be stated by the chair or, if the motion is written, it must be read by the secretary. Rule 88 provides that after the motion is stated by the chair, then it is before the body.

Immediately after the vote was taken to adopt Senate Substitute Number 2 of the bill, the presiding officer announced, "we are on the 3rd reading of HB 1194 and 1193." However, the Senate was not yet on that motion as Senator Hegeman had not yet made it. Senator Hegeman initially moved the previous question despite the fact that he had not yet made the third read motion. Then, in recognition of the fact that the third read motion was not yet before the body, he withdrew the motion for the previous question and made the 3rd read motion. He then immediately moved for the call of the previous question on the third read motion. Following those actions, at no time was the 3rd read motion ever repeated by the chair. It also was neither written nor read.

As the third read motion was never stated by the presiding officer or read by the secretary, it was never before the body. The purported vote on the third read motion was a nullity that under Senate rules never occurred. The alleged passage of the bill violated Article III, § 21 of the Missouri Constitution insofar as it was never validly third read in the Senate.

Article III, § 21 of the Missouri Constitution grants the Senate the authority to determine the rules of its proceedings. Incumbent with this grant of authority is that the Senate actually follow its own rules. The Missouri Supreme Court has recognized that even the Lieutenant Governor – who is in a different branch of government – is required to follow the rules of the Senate when presiding over it. State ex rel Danforth v. Cason, 507 S.W.2d 405, 413-414 (Mo. 1974). Because of the Senate’s failure to follow its own rules – and particularly because the third read motion on the bill was never validly made – the bill’s adoption violates the Missouri Constitution and cannot be signed.

Sincerely,

SIGNING OF BILLS

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Bill No. 65 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 306.126, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to boat passengers.

I disapprove of Senate Bill No. 65. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Bill No. 65 allows anyone, including children, to ride or sit on the gunwales, decking over the bow, top of the seat back, or decking over the back of a motorboat without adequate guards or railing.

To paint a picture, this bill would allow two children to ride on an open bow of a speedboat traveling in excess of 40 mph on any body of water, including the Lake of the Ozarks.

For almost 50 years, Missouri law has required the public safety measure that this law would overturn. According to data collected by the United States Coast Guard, falls overboard are the leading cause of death on Missouri waterways, and open motorboats—by far—cause the most injuries and deaths. From 2005 to 2016, 57 deaths and 95 injuries attributable to falls overboard occurred on Missouri waterways. Missouri's neighboring states have also put in place this commonsense protection. See, e.g., 625 ILCS 45/5-21; Ark. Code Ann. § 27-101-202; 301 Ky. Admin. Regs. 6:030.

I respect the intentions of the sponsors of Senate Bill No. 65. Like them, I want to make Missouri a safe place for people to enjoy our many waterways and outdoor recreational activities. I also understand that one purpose of this bill may have been to exempt small boats that travel at low speeds on slow moving float streams from the provisions that prohibit passengers from riding on certain areas of the boat. The final language contained in this bill, however, may have unintended consequences.

Since this legislation passed, I have spoken with members of the Missouri State Highway Patrol responsible for public safety on Missouri's waterways. Last year, they issued more than 900 warnings or citations for the failure to comply with section 306.126, RSMo. The majority of the warnings or citations occurred at the Lake of the Ozarks, which the United States Coast Guard has consistently ranked as one of the most dangerous waterways in the country. Our State's law enforcement officers have expressed serious concerns that removing the common-sense safety measures contained in 306.126, RSMo. would directly lead to more injuries and deaths on Missouri's larger waterways where more boats operate in dangerous water conditions.

The legislature should have had—but did not have—the benefit of the testimony referenced above as this bill moved through the process, and I understand that many legislators were not made aware of these public safety concerns. I appreciate that on certain waterways we may want to revise current law, and I believe that we can do so in a way that enhances individual liberty and personal responsibility while still protecting public safety.

Going forward, I am committed to working with the sponsors of this legislation to achieve our mutual goals of enacting measures that provide common-sense protections for boaters, while at the same time maximizing enjoyment of our beautiful lakes and streams. I cannot, however, add my endorsement to this bill in its current form.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Bill No. 65 without my approval.

Sincerely,

/s/ Eric R. Greitens
Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No.

2 for Senate Bill No. 128 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 105.478, 144.026, 210.845, 302.441, 400.9-501, 452.370, 452.747, 454.500, 456.1-103, 456.4-414, 456.4-420, 456.8-808, 475.024, 478.463, 479.020, 479.170, 479.353, 488.029, 488.2206, 488.2250, 488.5050, 513.430, 513.440, 514.040, 515.575, 515.635, 552.020, 557.035, 565.076, 565.091, 566.010, 575.280, 577.001, 577.010, 577.037, 577.060, and 595.045, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof sixty-eight new sections relating to judicial proceedings, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128. My reasons for disapproval are as follows.

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 started as a one-page, 35-word bill that removed the division designations from the Jackson County courts. The final bill is no longer short or simple. Quite the opposite; now it spans 77 pages and impacts unrelated issues in 68 statutory sections.¹ This final bill violates the Missouri Constitution and contradicts other legislation passed this session and already signed.

Multiple constitutional issues plague Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128. The issues begin with the assortment of subjects covered by the bill. The Missouri Constitution requires that “[n]o bill shall contain more than one subject which shall be clearly expressed in its title, . . .” Article III, Section 23. “The test to determine if a bill contains more than one subject is whether all provisions of the bill fairly relate to the same subject, have a natural connection therewith or are incidents or means to accomplish its purpose.” Hammerschmidt v. Boone County, 877 S.W.2d 98, 102 (Mo. banc 1994) (internal quotation omitted).

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128’s subject is “relating to judicial proceedings,” but many provisions are entirely non-judicial. Examples clutter the bill. For example, the bill prohibits the Department of Revenue from contacting taxpayers by mail about possible sales taxes owed. A different section authorizes conservation agents to write tickets for littering. Another portion requires the attorney general to report on claims that never reached the courthouse.² Elsewhere, the bill permits trustees to terminate up to $250,000 trusts and allows parents to transfer their parental rights by signing a notarized form. The list could go on.

These parts of the bill cannot relate to judicial proceedings when they do not involve judicial proceedings. As evidenced by these examples and others, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 violates the Missouri Constitution's single subject requirement. Moreover, any futile attempt to argue that every issue in the bill relates to a single subject would implicate the Missouri Constitution's clear title requirement, because the broad and amorphous "judicial proceedings" title does not give notice of the wide range of unrelated issues actually covered. See Home Builders Ass'n of Greater St. Louis v. State, 75 S.W.3d 267, 270 (Mo. banc 2012).

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 compounds these constitutional concerns by undermining other legislation. One of this session's important tort reform successes, Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 31, limited a party's damages evidence to the actual cost of medical care. See Section 490.715.5. Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 does the exact opposite by presuming that the bills for medical care are fair and reasonable. See Section 595.219.5. By allowing plaintiffs' attorneys to argue conflicts with Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 31 or to seek potentially inconsistent outcomes, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 undercuts the hard-fought tort reform gains achieved this session.

Other inconsistencies exist. Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 34 helps protect the home addresses of victims of rape, human trafficking, and domestic violence. This bill contains a similar, but not identical, provision. Indeed, the language differs in a dozen different ways. I appreciate the good intentions of the legislators who worked on this important issue, but the inconsistency between the two bills can only negatively affect the protections provided by Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 34.

A separate and serious flaw in the bill concerns the fees charged by court reporters. The State of Missouri employs more than 140 court reporters, assigning one to each circuit judge. Each court reporter creates the courtroom's official transcript of proceedings. How much state-employed court reporters can charge is currently capped by statute. Any citizen or party seeking an official transcript of the proceedings must purchase the transcript from the court reporter. Since court reporters are the only official transcribers, they have a monopoly on courtroom transcripts.

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 would remove the price caps altogether.³ Under this bill, court reporters could charge any price they choose. A court reporter could, for example, charge $100 per page. This is problematic because court reporters have a monopoly on producing these transcripts.

This change would limit citizen's access to justice and also negatively impact Missouri taxpayers. The Office of Administration's Budget & Planning Division estimates that the State of Missouri paid court reporters more than $1 million for court transcripts last year. Removing the price caps would cost state government even more. For example, the Missouri State Public Defender predicts that Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 would cost its office at least $100,000 more per year, or the equivalent of two public defenders.

The myriad issues in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 raise serious constitutional, statutory, and policy concerns. Unfortunately, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 contained many provisions I support that were the product of the hard work of many legislators. I look forward to working with the legislature on many of these important policies next session, including improving the foster care system.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 without my approval.

Sincerely,

/s/ Eric R. Greitens

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
OF THE
FIRST EXTRA SESSION
OF THE
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—MONDAY, MAY 22, 2017

The Senate was called to order in Extra Session by Lieutenant Governor Mike Parson.

Senator Rowden offered the following prayer:

Father in Heaven, we thank you for another day of breath, life and hope — the hope that is only found in You.

As we come together today to begin this special session, may we be reminded of the burden of responsibility that is upon us. To make decisions that are in the best interest of this state and its citizens. And to treat each other with respect and civility as we deliberate on these decisions.

Today, we seek after the wisdom sought by King Solomon in Scripture. To have the insight to discern right from wrong and the foresight to see how decisions today impact realities tomorrow.

May we approach the business of these next days without a trace of pride or vengeance, because You have told us in the Proverbs that: “When pride comes, then comes disgrace. But with humility, comes wisdom.”

Give us patience, humility and wisdom as we do the work before us. This is our prayer. AMEN.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The President laid before the Senate the following proclamation from the Governor, reading of which was waived:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the people of Missouri deserve more quality jobs; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has a skilled workforce able to manufacture materials and products sold around the world; and

WHEREAS, government should not prevent businesses from coming and growing here; and

WHEREAS, one critical measure not addressed by the 2017 legislative session would have kept Missouri in the running for a steel mill and additional manufacturing jobs; and

WHEREAS, the top priority of Missouri’s elected leaders should be to fight for new jobs for Missourians; and

WHEREAS, in order to compete for new manufacturing jobs, utilities need additional flexibility; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 9 of the Missouri Constitution authorizes the Governor on extraordinary occasions to convene the General Assembly by proclamation, wherein he shall state specifically each matter on which action is deemed necessary; and

WHEREAS, the need to provide the Public Service Commission with flexibility to approve special electricity rates for steel works, aluminum smelting facilities, or other similar facilities, in order to attract new jobs to Missouri, is an extraordinary occasion envisioned by Article IV, Section 9 of the Missouri Constitution.

NOW THEREFORE, on the extraordinary occasion that exists in the State of Missouri:

I, ERIC R. GREITENS, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to the authority vested in me as Governor by the Constitution of the State of Missouri, do, by this Proclamation, convene the Ninety-Ninth General Assembly of the State of Missouri in the First Extra Session of the First Regular Session; and

I HEREBY call upon the Senators and Representatives of said General Assembly to meet in the State Capitol in the City of Jefferson at the hour of 4 p.m., Central Daylight Time, on May 22, 2017; and

I HEREBY state that the action of said General Assembly is deemed necessary concerning each matter specifically designated and limited hereinafter as follows:

1. To enact legislation authorizing the Public Service Commission to approve a special electricity rate for an aluminum smelting facility, a steel works facility, or other similar facility that is not based on the electrical corporation's cost of service, provided that the Public Service Commission (1) determines the special electricity rate for the facility is in the interest of the State of Missouri; (2) approves a uniform percentage adjustment in each general rate proceeding; (3) approves a tracking mechanism to track changes in the net margin experienced by the electrical corporation; and (4) approves either a rate schedule reflecting the special electricity rate if the facility is located within the electrical corporation's certificated service territory or a contract reflecting the special electricity rate, but neither the rate schedule nor the contract shall allow the special electricity rate to continue beyond ten years.
2. To enact legislation authorizing the Public Service Commission to allow electrical corporations a reasonable opportunity to earn a fair return, by methods such as rate adjustment mechanisms not otherwise statutorily authorized, which the commission shall lack authority to modify or eliminate during the specified term.
3. Such additional and other matters as may be recommended by the Governor by special message to the General Assembly after it shall have been convened.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri, in the City of Jefferson, on this 18th day of May, 2017.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Extraordinary Session, that Senate Rules 44 and 50 be amended to read as follows:

“Rule 44. Beginning on July first of each year, members and members-elect may deposit bills and joint resolutions for the next regular session with the secretary of the senate at any time. The secretary shall hold the bills and joint resolutions so deposited in the order filed. After the close of business on December first, the secretary shall assign numbers to bills and joint resolutions deposited in that office by seniority of the member first signing the measure, with a limit of [three bills or joint resolutions] one bill or joint resolution per rotation of the seniority list from the total number of measures deposited. Rule 50. Referrals of bills and appointments to committee shall be made by the president pro tem; and no bill shall be considered for final passage unless it has been reported on by a committee and printed for the use of the senators. Any of the first three senate bills or joint resolutions pre-filed under Senate Rule 44 by a senator that are reported to the senate from committee shall be placed on the calendar under the order of business of “senate bills for perfection” in numerical order above all other bills on that order of business regardless of the day in which the bill was reported to the senate. A report of all bills recommended “do pass” by a committee shall be submitted to the senate by the chairman and all committee amendments accompanying the report shall be printed in the Journal.

After a bill has been referred to a committee, one-third of the senators elected has the power to relieve a committee of further consideration of a bill and place it on the calendar for consideration. In any case where a committee has been relieved of further consideration of a bill as herein provided, a majority of the senators present but not less than one-third of the senators elected, may, at any time before final passage thereof, again refer the bill to the same or some other committee for consideration. No bill or resolution shall be reported adversely by any committee until the author of the bill or resolution has been given an opportunity to appear and be heard before the committee to which it is referred.

One-third of the senators elected may relieve a committee of an appointment and a motion to grant advice and consent of the Senate to that appointment is then in order upon a vote of the majority of the Senate.”

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST EXTRA SESSION

THIRD DAY—THURSDAY, MAY 25, 2017

President Pro Tem Richard in the Chair.

Senator Emery offered the following prayer:

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

Heavenly Father, I pray, keep us today from double-mindedness and grant us wisdom. I come to You this morning in the name and through the blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, thanking You for breath for life itself. Thank You for the opportunity You have given each of us today to serve You and the citizens of Missouri.

I believe it is with one voice, today that we bring before Your throne the names of all those in uniform whether at home or abroad who serve daily to protect our lives and our freedoms from enemies foreign or domestic.

We plead Your mercies and grace upon those whose lives were taken or violently disrupted this week by the terrorist attack in Manchester, England. Somehow bring divine comfort to survivors and healing to the wounded.

Father, as we go about our constitutional business today, may we be directed by the mind of Christ to seek peace and pursue it in every situation or conversation. Direct every outcome for the benefit of those we serve and for Your glory. I pray in the name of Your son and my Savior, Amen. (James 1:5-8)

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

WHEREAS, seventy years ago the United States government hired St. Louis based company Mallinckrodt Chemical Works to purify uranium for use in nuclear weapons during wartimes; and

WHEREAS, from 1946 until 1957, Mallinckrodt Chemical Works transported and dumped the radioactive chemical waste produced from the uranium purification process at Coldwater Creek near the St. Louis airport; and

WHEREAS, some of the radioactive chemical wastes were later trucked from Coldwater Creek to Latty Avenue in Hazelwood for drying and shipping to Colorado for reprocessing; and

WHEREAS, in 1973, some of the radioactive chemical wastes located on Latty Avenue were transported and illegally dumped in the West Lake Landfill located in Bridgeton, next to Earth City, in the Missouri River floodplain; and

WHEREAS, the radioactive chemical waste has contaminated land and caused erosion of soil from the West Lake Landfill berm; and

WHEREAS, in 2012, an underground fire was discovered at the West Lake Landfill, and the fire has remained uncontrolled since that time; and

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers Formerly Utilized Sites Remedial Action Program would be better situated to address the West Lake Landfill remediation efforts given their experience in remediation efforts across St. Louis City and St. Louis County:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Extraordinary Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby request the United States Congress to transfer the authority for the remediation of the West Lake Landfill radioactive chemical wastes from the Environmental Protection Agency to the United States Army Corps of Engineers Formerly Utilized Sites Remedial Action Program; and

Senator Kehoe offered the following resolution, which was adopted on a standing division vote:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, that the Secretary of Senate inform the House of Representatives that the Senate is duly convened in the Second Extra Session of the First Regular Session and is ready for consideration of its business.

Senator Kehoe offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 2

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninety-ninth General Assembly, that the rules of the Senate, as adopted by the Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, be declared the rules of the Second Extra Session of the First Regular Session.

Senator Romine offered Senate Resolution No. 3, regarding Eagle Scout Jordan Ray Duncan, Farmington, which was adopted.

Senators Holsman, Dixon, Silvey, Libla, Schaaf and Sifton offered the following resolution, which was read:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 4

Whereas, Missouri public officials, including the Governor, should be held to the highest ethical standards; and

Whereas, the Missouri Ethics Commission investigated a complaint against the Governor and his candidate committee, hereafter “committee,” called “Greitens for Missouri”; and

Whereas, based upon such investigation, the Commission determined that reasonable grounds existed to believe that the Governor and his committee committed violations of ethics laws; and

Whereas, the Commission alleged that in early 2015 the committee received the benefit of a list of prospective donors for which the committee did not pay and which was not expressly contemplated in any contract executed by the committee; and

Whereas, the donor list came from The Mission Continues, a charity that the Governor co-founded; and

Whereas, the committee did not disclose the list as a contribution received on any disclosure report filed during the period in which the committee accepted the list; and

Whereas, it was only after a consent order was issued by the Commission that the committee finally filed an amended disclosure report that showed the list as an in-kind contribution with a value of $600.00; and

Whereas, the committee has still not disclosed the name of the individual who provided the list to the committee; and

Whereas, this failure on the part of the Governor and his committee was a violation of Missouri law, specifically Section 130.041.1(3), RSMo, regarding a failure to report a contribution; and

Whereas, Section 130.058, RSMo, provides that the candidate is ultimately responsible for all reporting requirements for the candidate's committee; and

Whereas, as a result of this violation of law, the Commission issued a consent order in which a fee was imposed against the committee; and

Whereas, it is an untenable situation where the Governor of this state is the subject of consent order for unethical behavior; and

Whereas, the definition of a lobbyist under Section 105.470, RSMo, is an individual attempting to influence the state executive, state legislative, state judicial, or elected local government officials' actions; and

Whereas, the Governor's organization, A New Missouri, led by the Governor's senior adviser clearly and repeatedly meets this statutory definition but refuses to file as a lobbyist or lobbying organization; and

Whereas, because it's a nonprofit, A New Missouri can accept unlimited contributions and is not required to disclose contributors; and

Whereas, the Governor's senior adviser has made public statements admitting to coordinating the activities of Greitens for Missouri, A New Missouri, and the official Office of the Governor in its performance of official acts, an arrangement that, at best, circumvents current ethics law, and most likely constitutes illegal coordination between the Governor's office and A New Missouri; and

Whereas, because the Governor's use of a charity that he co-founded as a source of soliciting campaign contributions without being transparent about such activities raises questions that deserve investigation by a co-equal branch of state government; and

Whereas, the coordination between the governor's office and A New Missouri should also be investigated by a co-equal branch of state government; and

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, Second Extraordinary Session, hereby establish an investigative committee to be comprised of three Senators appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and two Senators appointed by the Senate Minority Leader; and

Be It Further Resolved that the committee shall hold such hearings, and subpoena such witnesses and documents under the hand of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, as necessary to investigate any misconduct, crimes, corruption in office, or any offense involving moral turpitude or oppression in office committed by Governor Greitens in connection with his illegal use of a donor list from The Mission Continues, the failure of the Governor's lobbying organization to register as such, and the clear coordination of the Governor's official office, political campaign and lobbying organization; and

Be It Further Resolved that the committee shall begin work upon adoption of this resolution and may continue its investigation until December 31, 2018; and

Be It Further Resolved that the committee shall, at the conclusion of its investigation, issue a report on its findings to the full Senate and the Missouri House of Representatives and forward such findings to the appropriate state or federal law enforcement agency if needed.

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SECOND EXTRA SESSION

THIRD DAY—WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 2017

President Pro Tem Richard in the Chair.

Senator Rowden offered the following prayer:

Father, we pause today to give thanks to You for Your goodness and Your grace. We are humbled by the opportunity to serve the people of this great state, but even more, we are humbled that we have the opportunity to be called Your children.

Today, we are saddened by the news from Arlington, Virginia, of senseless violence against Congressman Scalise and the others involved in this horrific incident. Our hearts are broken as we confront this startling new reality of rhetoric-driven hate and disrespect of our political opponents. In this chamber, as republicans and democrats in the Missouri Senate, may we lead the effort to push back against this extremism. To push back against the idea that if we disagree with someone politically, we are mortal enemies. And to work with diligence to restore civility and respect in our political discourse.

May we find our example of how to lead in the way You led and the way You loved. Driven by compassion, motivated by truth, and committed to serve the most vulnerable among us with love.

As we begin our debate today, we stand on the promise found in the 41st chapter of Isaiah where it says, “Do not fear, for I am with you; Do not anxiously look about you, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, surely I will help you, surely I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.”

Thank You for Your promises and for Your truth. They are our hope and will be our guide as we do the work of the people this evening.

We ask these things in Jesus name. Amen.

OBJECTIONS

Senator Holsman submitted the following:

July 25, 2017

Adriane Crouse – Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Room 325
Jefferson City, Missouri 65101

RE: Objection to the signing of HCS/SS/SB 5 by the President Pro-Tem

Dear Ms. Crouse:

Pursuant to the provisions Article III, § 30 of the Missouri Constitution and Senate Rule 68, please consider this correspondence as my objection to the signing of House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill 5 by the President Pro-Tem. In accordance with these provisions, please print this correspondence in the Senate Journal and annex it to the legislation to be considered by the Governor.

My first objection is that the extra session that was called to convene the bill was, itself, unconstitutional. On June 7, 2017, Governor Eric Greitens issued a proclamation calling for the convening of an extra session of the Missouri General Assembly to address legislation relating to abortion laws. Such a convening of the Missouri General Assembly violates Article IV, Section 9 of the Missouri Constitution in that extra sessions called for by the Governor may only be done on “extraordinary occasions.”

Article II, Section 1 of the Missouri Constitution provides as follows,

The powers of government shall be divided into three distinct departments--the legislative, executive and judicial--each of which shall be confided to a separate magistracy, and no person, or collection of persons, charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of those departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances in this constitution expressly directed or permitted.

Article III, Section 1 confines the legislative power of state government to the General Assembly. A careful reading of the article shows that the constitution assigns the General Assembly the single power and sole responsibility to make, amend and repeal laws for Missouri and to have the necessary power to accomplish its law-making responsibility. State Auditor v. Joint Committee on Legislative Research, 956 S.W.2d 228, 230-231 (Mo. 1997). “All the power to make laws in the name and with the authority of its constituent elements—its citizens en masse—is lodged in the temporary Legislature, subject only to the restraining clauses of the Constitutions of the state and nation.” Ludlow–Saylor Wire Co. v. Wollbrinck, 205 S.W. 196, 197 (Mo. 1918). Article IV, Section 1 confines the executive power of state government to the governor.

The governor may call an extra session of the Missouri General Assembly by proclamation wherein he shall specifically describe each matter on which action is necessary. Mo.Const. Art. IV, Sec. 9. However, he may do so only on “extraordinary occasions.” Id. No Missouri Court has undertaken the task of defining what constitutes an “extraordinary occasion” for the purposes of this constitutional provision. Words used in constitutional provisions are interpreted to give effect to their plain, ordinary, and natural meaning. Wright-Jones v. Nasheed, 368 S.W.3d 157, 159 (Mo. 2012). The dictionary defines “extraordinary” as “(1) not according to the usual custom or regular plan; (2) going far beyond the ordinary degree, measure, limit, etc.; very unusual; exceptional; remarkable.” WEBSTER’S NEW WORLD COLLEGE DICTIONARY 515 (5th ed. 2014).

As evidence that the subjects upon which the Governor has called an extra session do not constitute an extraordinary occasion, bills relating to the same subject matters were sponsored, debated and partially moved through the legislative process during the regular legislative session of 2017. However, the collective judgment of the General Assembly – sitting as the single power and sole responsibility to make, amend and repeal laws – was that these subjects were not extraordinary enough to truly agree and finally pass a bill on them during the regular session, much less during an extra session.

While the proclamation issued by the Governor cited the May 2, 2017 decision of Judge Sachs in the case of Comprehensive Health of Planned Parenthood, Great Plains vs. Randall Williams as one of the reasons for the special session, it should be noted that this litigation had been pending since November 30, 2016. Furthermore, the United States Supreme Court’s opinion in Whole Women’s Health vs. Hellerstedt – which Judge Sachs relied on in his order – was handed down on June 27, 2016. To summarize, the issues addressed in the Governor’s proclamation did not arise for the first time on May 2, 2017.

My second objection addresses the substance of the bill itself. In Planned Parenthood of Southeastern Pennsylvania vs. Casey, the United States Supreme Court held that where a state regulation imposes an undue burden on a woman’s ability to make the decision to terminate a pregnancy, the state reaches into the heart of a liberty protected by the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution. 505 U.S. 833, 874, 112 S.Ct. 2791, 2819 (1992). The Court went on to state,

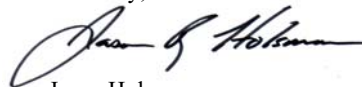

A statute which, while furthering the interest in potential life or some other valid state interest, has the effect of placing a substantial obstacle in the path of a woman’s choice cannot be considered a permissible means of serving its legitimate ends...An undue burden exists, and therefore a provision is invalid, if its purpose or effect is to place a substantial obstacle in the path of a woman seeking an abortion before the fetus attains viability.

Id. 505 U.S. at 877-878, 112 S.Ct. 2820-2821.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill 5 creates the types of substantial obstacles to women’s health choices that were prohibited by the Casey decision. The bill requires approval by the Department of Health and Senior Services for every chemically induced abortion. The bill also contains many of the same regulations that caused Missouri’s abortion laws to be invalidated in the recent judgment by Judge Sachs. The only change is that now the regulations are not called ambulatory surgical center regulations.

It is unfortunate that the obsession of this General Assembly continues to suppress the reproductive rights of Missouri women has yet again lead it to send to the Governor legislation that is unconstitutional. This not only hurts Missouri women, but wastes the tax dollars sent to Jefferson City by hard-working Missourians when it used to defend unconstitutional legislation. I hope in the future this obsession ceases.

Sincerely,

Jason Holsman.

District 7

The bill was so read by the Secretary and signed by the President Pro Tem.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 3

Whereas, it has been the tradition of the Missouri Senate to jealously guard the honor, integrity, and public standing of its membership, and the Missouri Senate has always been quick to defend against and quick to condemn any internal or external threat to that tradition; and

Whereas, on August 17, 2017, Senator Maria Chappelle-Nadal wrote the following on the social media website Facebook, "I hope Trump is Assassinated!"; and

Whereas, such expression of a desire for violence against the President of the United States of America by another elected official is unfitting and unbecoming of a member of the Missouri Senate and constitutes disorderly conduct; and

Whereas, such expression also demonstrates a disrespect for the democratic process as enshrined in the United States and Missouri Constitutions; and

Whereas, pursuant to Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, the Senate retains the sole right and responsibility to determine the qualifications of its members; and

Whereas, pursuant to Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, the Senate may punish a member for disorderly conduct:

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved that the disorderly conduct of Senator Chappelle-Nadal, as put forth in this resolution, is of a type and of such magnitude to warrant a public censure; and

Be It Further Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, Veto Session of the First Regular Session, hereby find and conclude that Senator Maria Chappelle-Nadal engaged in disorderly conduct and is hereby immediately censured; and

Be It Further Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate urge Senator Chappelle-Nadal to conduct herself in a manner that respects the longstanding traditions of the Missouri Senate; and

Be It Further Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate urge Senator Chappelle-Nadal to respect her position as a Senator by refraining from action or words that incite or encourage violence; and

Be It Further Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate urge Senator Chappelle-Nadal to resign or, upon failure to do so, she may be subject to potential expulsion at a future session of the Missouri Senate.

Senator Kehoe requested unanimous consent of the Senate that Senate Rule 71 be suspended for the purpose of taking SR 3 up for adoption, which request was granted.

Under the provisions of Senate Rule 91, Senator Chappelle-Nadal was excused from voting on the adoption of the resolution.

Senator Kehoe moved that the above resolution be adopted and requested a roll call vote be taken. He was joined in his request by Senators Eigel, Libla, Munzlinger and Riddle.

On motion of Senator Kehoe, SR 3 was adopted by the following vote:

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following communications, regarding vetoed Senate Bills were received by the Secretary of State, reading of which was waived:

GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI
JEFFERSON CITY

TO THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE
99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
FIRST REGULAR SESSION
STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Bill No. 65 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 306.126, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to boat passengers.

I disapprove of Senate Bill No. 65. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Bill No. 65 allows anyone, including children, to ride or sit on the gunwales, decking over the bow, top of the seat back, or decking over the back of a motorboat without adequate guards or railing.

To paint a picture, this bill would allow two children to ride on an open bow of a speedboat traveling in excess of 40 mph on any body of water, including the Lake of the Ozarks.

For almost 50 years, Missouri law has required the public safety measure that this law would overturn. According to data collected by the United States Coast Guard, falls overboard are the leading cause of death on Missouri waterways, and open motorboats—by far—cause the most injuries and deaths. From 2005 to 2016, 57 deaths and 95 injuries attributable to falls overboard occurred on Missouri waterways. Missouri's neighboring states have also put in place this commonsense protection. See, e.g., 625 ILCS 45/5-21; Ark. Code Ann. § 27-101-202; 301 Ky. Admin. Regs. 6:030.

I respect the intentions of the sponsors of Senate Bill No. 65. Like them, I want to make Missouri a safe place for people to enjoy our many waterways and outdoor recreational activities. I also understand that one purpose of this bill may have been to exempt small boats that travel at low speeds on slow moving float streams from the provisions that prohibit passengers from riding on certain areas of the boat. The final language contained in this bill, however, may have unintended consequences.

Since this legislation passed, I have spoken with members of the Missouri State Highway Patrol responsible for public safety on Missouri's waterways. Last year, they issued more than 900 warnings or citations for the failure to comply with section 306.126, RSMo. The majority of the warnings or citations occurred at the Lake of the Ozarks, which the United States Coast Guard has consistently ranked as one of the most dangerous waterways in the country. Our State's law enforcement officers have expressed serious concerns that removing the common-sense safety measures contained in 306.126, RSMo. would directly lead to more injuries and deaths on Missouri's larger waterways where more boats operate in dangerous water conditions.

The legislature should have had—but did not have—the benefit of the testimony referenced above as this bill moved through the process, and I understand that many legislators were not made aware of these public safety concerns. I appreciate that on certain waterways we may want to revise current law, and I believe that we can do so in a way that enhances individual liberty and personal responsibility while still protecting public safety.

Going forward, I am committed to working with the sponsors of this legislation to achieve our mutual goals of enacting measures that provide common-sense protections for boaters, while at the same time maximizing enjoyment of our beautiful lakes and streams. I cannot, however, add my endorsement to this bill in its current form.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Bill No. 65 without my approval.

Sincerely,
Eric R. Greitens
Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE
99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
FIRST REGULAR SESSION
STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 105.478, 144.026, 210.845, 302.441, 400.9-501, 452.370, 452.747, 454.500, 456.1-103, 456.4-414, 456.4-420, 456.8-808, 475.024, 478.463, 479.020, 479.170, 479.353, 488.029, 488.2206, 488.2250, 488.5050, 513.430, 513.440, 514.040, 515.575, 515.635, 552.020, 557.035, 565.076, 565.091, 566.010, 575.280, 577.001, 577.010, 577.037, 577.060, and 595.045, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof sixty-eight new sections relating to judicial proceedings, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128. My reasons for disapproval are as follows.

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 started as a one-page, 35-word bill that removed the division designations from the Jackson County courts. The final bill is no longer short or simple. Quite the opposite; now it spans 77 pages and impacts unrelated issues in 68 statutory sections.¹ This final bill violates the Missouri Constitution and contradicts other legislation passed this session and already signed.

Multiple constitutional issues plague Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128. The issues begin with the assortment of subjects covered by the bill. The Missouri Constitution requires that “[n]o bill shall contain more than one subject which shall be clearly expressed in its title, . . .” Article III, Section 23. “The test to determine if a bill contains more than one subject is whether all provisions of the bill fairly relate to the same subject, have a natural connection therewith or are incidents or means to accomplish its purpose.” Hammerschmidt v. Boone County, 877 S.W.2d 98, 102 (Mo. banc 1994) (internal quotation omitted).

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128’s subject is “relating to judicial proceedings,” but many provisions are entirely non-judicial. Examples clutter the bill. For example, the bill prohibits the Department of Revenue from contacting taxpayers by mail about possible sales taxes owed. A different section authorizes conservation agents to write tickets for littering. Another portion requires the attorney general to report on claims that never reached the courthouse.² Elsewhere, the bill permits trustees to terminate up to $250,000 trusts and allows parents to transfer their parental rights by signing a notarized form. The list could go on.

These parts of the bill cannot relate to judicial proceedings when they do not involve judicial proceedings. As evidenced by these examples and others, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 violates the Missouri Constitution’s single subject requirement. Moreover, any futile attempt to argue that every issue in the bill relates to a single subject would implicate the Missouri Constitution’s clear title requirement, because the broad and amorphous “judicial proceedings” title does not give notice of the wide range of unrelated issues actually covered. See Home Builders Ass’n of Greater St. Louis v. State, 75 S.W.3d 267, 270 (Mo. banc 2012).

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 compounds these constitutional concerns by undermining other legislation. One of this session’s important tort reform successes, Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 31, limited a party’s damages evidence to the actual cost of medical care. See Section 490.715.5. Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 does the exact opposite by presuming that the bills for medical care are fair and reasonable. See Section 595.219.5. By allowing plaintiffs’ attorneys to argue conflicts with Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 31 or to seek potentially inconsistent outcomes, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 undercuts the hard-fought tort reform gains achieved this session.

² Monthly reports already published by the Attorney General prove this point. Through May 31, almost 100 claims had been settled in 2017 that were not subject to litigation.

Other inconsistencies exist. Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 34 helps protect the home addresses of victims of rape, human trafficking, and domestic violence. This bill contains a similar, but not identical, provision. Indeed, the language differs in a dozen different ways. I appreciate the good intentions of the legislators who worked on this important issue, but the inconsistency between the two bills can only negatively affect the protections provided by Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 34.

A separate and serious flaw in the bill concerns the fees charged by court reporters. The State of Missouri employs more than 140 court reporters, assigning one to each circuit judge. Each court reporter creates the courtroom's official transcript of proceedings. How much state-employed court reporters can charge is currently capped by statute. Any citizen or party seeking an official transcript of the proceedings must purchase the transcript from the court reporter. Since court reporters are the only official transcribers, they have a monopoly on courtroom transcripts.

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 would remove the price caps altogether.³ Under this bill, court reporters could charge any price they choose. A court reporter could, for example, charge $100 per page. This is problematic because court reporters have a monopoly on producing these transcripts.

This change would limit citizen's access to justice and also negatively impact Missouri taxpayers. The Office of Administration's Budget & Planning Division estimates that the State of Missouri paid court reporters more than $1 million for court transcripts last year. Removing the price caps would cost state government even more. For example, the Missouri State Public Defender predicts that Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 would cost its office at least $100,000 more per year, or the equivalent of two public defenders.

The myriad issues in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 raise serious constitutional, statutory, and policy concerns. Unfortunately, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 contained many provisions I support that were the product of the hard work of many legislators. I look forward to working with the legislature on many of these important policies next session, including improving the foster care system.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill No. 128 without my approval.

Sincerely,
Eric R. Greitens

Journal of the House

NINETY-NINTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
of the

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 2017

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable Jason Kander, Secretary of State.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Cathedral of St. Joseph, Jefferson City, Missouri.

Blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it. (Luke 11:28)

O Gracious and Merciful God, so great and everlasting, we come before You today with our hearts filled with genuine excitement, sincere love and true devotion. Now grant us in this the People's House a spirit of justice and goodwill in order that the important work of this day and session may be carried out in truth and charity.

We know that by our own strength we will falter and fail. We will have people who will praise and criticize our efforts and intentions, yet we have hope that You will never leave us or forget us in Your great shepherd's care. We seriously recommit ourselves to You and our goals now; show us the way to perfection and hope.

Bless these elected members, their families, staff and constituents in a special way this day in order that they may continue to reach for the highest, noblest and greatest benefits for our beloved State now and forever.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop F Color Guard presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" was performed by Alex Armstrong, son of Missouri State Highway Patrol Trooper Andrew Armstrong.

ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE JASON KANDER

I want to start by thanking all of you for putting yourselves out there to serve your local communities and our state. It is an awesome responsibility that I know you don't take lightly. So thank you on behalf of Missourians for stepping up to do this job. We're all counting on you to make our great state even better.

I am going to be brief today because I'm pretty sure the majority of you aren't going to like what I have to say. But Missourians did vote to give me a four-year term to serve as our state's chief election official, so I want to use one of my last days in office to make a point.

To my friends in the minority party, I apologize in advance but I'm going to be talking mainly to the majority party. Obviously this November Missourians voted to turn over our state government – just as they did at the national level. Now, both here and in Washington, in all likelihood my Republican friends will have four years to shape the state and the nation how they wish.

As a Missouri voter, I'd ask you not to overstep when it comes to voting rights. Missourians might have voted to allow voter photo identification requirements, but that doesn't mean they want it to be harder for eligible voters who have been legally voting for years to cast a ballot. Last year, when you passed a photo ID bill over my objection and over the Governor's veto, you made a deal with Democratic legislators. They ended their filibuster and, in exchange, you included some of their provisions meant to at least limit the number of eligible voters the new law might disenfranchise.

Since making that deal, many of you have made public statements saying that the bill didn't go far enough, and that you plan to revisit this issue in the future. Today is the FIRST day of session, the new law hasn't even taken effect, and yet some of you are already posturing to go back on your word and put forward brand new ways to make it harder for some Missourians to vote.

Before you go even further down this path, I hope you'll keep in mind what happened when more extreme proposals were adopted in other states.

What these laws across the country mandate is that eligible voters have to get a specific ID that they don't need for anything else just so they can vote. In America, we call that a poll tax. Whether it costs money, time or is impossible to comply with because someone doesn't have a birth certificate, it is just as wrong now as it was a half-century ago.

After Wisconsin passed an extreme voter photo ID requirement, voter turnout was lower than it had been in 20 years in November. Election officials across the state said turnout was down in high poverty areas where folks would have trouble getting the specific form of identification the law required. There were countless heartbreaking stories of eligible voters being turned away from the polls.

In North Carolina earlier this year, an 86-year-old woman tried to go to the DMV ahead of the election to get an identification she didn't need. But she had to get it just to vote, so she set out to do so. She was turned away because she couldn't prove her maiden name. She's an eligible voter. She had voted for years. But because of a shortsighted and extreme law, who knows if she got to vote in November. And think of the thousands of people who couldn't afford to take the time or spend the money necessary to even attempt to get an identification they'd only need to vote.

You know, we've already had this debate in this country. American heroes facing batons, dogs, and fire hoses marched across a bridge in Selma. Both here and on foreign shores, Americans of every color have given their lives for the idea that all of us get to vote.

And if that's not important to you, you should at least know this. In my four years as secretary of state, we've never had a reported case of voter impersonation fraud. In my predecessor's eight years, there was never a case. In her predecessor's four years, there was never a case. I could keep going, but here's the short version – there has never been a reported case of voter impersonation fraud in Missouri. Ever. And that's the only kind of fraud that photo ID requirements would prevent. I know some folks here and across the state try to pretend other elections issues would be solved by a new photo ID requirement, but that's just not true.

I know many of you here, and I know you didn't sign up for this to make it harder for your constituents to vote. The majority party here won a Senate seat and the elections for Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer and Attorney General under the current system – clearly it isn't working that badly for y'all. So please, even though you have the power, be mindful that your actions have consequences – if you aren't careful, YOUR friends, YOUR neighbors, YOUR constituents could lose their opportunity to vote.

I'm proud that during my time as Secretary of State we brought both political parties together to find ways to make it easier for eligible Missourians to vote. We brought together a bipartisan commission that recommended an early voting proposal, that the vice chairman of the elections committee actually filed. My office created a system to allow Missourians to fill out their voter registration form online for the first time. We worked with the legislature to pass a law to allow participants in the Safe at Home program to vote absentee. None of those ideas made voting less secure, but they did make it easier to vote. You all have the power to work on issues like those.

And I'm not saying we need to ignore elections problems, because they clearly exist. But that's why I implemented the first formal process in the Secretary of State's office to review and investigate any voting issue. I launched more formal elections investigations than any Secretary of State in Missouri history, and I did so without disenfranchising a single eligible voter. You can protect our elections without stopping eligible voters from voting, and I hope that's the path you'll choose.

I'm going to let you all go now, because I know I'm not the person you want to hear from and that none of this was what you wanted to hear. But as Secretary of State for a little longer, I feel like it's my responsibility to tell you that even though you have the power to make it harder for eligible Missourians to vote, you shouldn't.

And if you choose to go the way of Wisconsin or North Carolina, then I guess we'll see you in court.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER TODD RICHARDSON

Good afternoon. Welcome back.

Thank you, Judge Pritchett, for coming all the way from Poplar Bluff to administer the oath of office, and thank you to the Lady from St. Charles for the nomination. I would also like to thank you all for trusting me again with the privilege of serving as your Speaker. It is truly one of the greatest honors of my life. My family is here with me today with the exception of my daughter Briley, who is back home with grandma. Many of you know my parents, Mark and Kathy Richardson, my son Sawyer, and the only reason I can do this, my beautiful wife Amber Richardson.

To all of the guests we have with us today, I want to welcome you to the Missouri House. I want to specifically welcome and thank the legislative spouses with us today. Your sacrifice allows all of us to do what we do, and I want to thank you for it.

The opening day of a new General Assembly is always exciting because it brings new faces and new energy to this body. To our new members, I want you to take a look around. For over a hundred years an unbroken line of men and women just like yourselves have come to this chamber to make our state a better place. You are about to embark on an incredible journey of service. There will never be a time when you're more optimistic or excited about your service here than you are today. Remember the feeling you have today throughout your service here.

For those of you that were just elected to your final term in the House, I want to thank you for your service, your confidence in me and your friendship. We came in together, and it is an honor to have served this state with you for the last six years. While this may be the beginning of the end for us in this chamber, let's make sure we make the most out of this opportunity to leave Missouri better than we found it.

This address is different than the ones you've heard the past eight years. For the first time in Missouri's history, our great state is governed by a super-majority of Republicans and a Republican in the governor's mansion.

Now, I knew that would be a popular line with the majority party. But with this greater power comes even greater responsibility – a responsibility to make the legislative process deliberative. That means we must respect the voices and viewpoints of every Missourian, as represented by each and every one of you. During this session we are going to deal with big issues, issues that have the power to transform our state. Inevitably, we are going to disagree, both in our caucuses and across the aisle. This is the people's House and we are a body that is supposed to have spirited discussion, but those discussions and that disagreement should stay professional and mindful of our fellow legislators and the constituents we serve.

Today, I want to focus on where we are as a State, and even more importantly, the kind of state we can become. One area I know we can find common ground is in our love of the great state of Missouri. Missouri is home to an amazing, diverse people. We are blessed with incredible natural resources; industry-leading businesses, both big and small; and the most productive farmers and ranchers you will find anywhere in the world. We are a state of culture, literature, championship sports teams, and world class family entertainment.

Despite these and countless other great things about our state, we begin this legislative session at time when the pace of change is threatening to leave Missouri behind. Our population isn't growing as fast as the rest of the country. Wages, when adjusted for inflation, have been stagnant, and explosive growth in our welfare spending is indicative of rising poverty and decreased economic opportunity.

As some of you know, I turned 40 just a couple of weeks ago. Over the hill jokes aside, the world today is very different than it was in 1976. In 1976, if you needed a hotel room you would drive until you found a vacancy sign. You wouldn't have dreamed of pulling a computer out of your pocket and making a reservation. In 1976, a main street retailer didn't have to worry about global competition. There was of course no Twitter or Facebook. If you wanted to communicate with someone you actually had to see them in person, or at the least pick up a landline telephone.

This change isn't something we should lament or be afraid of, but it is something we must acknowledge. Today's world and, more importantly, today's economy are radically different than they were just a few decades ago. Just a few decades ago you could find shoe manufacturers in small towns across Missouri. Just a few decades ago, you could support a family on a couple hundred-acre farm. Just a few decades ago, you could expect to work for one company your entire life and retire with a gold watch and a nice pension. Today's economy is more mobile. States now must compete for jobs and workforce on a global level.

This change isn't slowing. In fact, it's accelerating. Everywhere you look, a changing economy puts some of our old ways of doing things in doubt. The states that have held on to the policies of a now bygone era have presided over an economic decline that's increasing poverty and devastating the middle class. Alternatively, states that are embracing change are growing with vibrant and dynamic economies.

I've sat in this chamber and listened often to governors and others speak about programs and insist that "the legislature, the government, is creating jobs." Let's get it straight. Government does not create jobs. Real people do. Government's role is to lay a stable foundation upon which entrepreneurs and hard-working Missourians can do the job-creating.

Competing with other states and other countries for the jobs of today requires a workforce, an education system, a legal framework, and labor policies that are capable of providing a strong, stable, and steady foundation for a growing economy.

First, let's talk about what should be easy – removing the unnecessary government regulations that stifle innovation and job creation. I say should be easy, because the beneficiaries of the status quo will fight any change, no matter how small, no matter how common in other states, and no matter how many jobs it will create.

I have tasked two house committees, Government Efficiency and Professional Registration & Licensing, with examining the state's regulation and licensure requirements and crafting legislation to relieve the regulatory burden on businesses in our state.

Two prime examples: ride-sharing and lodging. Uber, Lyft and others are changing the way people travel. Companies like HomeAway and AirBnB are revolutionizing the lodging industry, nearly everywhere but here. Here they are met with regulators trying to keep them from operating. It is past time that Missouri had statewide frameworks for disruptive technologies and allowed private enterprise to function in a free market.

Reforming our state's regulatory environment alone will not be enough. We must also create the kind of environment that makes Missouri an attractive place to do business. States that are embracing 21st century labor and tort reforms are growing faster than states that do not.

Missouri is now in the minority nationally and one of the last states in the region that doesn't allow workers to choose for themselves whether they want to join a labor union. If employees want to join they should be able to join, but no one should be forced to join an organization against their will.

According the Bureau of Labor Statistics, since becoming a right-to-work state in 2012, Michigan has added 58,000 manufacturing jobs, while over the last two years Missouri has lost about 1,200 manufacturing jobs. And what's more, Michigan's average weekly wage isn't declining; it is growing at almost twice the rate of Missouri's.

Tomorrow, on the first day allowed, I will refer right-to-work to committee and I would ask the chairwoman of the economic development committee to get that legislation to the floor as soon as possible. To build a more stable foundation, to grow jobs, to increase wages, we will put right-to-work legislation on the governor's desk and he will sign it.

The voters have spoken, our majorities campaigned on it, and the governor's race was fought over it, Missouri should and will soon be a right-to-work state.

We must also ensure our court system is fair to all litigants. Unfortunately, St. Louis was just rated the worst judicial jurisdiction in the country. This is not a place where we want to be ranked number one. Let's not just pick on St. Louis. Our state's policies have helped make it a national magnet for massive litigation. Early in session it is my intention to get major pieces of tort reform to the floor and over to the senate for consideration. Our court system needs to be fair to both plaintiffs and defendants. We must make Missouri a place where fear of needless litigation is not a disincentive to job creation.

But, no matter what we do in other areas, to ensure Missouri remains a state of opportunity, we must create an education system for the 21st century. We are going to embrace what is working and continue to invest in the thousands of educators across this state that are tasked with the incredible responsibility of teaching our youth. But we must also be mindful of the areas where we are falling short and we must be willing to embrace innovation. During this session, we will work to increase access to high performing charter schools. We will work to expand course offerings through virtual education. And we will work to make education savings accounts available to parents and students most in need. These changes should not be about administrators or school buildings, but only about creating opportunities for a generation of young Missourians who have been left behind.

I don't think the blueprint for economic success is that complicated: give kids access to a world class education and make sure there is a job available in a thriving private sector without government overreach.

I started today by talking about the state that we can be. Achieving that vision will require not only a transformation of our economy, but also continued work to make government more efficient and to protect the values that matter most to Missourians.

Missouri will continue to be a place that has a steadfast culture of life. Missouri will continue to be a place where fundamental constitutional rights are protected. Missouri will continue to be a place where we live within our means and hold the line on taxes.

Missourians also want a government they can trust and believe in. Last year we passed the first meaningful ethics reform in modern Missouri history, and we must continue the job we started. I said at the end of last session the House will pass a ban on lobbyists providing gifts to elected officials and we will fulfill this commitment. A gift ban will be the first bill out of this House.

The work we do here will be difficult, and at times will seem impossible, but the work we do here matters to real people.

It matters to that middle-class family in Jefferson County that is concerned that the promise of economic opportunity is gone.

It matters to the mother in St. Louis who can't even begin to dream about her children's future because she's worried about whether they are going to get home safe from school.

It matters to that second grader in Poplar Bluff whose parents want nothing less for their children than the boundless opportunity of a dynamic, vibrant free market.

What we do matters, and this is our time to do our part to ensure that the promise of opportunity endures.

This is our time to restore that belief and faith that everyone has the opportunity to build a great life for themselves.

The time for half measures and solutions around the edges is over. This is the time for bold action.

Thank you and may God bless the great state of Missouri.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER PRO TEM

Representative Roeber nominated Representative Elijah Haahr as Speaker Pro Tem of the House.

Representative Shaul seconded the nomination.

Representative Cierpiot moved that nominations cease and Representative Haahr be elected by acclamation.

Which motion was adopted.

The following committee was appointed to escort Representative Haahr to the dais: Representatives Alferman, Bondon, Dogan, Fitzwater (49), Kolkmeier, Mathews, Miller, Rhoads, Vescovo, Carpenter, Quade and Razer.

Representative Haahr subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered by the Honorable Mark A. Powell, Judge of the 31st Judicial Circuit Court of Missouri.

Speaker Pro Tem Haahr assumed the Chair.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM ELIJAH HAAHR

They say not to get emotional up here so I won't. I'll leave that to my dad, who is here today.

I'm grateful towards my fellow House members for your support and trust in electing me as your Speaker Pro Tem.

I'm filled with excitement as we begin session with a historic opportunity to work with our Governor-elect Eric Greitens to promote our midwestern values.

And I'm deeply thankful to my family, who is here today and who, like all of our families, has sacrificed so much so that we are able to do this important work. I am joined by my parents and my wife Amanda. My four children are not joining us today, though I am sure that the two-year-old twins would happily take over the dais.

We have an immeasurably important task laid out before us. Over the next 5 months, we must make Missouri a better place to live, work and learn.

As the Speaker said, we cannot stand up here and say we are going to create jobs for the state because that is not and cannot be the role of government. Instead, our charge is to remove the barriers that our government has built to allow private industries to grow unimpeded.

We should encourage our small businesses and budding entrepreneurs.

We must unleash technological advancements that will make the lives of our citizens easier and better.

And we will spur innovation by encouraging free market competition.

As we work to create this change, it is important we not lose sight of what makes Missouri so great.

We have a blossoming startup industry in St. Louis, the fastest growing economy in Springfield, and a thriving and vibrant Kansas City.

We have world class universities in Kirksville and Springfield, in Columbia, St. Joseph and Cape Girardeau.

And we boast a thriving tourism industry in Branson, beautiful wineries in Hermann, and some of the best farmers in the world.

Now over the next 5 months as we discuss our goals, today we all agree on them: safer streets, better schools, and more jobs for our citizens.

What we disagree on is how to get there. But I've learned that we should not shy away from these debates. We should encourage them. To make ourselves stronger. To create the best possible policies for our state and our citizens.

At times the work we do here will be trying. I hope most of the time it will be rewarding. But we must make sure that every time we step foot in this building and on this floor that we are doing the very best we can to make Missouri a better place for the folks back at home.

I'd like to finish with the words of John Quincy Adams: "If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader."

I hope together we can lead Missouri to a great future.

And I am looking forward to working with each one of you this session to ensure that happens.

Thank you.

Speaker Richardson resumed the Chair.

Pursuant to Section 9.141, RSMo, the United States Bill of Rights was read by Marilyn Seaton, Office of the Assistant Chief Clerk.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Amaya Corlew and Eliana Corlew.

If it has been determined by the regular standing committee that such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and meets all consent requirements, the regular standing committee shall report the bill to the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure as "Do Pass - Consent". The ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure may decide by a majority affirmative vote of those present whether to place the bill on the appropriate consent calendar.

A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

~~[(d)]~~ (4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature. The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend his or her own amendment. Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror being recognized for a motion on such amendment.

~~[(b)]~~ (2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. ~~[(f)]~~ (6) Appropriations Bills. ~~[(a)]~~ (a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.

~~[2-]~~ (b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

~~[3-]~~ (c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

~~[4-]~~ (d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

~~[5-]~~ (e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule ~~[49(a)]~~ 49(1).

The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling motion before the vote on perfection is taken. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

Emergency Clauses

The following proclamation was received from His Excellency, Governor Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27, authorizes the Governor to control the rate at which any appropriation is expended by allotment and, further, authorizes the Governor to reduce the expenditures of the state or any of its agencies below their appropriations whenever the actual revenues are less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the power to control the rate of expenditure established in Article IV, Section 27, three percent of each appropriation, with the exception of amounts for personal service to pay salaries fixed by law, shall be set aside pursuant to section 33.290, RSMo, as a reserve fund and not subject to expenditure except with the approval of the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.2, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “whenever the rate at which any appropriation shall be expended is not equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, due to a variety of factors, including the three percent reserve that is legally required by section 33.290, RSMo, the rate at which most appropriations are expended is not in “equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.3, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “when the governor reduces one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based.”

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27, do hereby make the following notification to the Ninety-Eighth General Assembly of the State of Missouri:

I hereby notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.2 of the Missouri Constitution, that, through the first quarter of fiscal year 2017, the rate of expenditure for each of the appropriation lines in the fiscal year 2017 budget attached as Exhibit A is not in equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation.

I further notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.3 of the Missouri Constitution, that, through the first quarter of fiscal year 2017, I have taken no action to permanently reduce one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based in the fiscal year 2017 budget.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri, in the City of Jefferson, on this 9th day of November, 2016.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised. (Psalm 113:3)

Almighty God, our loving Heavenly Father, who is covering the world with beauty and throwing a mantle of white across the shoulders of the hills, by whose law the planets keep their courses, and by whose creative thought life has risen on this planet, make us conscious of Your presence and help us to be patient and strong in You.

May the thoughts of our minds be channels for Your way. May the dreams in our hearts fulfill Your purposes for our State and for our citizens. May the work of our hands weed out injustice and prejudice and cultivate the seeds that flower into justice for all and peace in our world. By Your spirit, may we have courage enough to be pioneers in unity, sustaining the hands and hearts of all who seek to end ignorance and to bring peace to the hearts of all people.

To this end, guide our Speaker, the Members of this House of Representatives and all who labor with them. Ennoble their lives by the sense of Your presence that they may be, for this generation, a channel of Your peace through which Your kingdom may come and Your will be done on earth.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

OATH OF OFFICE

Representatives-elect Holly Rehder and Gina Mitten advanced to the bar and subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered by the Honorable Todd Richardson, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRD DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let not mercy and truth forsake thee; bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart. (Proverbs 3:3)

O God, Almighty and Eternal, supreme ruler of the World, without whom no state can be great, no people can be good, make us mindful of Your presence, eager to do Your will, and willing to walk in Your paths.

May the light of Your spirit illuminate our spirits that we may see the truth clearly, follow it courageously, and live with it confidently, knowing that it is the truth which makes and keeps us free.

Guide our new Governor and all who advise him that out of endless meetings may come plans for ending of strife and procedures for ushering in prosperity. So may it be for Your glory and for the good of our Show-Me State.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

OATH OF OFFICE

Representative-elect Noel Shull advanced to the bar and subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered by the Honorable Todd Richardson, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF ERIC R. GREITENS 56TH GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI January 9, 2017

Thank you Justice Breckenridge.

And thank you President Pro Tem Richard and Speaker Richardson, and my fellow citizens.

Today, we gather to take part in our republic's most revered ritual: the peaceful transfer of power.

Governor Nixon, you—and your team—have been gracious during this transition, and in doing so, have honored our system of government and upheld its finest traditions. We thank you.

I come before you today conscious of the fact that so many have given so much to this state—none more so than the families of our fallen. Those who have fallen fighting our wars, enforcing our laws, fighting our fires.

I know these men and women; I have served with them. I know the pride of carrying our nation's flag abroad—and I have felt the grief of burying too many friends beneath that flag at home.

Their families sit with us today as a testament, not to loss—though their loss has been great—but to love, the tremendous love that so many have for our country, for our state, for our fellow citizens.

We hope that you feel our state's gratitude. Your loved ones gave their lives—and in their sacrifice, they made possible the democratic renewal we solemnly mark today.

We have inherited their legacy. We have also inherited an immense responsibility: to make the lives we live worthy of the lives we have lost.

The people have spoken; a new direction has been decided.

For decades, Missourians have talked about change. Now it's time to fight for that change.

No one imagines that all of these battles will be won overnight—or over four years, or even eight. But we begin today.

Our state's world famous motto, "Show me," reminds us that Missourians don't much value big talk.

Our state's great history reminds us that Missourians have always understood that big achievements demand hard work.

"Show me" doesn't mean "Give me." It means "prove it can be done, and we will do it."

It was from Missouri that the West was won—and here was laid the first mile of the interstates that joined America in ever closer union.

In Missouri, we built the steamships that plied the Mississippi.

It was people of Missouri who believed that a human being could fly across the Atlantic Ocean alone.

And it was Missourians who built the capsule in which an American first orbited the earth.

That is who we were. It remains who we are.

This state in the heart of America has proven that the worst in our history can be overcome by the best in our people.

It was here that a slave named Dred Scott was told by the United States Supreme Court that a black man had no rights that a white man need respect—and it was a son of Missouri, a poet named Langston Hughes, who delivered the best answer to Dred Scott's unjust judges, when he said: "I, too, am America."

In that same spirit, we are all Missouri.

This does not mean we will agree on everything. In fact, we should not agree on everything.

Proverbs reminds us, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

The Lord put each of us here for a purpose. Sometimes the purpose of our opponents is to be our teachers.

There are big fights ahead for big things, and our new administration won't back down because of political pressure or political correctness.

Yet even as we fight for our convictions, we resolve that the greatest conviction, is to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Our ears will be open to reason, and our eyes alert to new facts.

We will go to work with humble hearts, and we will extend our hand in friendship to all those who will take it, but...

To those who would commit violence against a fellow citizen...

To those who would abuse a child...

To those who would assault a member of law enforcement...

To those who would steal from the needy...

I assure them this: they will feel the might, strength, and resolution of the firm fist of justice.

As Governor, I will always remember why you sent me here and what you expect from me. I will be loyal to your needs and priorities—not to those who posture or pay for influence.

This is the people's house. And to those who would trouble this house for their own selfish and sinful gain, hear me now: I answer to the people. I come as an outsider, to do the people's work.

And I know that the people do not expect miracles, but they do expect results—and we will deliver.

Yet no matter how well we do in government, there is a limit to what government can do well.

One of the worst lies of our present politics is the false promise that government can fix any problem and find every answer.

That never has been—and never will be—part of America's promise to its people.

But together, our people can fulfill America's oldest and best promises.

An administration can work on schools and invest in education. But I know—not only as your Governor, but as a father—that a child learns more than her letters when she falls fast asleep to the soft sounds of a parent reading to her.

An administration can do its part to empower business leaders to do good and to dare greatly — but the doing and daring is up to you.

An administration can render a check. But no amount of money given by a government can ever provide the meaning, strength, and dignity that comes from a good-paying job.

An administration can commit resources to serve those in need. But bureaucracy is the wrong place to look if you're seeking compassion. Caring comes from individual people, inspired by the ancient ideal laid down in Isaiah: "If you tend to the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed, then your light will rise in the darkness, and your night will become like the noonday."

An administration can invest in police and law enforcement. But the most important anti-crime program ever known is a dad playing ball with his son—and setting his boy an example of how a strong man cherishes women, protects the young, and honors the old.

Everywhere Sheena and I visit in this great state, we ask people to pray for us. I can feel the power of those prayers around me today.

I asked you to fight alongside me. You have—I know you will.

And now, gratefully accepting the responsibility that you have entrusted to me, let's get to work.

God bless the people of Missouri. God bless you all.

The 135th Army National Guard Band performed "America the Beautiful".

The Benediction was given by Rabbi James M. Bennett.

The Joint Session was dissolved by President Pro Tem Richard.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let us follow after the things which make for peace. (Romans 14:19)

Eternal God, Our Father, in whom our parents and grandparents trusted and were never let down, bless us this day as we bow before You in loving memory of those who laid down their lives for our country.

We thank You for men and women in time past who gave themselves that we might have freedom in our State, and we are grateful for those in time present who are giving themselves that liberty may continue to live in our land and in the world.

That these may not have lived and died in vain we pray You to unite our people in one great purpose to preserve the principles of freedom, justice, and goodwill, and by Your grace may we learn to live together in the spirit of true unity.

Pour out Your spirit upon us in such measure that we may turn from division to peace, from poverty to plenty, and from hate to love, through Your power and love.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kameron Judd, Jacob Simpson, David Cozort, and Jillian Rhoads.

The Journal of the third day was approved as printed by the following vote:

~~[(b)]~~ (2) No bill shall be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendars unless it is federally mandated, immediate in nature, and reduces revenues or savings if not enacted. A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline by which the state must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the state fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute or regulation mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "Do Pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether ~~[or not]~~ to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported "Do Pass" by a regular standing committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, ~~[and the appropriate select standing committee concurs therein,]~~ the chair of the ~~[appropriate select standing]~~ committee shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute or regulation mandating State action. If the Speaker concurs with the ~~[committees]~~ committee that the bill complies with the requirements of this rule, he or she shall advise the Chief Clerk to place same on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute or regulation that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Revision Bills

Rule 42. Any bill denominated as a revision bill by the appropriate committee shall contain only that subject matter approved by the committee on legislative research, and additional material may not be amended thereto, unless needed as a technical correction.

Motion To Place On Calendar

Rule 43. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the sponsor or handler of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar ~~[must]~~ shall be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within such time, the bill shall lie on the table. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall stand automatically referred to ~~[the Select Standing]~~ a Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Timing of Placement on Calendar

Rule 44. No House bill shall be taken up for consideration by the House unless it has been upon the calendar for at least one legislative day.

Bills Laid Over Informally

Rule 45. When a bill is reached, in its order, to be perfected and printed, or to be ~~[agreed to and read a third time and placed upon its final passage]~~ third read and finally passed, it may, upon the request of the Majority Floor Leader~~[-]~~ or the sponsor or handler thereof~~[-]~~ if a House Bill, ~~[(or upon the request of its handler in the House[-])]~~ if a Senate Bill~~[-]~~, hold its place on the calendar~~[-]~~ or be laid over informally~~[-]~~ and thereafter be called up at any time when otherwise in order.

To Appear In Order

Rule 46. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day~~[-]~~ shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Ten Day Rule

Rule 47. If a bill laid over informally is not taken up for further consideration within ten legislative days after being laid over, it shall lie on the table and be dropped from the calendar of the House without further action of the House.

Consent Calendar

Rule 48. ~~[(a)]~~ (1) Which Bills May Be Placed on the Consent Calendar. Each regular standing committee, after a favorable vote on a bill, may further determine by a second and affirmative vote of every member present whether or not such bill is of a noncontroversial nature. Any bill which increases net expenditures of the state, reduces net revenue of the state, or creates or expands a penalty provision~~[-]~~ shall not be considered by the committee for consent; provided however, any bill which specifically authorizes an easement or right-of-way involving state property may be considered by the committee for placement on the Consent Calendar. If it has been determined by the regular standing committee that such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and meets all consent requirements, the regular standing committee shall report the bill to the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure as "Do Pass - Consent". The ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure may decide by a majority affirmative vote of those present whether to place the bill on the appropriate consent calendar.

~~[(b)]~~ (2) Procedure on House Bills. If the regular standing committee shall so determine, the appropriate committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the ~~[""]~~House Consent Calendar for Perfection~~[""]~~. Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure. Any bill reported by the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection ~~[shall]~~ may be placed on that calendar ~~[and]~~ if the Speaker concurs with the recommendation. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. After such bill has remained on the ~~[""]~~House Consent Calendar for Perfection~~[""]~~ for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the ~~[""]~~House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage~~[""]~~ without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

~~[(c)]~~ (3) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes, and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

~~[(d)]~~ (4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the ~~[Select Standing]~~ Committee on ~~[Rules]~~ Consent and House Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

~~[(f)]~~ (6) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate, in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 49. ~~[(a)]~~ (1) In Writing and Distributed in Advance. Proposed amendments ~~[must]~~ shall be reduced to writing. Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been either transmitted electronically and made available on each member's chamber laptop computer and a copy in paper form placed on the desk of the Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader or placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments. The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature. The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend his or her own amendment. Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror being recognized for a motion on such amendment.

~~[(b)]~~ (2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House. If a proposed amendment has been defeated, the same amendment shall not be proposed again. An amendment identical to one previously decided on the same bill is not in order, except for amendments to appropriations bills.

~~[(c)]~~ (3) Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House Committee Substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.

~~[(d)]~~ (4) House Substitute. No House Substitute will be in order. A House Substitute is an amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is effectually replacing the underlying bill or committee substitute.

~~[(e)]~~ (5) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills-Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

~~[(f)]~~ (6) Appropriations Bills. ~~[(a)]~~ (a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.

~~[(2)]~~ (b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

~~[(3)]~~ (c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

~~[(4)]~~ (d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

~~[(5)]~~ (e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule ~~[49(a)]~~ 49(1).

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 50. When a ~~[select-standing]~~ committee recommends a substitute for a bill, the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 52. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling motion before the vote on perfection is taken. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

Emergency Clauses

Rule 53. Any House bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being perfected or any Senate bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being third read and passed to contain an emergency clause shall be automatically referred to the Committee on Fiscal Review to consider whether the emergency clause is appropriate.

Motion for Passage

Rule ~~[57:]~~ 58. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as truly perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. When the bill is taken up in its order, the question shall then be: "Shall the bill be third read and passed?". It shall require a constitutional majority to sustain the question.

Course After Passage

Rule ~~[58:]~~ 59. When a bill or joint or concurrent resolution passes the House, it shall be certified by the Chief Clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

Perfecting Amendments on Bills Returned From the Senate

Rule ~~[59:]~~ 60. No bill or joint or concurrent resolution that has been returned from the Senate may be further amended without placing the bill in conference, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order in the house of origin when the bill is taken up for final passage as amended by the other house. The perfecting amendment may be directed to the bill or to amendments to the bill. If a perfecting amendment is adopted, the bill as finally passed with the perfecting amendment shall be returned to the other house for its concurrence in the perfecting amendment.

Conference Reports

Rule ~~[60-(a)]~~ 61. (1) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five conferees from each house. No conference report shall be submitted to either house unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than three conferees from the House and two conferees from the Senate signing the report.

~~[(b)]~~ (2) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is referred to the Regular Standing Committee on Fiscal Review, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill, or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

~~[(d)]~~ (4) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees ~~[must]~~ shall confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

Rule ~~[64:]~~ 62. All joint and concurrent resolutions designed to submit to the qualified voters of the state amendments to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, to be voted upon by such voters, shall be read on three separate days, and shall be reported upon by the committee of the House, and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill. Rule ~~[76.]~~ 77. Any member may move the previous question. The motion shall be restated by the Speaker in this form: "Shall the question under immediate consideration be now put?". It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

God be merciful unto us and bless us; and cause His face to shine upon us. (Psalm 67:1)

O God, who is the bright sun of the universe sending Your light on all Your creation, shine upon our hearts and minds as we pray this moment, driving away the darkness of evil and enabling us to walk without stumbling, to live without complicating our lives or the lives of others, and to serve our citizens without fear and with fidelity.

Consecrate with Your presence the way our feet may walk, the way our minds may think, and the way our hearts may feel, that our work may be well done and our lives be filled with the glory of Your spirit.

Bless our State with the grace of Your favor, our leaders with the greatness of Your wisdom, and our people with the goodness of Your love.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord; that it may be well with thee. (Deuteronomy 6: 18)

Ancient and Eternal God, with open hearts we pause at the start of the day's duties to lift our spirits to You, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hidden. Cleanse our hearts by the inspiration of Your Holy Spirit that we may love You more perfectly, serve our constituents more fully, and lead our families more diligently.

During these winter days let us not add to the problems we face by our own fear and our selfish endeavors, rather help us to become part of the solution by our courage and our unselfish efforts to lead our State to wider areas of understanding, tolerance, and friendliness.

Direct the leaders of our State, our beloved Speaker, and all the Members of this House of Representatives. Grant to them wisdom and strength that, by upholding what is right, and standing by what is true, they may follow Your holy will and fulfill Your purposes for humanity today and forever.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The ways of the Lord are right and the just shall walk in them. (Hosea 14:9)

As we have honored the life and ministry of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and reflected on his message of racial harmony and dealt with the ice storm, we now pray.

O Lord, whose spirit supports us in every endeavor and whose strength sustains us as we struggle for the good of our fellow citizens, bless us with a realization of Your presence as we begin another week, and enable us to walk in the way of Your commandments and to live in the spirit of political and racial unity.

You have brought forth on this land a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the good of all men and women. Help us to maintain our freedoms in the spirit of justice and peace. Save our state from any discord and violence. Guide our citizens that they may seek the path that produces more unity and promotes greater mutual understanding.

Strengthen our new governor that he may walk with You as he makes decisions and carries responsibilities. Together may we and our people endeavor by honorable service and humble spirits to bring prosperity to our cities and to our farms.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as printed.

And thank you to Sheena, my beautiful wife, and Missouri's First Lady.

We meet tonight in the people's chamber.

This is the seat of our republic—where the people's will should be done.

Many of you have been good keepers of the public's trust. Your families have sacrificed so that you can serve the people, and I appreciate you and your families.

But too many good, strong public servants have come here only to see the will of the people obstructed and corrupted by insiders and lobbyists.

This is a big place, with a powerful purpose, and it has too often been consumed by small goals and petty politics.

So tonight, I come bearing a simple message from the people of Missouri: They want a government that fights for them, and I come as an outsider ready to lead that fight.

Last week, I signed an executive order banning gifts from lobbyists to state employees of the executive branch.

I think all elected officials should do the same. And I thank Speaker Richardson, President Richard, Senator Kehoe, Representative Cierpiot, and other leaders in this room for their commitment to passing a ban on gifts from lobbyists.

In our first executive order, we also slammed shut the revolving door between employees of the Governor's office and lobbyists. The people in my office come to work knowing they will never be able to lobby our office.

I urge the legislature to do the same. During the campaign, we came up with a simple proposal that the people supported. If you've been in a legislative office for one year, and you decide you want to become a lobbyist, you have to wait one year. If you've been in office for two years, then you have to wait two years—and so on.

This is a simple, sensible proposal, and I'm committed to working with you to close the revolving door.

I also call on this legislature to put on the ballot term limits for every statewide officeholder. I know that the people of Missouri will vote for term limits, and people are counting on us to put an end to politics as a lifelong profession.

This is the people's government, and these basic measures will begin to restore our people's trust in their government.

I remember being out one morning meeting folks and shaking hands at a diner in Portageville.

It was 5 AM, and it was going to be a hot day—but people were up. They were ready to work.

In county after county—in Pemiscot County, and in Dunklin County, and in Mississippi County—I spoke to people who want to work, who want a job, who want to provide for their families.

They are sick of seeing their friends have to get in a truck and drive across state lines for work. But they look over the border—and see opportunity.

They see other Midwestern states like Michigan and Indiana that are leading the nation in new factory job growth.

Since 2009, the country has had 10% private sector job growth. If we had grown just as fast as the rest of the country since '09, we would have 120,000 more jobs in Missouri today.

And if income in Missouri had risen at the same rate as the rest of the country, the average Missouri family would be making $2,400 more every year. Instead, we've fallen behind.

The people have sent us a message: We must do everything in our power to put people back to work in good, high-paying jobs.

That's why we must join 27 other states and sign Right to Work.

That's why we must do away with expensive Project Labor Agreements that drive up the costs of construction and slow down important projects in our communities.

We must repeal our state's version of the Davis-Bacon Act, which drives up the cost of important construction work that needs to get done. It hurts rural workers. It sets back rural families.

I've heard from small-town Mayors and County Commissioners who say that they are ready to build, to grow—but they need these reforms.

Our cities see the negative impact, too. People are tired of losing new jobs to Indianapolis, Nashville, or Des Moines. We must stay competitive.

We will eliminate these ineffective and outdated laws. And we will tap into the ingenuity and hard work of Missourians, because Missourians are ready to work.

There's another thing holding back jobs.

A report released about a month ago looked at every state, every city, and every county in the United States. And that report named St. Louis, Missouri the worst judicial hellhole in America.

This isn't a pretty picture. Here's what's happening: Out of state lawyers are suing businesses on behalf of out of state clients in Missouri's courts.

We're the place where the nastiest lawyers come to do work so dirty, and engage in lawsuits so murky, they wouldn't pass muster anywhere else.

What does this do? It scares away businesses. It means fewer jobs and smaller paychecks.

The companies intimidated by this shady practice have customers here. They could make even more money here. But they're afraid to expand their business here.

Trial lawyers can sue people in the state of Missouri, and because of how broken the system is, if they win just one dollar for their client, they still get paid huge legal fees.

For too long in this state, trial lawyers have picked our people's pockets. It's time to do different.

There are some common sense changes we can make to fix this. We need to move to the Daubert standard for expert witness testimony. Right now, our standards are far too low. By moving to the Daubert standard, we'd be adopting the same standards used by the federal government and 39 other states.

We need to change our joinder and venue rules to end these out of state lawsuits. And we must end frivolous lawsuits by reforming the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act.

Our judicial system is broken, and the trial lawyers who have broken it, well, their time is up.

The people need us to fight for the jobs that lawyers are forcing out of our state. As Governor, I'm not afraid to take on the trial lawyers of either party. I'm here to fight for the people of both parties.

Another thing holding back jobs: burdensome regulations...

Last week, I signed an executive order putting a freeze on all new regulations and rulemaking. Let me tell you why.

There were two women in Missouri who had grown up braiding the hair of their family and friends and figured they could make a business of it.

Then they looked up what they'd need to do to become a hair braider in Missouri, and they were shocked.

Missouri's government mandates 1,500 hours of expensive training for a hair braiding license. That's 30 hours per week of training for almost a full year...to braid hair.

We need to end frivolous regulations like these so that our people can start their own businesses and create jobs.

Over the course of the last 17 years, Missouri has issued over 40,000 pages of new regulations. If you laid those pieces of paper end to end, that's over 5 miles of new regulations.

These regulations, and those that come down from Washington, cost people money.

But there's a hidden cost, too. All of this regulation takes the joy out of running a business, running a farm, starting something new.

Farmers want to farm—not be lawyers and accountants. Business people want to build great things—not fill out endless paperwork.

And there's another problem: Some rules are necessary to protect health and safety. But when government spends time enforcing frivolous regulations, important things like safe water and safe travel don't get the time and attention they deserve.

I have ordered a complete review of every regulation in the state of Missouri. We're going to reduce unnecessary and outdated regulations so that we can get back to creating good, quality, high-paying jobs...

We need an effective government that serves the people and makes it easy to do business.

If you want to start or grow a business in the state of Missouri and hire more people with good jobs, I will be your friend and ally. I want the state of Missouri to work for you. To make it easy for you.

Right now, getting permits takes too long. People stand in too many lines for too many hours for too many basic services.

Part of the reason for this is that our government is running on too many broken and outdated systems that make it too hard to serve the people.

Some of our government's systems are still programmed using COBOL, a computer language developed in 1959.

We need a modern government that allows people to do more on-line instead of making them wait in line.

We also need to remember that many essential government services, whether it's law enforcement, transportation, or education, are delivered by people.

We need to support the hard-working employees in our government who do important public service. We have people at the State Emergency Management Agency, MoDOT and the Missouri State Highway Patrol who worked non-stop from last Wednesday, straight through the Chiefs game, to make sure our state weathered this ice storm.

And our best state employees are being hurt by a big bloated bureaucracy. In Indiana, they have 46 state employees per 10,000 people in their state. In Illinois, they have 47 state employees for every 10,000 people. In Ohio, they have 55.

And in Missouri? We have 92 employees for every 10,000 people in our state.

Because of this, we are 50th out of 50 in state employee pay. We need to change that. Our government employees do important work—often really important, life-saving work. We need to reward the greatest in government service with better pay.

This is how a good business would run. We'd pay and promote our best people and make sure they know they are valued. And we'd have a government focused on doing fewer things but doing them well. That's how we'll be able to pay our star performers what they deserve.

That's one of the reasons why I'm committed to civil service reform, with a focus on making a smaller government that works better for all of our people and will make Missouri a better place to do business.

And there's another thing that's holding back jobs: our burdensome, complex, and unfair tax credit system.

All of you know how to run a family budget.

First, you pay down your credit card debt. Then, put some money away in a rainy day fund. Then, you budget for your most important needs.

Our constitution is wise. It follows that same advice. Our constitution lays out where our tax money should go.

First, it's supposed to pay off the debt. Then, it's supposed to fund our priorities.

There's a lot of wisdom there.

But, unfortunately, the people who get paid first today are insiders and lobbyists who have rigged the system to get special interest tax credits.

Insiders are gaming this system. Since 2010, almost $2 billion has been promised to special interests. The people taking the money swore that it was going to create jobs, but their performance hasn't lived up to their promises.

If special interest tax credits made for a prosperous economy, Missouri would be thriving.

What our people want is a tax structure that is simple, fair to everyone, and low.

But instead we have a tax structure that is complex, corrupt, and high.

Together, with a team of outsiders and legislators, we are going to do a thorough, end-to-end audit of our tax credit system—and create a tax code that works not to benefit privileged insiders, but instead is fair to all.

I ask all of you—all of you—to work with me. Our state can create more jobs by doing the right thing here.

And another thing that's holding back jobs is our broken welfare system.

For almost ten years, I worked with veterans who had been let down by the VA.

My wife Sheena and I would have these strong men and women around our dinner table.

And we'd hear over and over again about how the system failed these men and women.

When they came back from war, the VA told them, "If you're 60% disabled, we'll pay you as if you're 100% disabled as long as you don't work..."

So what do you think happened? People didn't work.

And not having a job sapped their spirits. The government handed them checks and pills. And instead of building new lives here at home, too many got stuck. They became trapped in lives of dependency and depression.

They lost their sense of dignity. And what's worse, it also affected their children and their families.

Missouri's system of welfare too often does the same to our people.

We must find a way to reform it—and replace it with a system that builds lives of self-reliance, dignity, and meaning.

But that's not the system we have now.

Recently, a non-partisan think tank took a close look at the welfare system in each state.

Here's how things work in Missouri:

Let's say you're a single mom working 30 hours a week, making $12.25 an hour. You're working as hard as you can, taking care of your kid and trying to raise him right.

One day, your boss comes to you and offers you a $5 an hour raise. That should add up to about $7,500 to $8,000 more a year.

But here's what happens in Missouri: If you take the raise, you'd lose over $700 a year in food stamps and $800 in housing subsidies.

You lose $4,700 in childcare subsidies, and $1,200 in the earned income tax credit. And you'd pay an extra $800 in taxes.

That $8,000 raise cost you over $8,200. That hard-working single mom is essentially robbed of her raise.

We need to build a system based on two simple principles:

- 1) It should always, always, always pay more to work in the state of Missouri.
- 2) If your boss gives you a raise, you should make more money.

I will work with all of you to build a system that lifts people out poverty and into the middle class, one based on hard work and personal responsibility.

Everywhere I went in the state of Missouri, people talked to me about the need for more jobs and higher pay.

They also talked about the need for safer streets.

Despite the failures of past politicians, the vast majority of the people in this state know, honor, and respect the men and women of law enforcement...

I want to say tonight—from this podium and in this place—thank you to our law enforcement officers and first responders. And thank you to your families, who sacrifice every day so that we can be safe.

Here are the facts: three of the eleven most violent cities in America are in Missouri—St. Louis, Kansas City, and Springfield.

This violence affects far too many families—mine included.

And it's not just in the cities. When you talk to sheriffs, chiefs of police, and front line officers around the state, they'll tell you it's getting harder to do police work.

They'll tell you about what the FBI has identified: The Ferguson Effect.

They'll tell you that it's harder to recruit people to become police officers, and the officers who are on the job feel less empowered to proactively police.

Now, we're in a tough place in Missouri and we have to come together. We cannot go forward divided.

God has not given any of us a monopoly on wisdom. We all must make an effort to understand.

We will work with the law enforcement community and concerned citizens and clergy to update our peace officers' standards and training.

We will make sure that all of our officers have the training, resources, and support they need both to protect themselves and to build strong relationships in their communities.

Here's what we have to do together: make this the greatest state in America to be a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or first responder. And we need to make this a state where every citizen feels that they too are safe and protected.

I want to establish a Blue Alert system, so that we can find and bring swift justice to anyone who assaults a law enforcement officer.

And my administration will work with this body to pass the toughest laws in the country for anyone who assaults a peace officer.

We need to make sure that our state highway patrol, that our corrections officers, have nonlethal tools like TASERs and adequate body armor when they are called to go into harm's way.

We also need to stand by our law enforcement officers, firefighters and first responders by aggressively applying for Homeland Security, AFG and SAFER Grants to make sure that they get every federal dollar they deserve.

And we also must work with the Department of Defense and with our military representatives here at home, including at Fort Leonard Wood, to make sure our military police officers and military firefighters can much more easily come back home and serve as police officers and firefighters on our streets.

We will do these things. But we need all of you to work alongside us to make Missouri safe.

And those of us in this room have a particular obligation. It is an obligation to hear people who are often unheard. To understand the frustrated, to listen to those who too often do not have a voice.

We need a justice system that does justice by all of our people. As a constitutional conservative, I believe, as you do, that the constitution applies to every citizen. I believe in the 6th Amendment, which guarantees the right to a fair trial and adequate legal representation for all.

I believe—as many of you do—that we must reform our corrections system. I believe our corrections officers do hard work, under difficult circumstances, and I am committed to standing by them and standing up for them.

In order to protect them, and in fact, in order to protect every citizen in Missouri, we need to find ways to reduce recidivism. If somebody gets out of prison, we want them to go to work. We want them to pay their fair share in taxes. We want them to take care of their kids. We want them to set a good example.

And the last thing we want is somebody coming out of prison and committing another crime which hurts another family and starts that same bad cycle all over again.

We need to do different. People who are in prison should have a clear plan—from the day they enter—about what direction their lives will take the day they leave.

To tackle this problem, we need to engage groups from across society: most importantly our faith community. I have seen that a turn towards faith can actually save lives in prison. And I will welcome our churches and our synagogues into our corrections facilities.

These steps are but the beginning. And the path towards safer streets for all is built on a combination of support for law enforcement, relationships rooted in understanding, economic and educational opportunity, and a justice system that has the confidence of all of its citizens.

Peace is more than the absence of war. And safety and security are more than the absence of violence. Safety and security are built on the basis of understanding—and we in the people's house must be examples for making an effort to understand each other and bring communities together.

That understanding starts with our young people. And it begins in our homes—and in our schools.

I think we will all agree that we have incredible young people here in the state of Missouri.

And yet, we have an education system that ranks near last in every measure that matters.

Our people have done their part. Missouri pays about the national average for its education system.

Yet even though we spend what the rest of the country spends on education, we rank 47th in starting teacher pay. We have great teachers, and I believe our great teachers deserve to be paid more.

And let me be perfectly clear: this administration is committed to protecting teachers' pensions.

What we need to do is make sure that the money we spend finds its way into the classroom.

Over half of Missouri school districts do not offer a single Advanced Placement class. Over 200 of our 520 school districts did not have a single student in physics. Over 100 did not have a single student enrolled in chemistry.

We need to expand course access programs, so that every child in Missouri can use technology to get the education they need.

We also need to make sure that every child in Missouri, especially those kids with special needs, get a fair shot at the American Dream. I will work with you to implement Education Savings Accounts for children with special needs.

Education Savings Accounts are simple. Kids with special needs have IEPs, individualized education plans. With education savings accounts, parents are able to use their fair share of state education money in a way that fits with what their kids need.

Arizona was the first state in the country to try these accounts, and the program has been a success. Parents are much happier with their children's educations, and children are able to get the kind of education that meets their needs.

We do best when we put power into the hands of parents and teachers at the local level.

Special needs families know their children best. And it is time we gave control back to those parents, to select the best possible education for their children.

Every kid in the state of Missouri—whether in a public school, private school, or homeschool—deserves a fair shot at the American Dream. And these are just a few of the things we can do to make that happen.

What I have outlined tonight are some of the simple and sensible requests that the people have for all of us.

And this is how we begin. Not every problem that we're facing in the state of Missouri can be solved in the next week, the next month or the next year. But this agenda is a strong and bold start.

We have an opportunity to have a truly historic legislative session. Let's heed the voice of the people and let's take Missouri in a new direction.

Thank you very much. God bless you and God bless the people of Missouri.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Kehoe.

Speaker Richardson resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. (Proverbs 3:13)

Almighty Lord, from whom comes all wisdom and understanding, make us aware of Your presence as we seek to provide for the hope of our people. May we be guided in all our hearings to find the more excellent way and be given strength to walk in it that the safety and honor of our State may be preserved, freedom be fortified, and Your purposes be promoted in this people's House.

Grant, O God, that we may do only that which is right and good. Give to us a calmness of mind and a steadiness of spirit that we may fulfill Your will in this short life and find happiness in walking in Your ways and working for Your way forever.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. (Romans 12:10)

Our Heavenly Father, as we enter the gate of another day may it be in the joy that we are working for You and with our fellow representatives on behalf of our beloved constituents and families.

May Your spirit have total control in our hearts and in the hearts of our good people. Let discord and division be removed, all dissension and discrimination be erased. Make us mindful that we are dependent upon each other, that we need each other, and that we must learn to live together in the great state of Missouri. Help us to respect the rights of others and help others to respect our rights. Let us become channels of Your peace.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative John McCaherty.

Father, today we come to You with humility, admiration, and repentance. Help us to follow You, to be kind to one another; even when we disagree, let us lift each other up and not tear each other down.

Forgive us when we fail You, when we fail each other, and remind us that You are our comforter, our guidance, and source of strength when we need help. Guide us during session; guide our decisions and our attitudes. Let us do what is good, right, and acceptable in Your eyes, and that which is best for the Great State of Missouri.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as printed.

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the approach of the Honorable Patricia Breckenridge, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Breckenridge was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where she delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
ADDRESS BY CHIEF JUSTICE PATRICIA BRECKENRIDGE

Lieutenant Governor Parson, Speaker Richardson and members of the House, President Pro Tem Richard and members of the Senate, Governor Greitens and other statewide officers. I am proud to be here today as the voice of the judicial branch.

I am so grateful to have served in the judiciary since my appointment to the trial bench by Governor Kit Bond, to the court of appeals by Governor John Ashcroft, and to the Supreme Court by Governor Matt Blunt. It has been my privilege to serve with judges appointed by both Republican and Democratic governors and to work to decide cases according to the law.

Before I begin, I would like to introduce my husband, Bryan. For 40 years, he has loved and supported me and kept me grounded. Thank you for being here with me this morning.

Earlier this month, I swore in Governor Greitens and other statewide officials. Not all chief justices get to participate in this democratic transition of power, and it was such an honor. For me, it served as a reminder of how alike we are. We share a commitment to work separately and together to make the great state of Missouri even greater. Some, however, focused on how we are different. One tweet questioned the legitimacy of the oaths because of those differences. Apparently, I – correctly – said “MissourAH,” while you said, “MissourEE.”

Our different pronunciations reflect the rich diversity of our state – we come from cities, towns and rural areas to work in Jefferson City. You represent literally every nook and cranny of Missouri. We on the Supreme Court are also geographically diverse. I am from Nevada, in the southwest corner of the state. Judge Zel Fischer grew up in Watson, as far north and west as you can get and still be in Missouri (rumor has it, you can see Nebraska from there). Judge Paul Wilson is from right here in Jefferson City. Judge George Draper is from St. Louis, and while Judge Laura Stith grew up in St. Louis, she has lived in Kansas City for more than 35 years. And Judge Mary Russell is from Hannibal.

This is my fourth and, I am relieved to say, last big speech to deliver as chief justice. But I welcome the chance to talk about my favorite subject – the courts, often called the “least understood” branch of government.

Our 3,400 employees serve in your courts and, every year, are asked to do more with less. I encourage you to visit a local courthouse and meet these dedicated professionals who embrace their responsibility to treat every person fairly and equitably and to resolve disputes according to the law.

Our state employees are the lowest paid in the nation. Despite this, they are hardworking, dedicated, and deserving of our respect. I know budget times are tight, but we must find a way to pay them 21st century wages for 21st century work. Please join me in recognizing our state employees who serve in all branches of our government.

In the last fiscal year, more than 1.8 million cases were filed in Missouri courts – of these, 60 percent involved municipal ordinance violations. In our circuit courts, the largest number of cases involve the prosecution of state crimes. Seventeen percent of our cases are civil – primarily small claims, domestic relations, landlord tenant matters and disputes of less than $25,000. About 5 percent of civil cases – and fewer than 1 percent of all cases – involve tort claims like wrongful death or personal injury.

I understand Governor Greitens and some of you in the General Assembly have called for changes in the law governing certain types of cases. Do not view these calls for action as a condemnation of our judicial system.

Our citizens can be proud of our courts, where they go to resolve their disputes peaceably and where their constitutional rights are protected. Day in and day out, in the courtrooms in your communities, hundreds of thousands of cases are adjudicated without fanfare. We, more than anyone, want our courts to live up to their responsibilities to properly administer justice.

So when serious problems in some St. Louis County municipal divisions came to light, we owned those problems. Though the vast majority of our 625 municipal divisions function well, the challenge of problem municipal divisions in St. Louis County and elsewhere in the state became an opportunity to make all of our municipal divisions better.

From within the judicial system, judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and clerks rolled up their sleeves and crafted solutions that would work. We are grateful for this leadership. Their yeoman's work turned recommendations for reforms into tangible change. Changes came when our Court imposed mandatory standards – effective upon their adoption in September – detailing how municipal divisions must operate under the law. The standards are extensive. We also put in place a code of conduct for all municipal division personnel and defined what constitutes a conflict of interest for judges who choose to wear multiple hats.

While some say the standards don't go far enough, others say they have gone too far. Some municipalities are finding it difficult to do what they should have been doing all along. But my years on the trial bench taught me if both sides are not totally satisfied, perhaps we got it right.

We and the state court administrator's office have also worked with a number of municipalities to consolidate their court operations, including 13 in St. Louis County. Consolidation results in reduced costs, which we hope will disincentivize municipalities from using courts as revenue generators. Many have worked hard to accomplish consolidation, particularly in St. Ann and Normandy. Unfortunately, the cost savings may not be fully realized for some, due to a law that caps the number of municipalities a judge may serve.

Additionally, Missouri's constitution places responsibility on the presiding judge of each circuit to supervise the municipal divisions. So, last month, the Supreme Court adopted protocols to guide presiding judges and make their authority clear. We recognize supervision poses a special challenge in St. Louis County and, in an effort to assist, the Supreme Court is providing municipal division monitors.

Municipal divisions are not alone in the spotlight. Others leveled criticisms at our juvenile divisions, including their very structure. Missouri has never been afraid to lead, and this state decided long ago our juvenile system should be different from other states. Our juvenile proceedings are designed to be non-adversarial, and all parties are required to act in the best interest of the child.

Nonetheless, we thoughtfully considered the criticisms and responded by enacting reforms that make all of our juvenile divisions better. In doing so, the judiciary worked with leaders from around the state to develop standards for juvenile officers. These standards, adopted in December, create uniform practices and procedures; establish a code of conduct; and outline best practices that promote better outcomes for Missouri's children.

Our next goal is to improve pretrial incarceration practices. Incarcerating persons simply because they are too poor to post bond needs to be examined in both municipal and criminal cases. Under our Missouri Constitution, an individual may be incarcerated before trial only when charged with a capital offense; when a danger to a crime victim, a witness, or the community; or a flight risk. All other persons are entitled to reasonable conditions of release prior to trial, based on the particular circumstances of their cases.

Our cities and counties incur costs for pretrial incarcerations of people who simply are poor. There are individual and societal consequences from these unwarranted pretrial incarcerations. The consequences impact the defendants, their families and, ultimately, the state. Defendants lose not only their freedom but also their ability to earn a living and to provide for loved ones. Children may even come into state custody, because incarcerated parents are not home to care for them. And – after only three days in jail – the likelihood that an individual will commit future crimes also increases.

A Supreme Court task force will examine how other states and cities have addressed the problem of unwarranted pretrial incarceration and recommend changes to our practices. We look forward to sharing what we learn with you and working together to enact common-sense reforms.

We also will be sharing with you the work of the Supreme Court’s committee on treatment courts. The committee is completing a strategic plan that can be a roadmap to improving both the quality of and access to treatment courts in Missouri. Our branches of government have long worked together because treatment courts are a proven, cost-effective way to change the lives of persons charged with crimes due to addiction or mental health disorders. Missouri is a national leader in developing quality treatment courts; however, we have not realized their full potential to reduce recidivism, produce productive citizens, reunify families, and address the needs of our veterans. Your continued support will be essential if we ever are to realize the full potential of treatment courts.

Technology also remains a top priority as we strive to make courts as accessible as possible to our citizens. As Governor Greitens noted last week, we need a modern government that allows people to do more online instead of making them wait in line. We share that goal.

We are thankful for the expertise of our 21st century workforce, which has been invaluable in improving and modernizing our computer systems. Our judges and staff are collaborating in the development of software that puts more information at a judge’s fingertips and will allow potential jurors to get information about their service from their smartphones. We are also developing a traffic and ordinance case management system to increase the efficiency of municipal divisions in managing and disposing of cases, assessing authorized costs, and processing payments. The system will ultimately reduce the number of litigants who must come to court because they will have increased access to the courts from their mobile devices.

We are grateful the legislature recognized the need to automate our courts back in 1994 and has partnered with and supported us in accomplishing that goal. The work has been overseen by the Missouri Court Automation Committee, on which Senators Bob Dixon and Scott Sifton – along with Representatives Robert Cornejo and Joe Don McGaugh – work with the judicial and the executive branches.

In 2016, Missouri completed its statewide electronic filing system. We are the first state to have e-filing in all courts of record. We also finished implementing “Pay by Web,” which allows Missourians to pay fees and costs online. And “Track this Case” lets the public receive e-mail notices of activity in pending cases. Who here doesn’t know about Case.net, which provides information about more than 20 million cases statewide and receives an average of 5 million hits every workday.

While Case.net lets you know that documents have been filed in court, you cannot access those documents without going to a courthouse and using a public computer terminal. The Missouri Court Automation Committee has recommended the judiciary allow remote access, but expansion of public access to case records can be done only if the security and reliability of the courts’ essential operations can be guaranteed. And such expansion of the system will require more resources than currently available. To defray the expenses of expansion and maintenance, the courts and legislature may need to consider means such as subscription fees or pay-per-view charges like those assessed by federal courts.

Equally of concern is the question of exactly what should be available online. Missouri statutes govern which case documents are public. But many of these statutes were enacted before – sometimes long before – the modern computer age. So it is safe to say statutes making certain case documents “public” meant available at the clerk’s office, and in paper form, not available instantly to anyone anywhere in the world.

Certainly, a strong presumption of openness is a bedrock of our legal system. But – given the unique concerns arising from online access – the Court wants to be sure the legislature has the opportunity to reexamine statutes governing public case documents to determine if they are the will of this body and the people you represent. We are willing to advise and assist in any way we can.

As we move forward with innovations and improvements, we do so with two significant changes in leadership.

In late November, our colleague Judge Richard Teitelman passed away. Simply known as Judge Rick to many, he was the first person of Jewish faith and the first legally blind person to serve as a judge of our state’s high court. He believed in the goodness of humanity and was a steadfast champion of equal justice. While we may not have always agreed in our legal opinions, we knew no friend more loyal or caring, and we miss him.

And so the process to fill his vacancy has begun. As provided by our state constitution, any licensed Missouri attorney who meets the age and residency requirements may apply until February 3rd. If you know of qualified individuals you believe would be an asset to our Court, please nominate and encourage them to apply. Interviews will be held at the end of February at the Supreme Court and are open to the public. The Appellate Judicial Commission will select three well-qualified nominees for the governor’s consideration. The constitution gives Governor Greitens 60 days to conduct his own review and select the new judge. We look forward to this appointment.

We also begin the year with a new leader at the Supreme Court. Bill Thompson, who expertly guided us as counsel and clerk for more than 38 years, retired in December. He was succeeded by the first woman ever to hold the position of clerk – Betsy AuBuchon. Many of you may know Betsy from her days in the capitol. She has earned our respect and trust, and we are confident she will be an exceptional leader for Missouri’s judicial system. We know these two additions to the judiciary will help us continue to make our courts better for Missouri’s citizens.

Speaker Richardson, you commented in your address on the first day of the session that we must ensure our court system is fair to all litigants. We agree ... and are so very grateful our courts are staffed by dedicated and talented people who share that belief and properly handle cases of all types. Missouri has a judicial system of which we can be proud. We constantly strive to better serve our citizens and, as we look to the future, I have no doubt we will continue to do so.

Thank you for your support of the judicial branch. I wish you all the best in your service to the people of Missouri.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Kehoe.

Speaker Richardson resumed the Chair.

All complaints filed with the Speaker against a member of the House shall be made by a member or other individual under the authority of Rule 101 of the House Rules of Procedure or the Policy Handbook of the Missouri House of Representatives involving sexual harassment investigations and member referral to the Committee on Ethics. The complaints shall be confidential and shall be referred to the Committee on Ethics within ten (10) days, or within fourteen (14) days under Rule 101 of the House Rules of Procedure, and shall be in writing and under oath, setting forth in simple, concise and direct statements:

(1) The name and legal address of the member or members or other individual acting as complainant;

B. All documents in the possession of the complainant that are relevant to and in support of the allegations shall be appended to the complaint.

RULE 5. Initial Examination of the Complaint by the Committee

A. Within thirty (30) days of the assignment of the complaint by the Speaker, the Committee shall determine if it is in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules, and whether on the face of the complaint, the allegations contained therein are within the jurisdiction of the Committee, and if so, whether the allegations merit proceeding to a preliminary hearing. The complainant shall not act as a member of the Committee at a hearing in which the complainant is likely to be called as a necessary witness. A respondent shall not act as a member of the Committee for purposes of his complaint.

B. Complaints determined not to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules shall be returned to the complainant with a general statement that it is not in compliance with the Rules of Procedure. The complaint may be resubmitted in the proper form.

C. Once a determination has been made that the complaint complies with Rule 4 of these Rules, a majority of the Committee appointed shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Defer action pending completion of any other administrative, disciplinary, commission, or judicial proceeding;

D. In determining whether or not to proceed the Committee shall consider the following:

- (1) The credible evidence contained in the complaint or appended thereto of the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, or other acts violating applicable ethical standards;
- (2) Other administrative or disciplinary action by other interested bodies;
- (3) Criminal investigation, Missouri Ethics Commission proceeding, or judicial proceedings, either civil or criminal; and
- (4) Other relevant circumstances that would justify expediting, declining or deferring action by the Committee.

E. Complaints determined to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules and accepted for a preliminary hearing shall be transmitted to the respondent with a copy of the Rules of Procedure and notice in writing that the respondent has twenty-one (21) calendar days to respond to the complaint either by way of answer or motion pursuant to Rule 6 of these Rules. The complainant shall also be notified, in writing, of the action of the Committee. Examination of the complaint and the determination of Rule 5.C. shall be conducted in a closed meeting.

RULE 6. Answers and Motions

A. If the Committee determines that the complaint merits proceeding to a preliminary hearing, the respondent shall have twenty-one (21) calendar days in which to respond to the complaint by way of answer or motion, unless this time period is waived by the respondent. Any answer or motion shall be in writing, signed by the respondent and his counsel, if he has one, and shall be limited to the following:

(1) An admission or denial under oath, of the allegations set forth in the complaint, including negative and affirmative defenses, and any other relevant information, including supporting evidence which the respondent may desire to submit. Failure to file an answer within the time prescribed shall be considered by the Committee as a denial of each allegation;

(2) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Committee to investigate the complaint; or

(3) An objection to the participation of any member of the Committee in an investigation of the complaint on the grounds that the member cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision in the case. The majority of the members present shall rule on the objection to the participation of any member of the Committee. A temporary replacement shall be made to serve on the Committee on Ethics for all actions concerning a particular complaint for any member of the Committee who is prevented from acting on a complaint under these rules.

B. Any motion submitted pursuant to this rule is not in lieu of an answer and shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities. Answers or motions not submitted within the twenty-one (21) calendar-day period shall not be considered by the Committee.

C. The Chairman of the Committee shall pass upon such motions as soon as practicable and notice of the decision shall be furnished to the respondent and the complainant. A motion to quash a subpoena shall be decided by the Chairman of the Committee.

D. Time limitations imposed by this Rule may be extended when, in the discretion of the Chairman, such extension would facilitate a fair and complete inquiry and may be shortened when the Chairman determines that there are special circumstances compelling expedition, and upon twenty-four (24) hours notice of said action to the respondent and the claimant.

E. In the event that a special counsel is retained by the Committee, the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the Committee and not to the House.

RULE 7. Preliminary Hearings

A. A preliminary hearing may be held to hear arguments based on the pleadings submitted in the case. The preliminary hearing shall be an open meeting. The committee shall provide the complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent an opportunity to present, orally or in writing, a statement, which shall be under oath or affirmation, regarding the allegations and any other relevant questions arising out of the pleadings. A complainant or respondent who is represented by counsel shall not be questioned in the absence of counsel unless an explicit waiver is obtained.

B. The committee shall require that testimony be given under oath or affirmation. The form of the oath or affirmation shall be: “Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?” The oath or affirmation shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths. Members of the committee shall be given an opportunity to question the complainant and respondent or counsel for the complainant or respondent following the opening statements.

C. At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, a majority of the Committee shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Dismiss the complaint, or
- (2) Proceed by
 - (a) undertaking an investigative hearing; or
 - (b) deciding the case based upon the preliminary hearing.

A decision based upon a preliminary hearing shall require the consent of the respondent.

D. If the committee decides to make a summary decision of the case and the respondent accepts this disposition the Committee may, by a majority vote, recommend one of the following sanctions:

- (1) Letter of reproof;
- (2) Reprimand; or
- (3) Censure.

RULE 8. Investigative Hearings

A. An investigative hearing may be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may obtain a court-issued subpoena in the event that any person refuses to obey the subpoena issued by the Committee.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the investigative hearing shall be as follows:

(1) The Chairman shall open the hearing by stating the Committee’s authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.

(2) The complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent shall be permitted to make opening statements. Such opening statements shall not exceed fifteen minutes each.

(3) Testimony from witnesses and other evidence pertinent to the matter under investigation shall be received in the following order:

- (a) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the complainant;
- (b) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the respondent;
- (c) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the Committee staff; and
- (d) Rebuttal witnesses.

(4) The Chairman or his designee shall examine each witness. The Committee members may then question the witness. The respondent or his counsel may then cross-examine the witness. Redirect or recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman’s discretion. With respect to witnesses offered by the respondent, a witness shall be examined first by the respondent or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the complainant or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the Chairman or his designee. Committee members may then question the witness. Redirect and recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?" The oath shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths.

RULE 9. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chairman or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chairman or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At an investigative hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he introduces.

RULE 10. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his scheduled appearance to allow him a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chairman, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at investigative hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence. Counsel for a witness other than the respondent shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee. After a witness has testified, his counsel may submit to the Committee, in writing, any questions he wishes propounded to his client and any request for additional witnesses or other evidence. Such request may be granted in the discretion of the Committee.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

In every nation he who fears God and does what is right is acceptable to Him. (Acts 10:35)

O God, who has called us to let our light so shine before others that they may see our good works and glorify You, grant us grace to be faithful leaders of our people, thoughtful in our thinking, wise in our wisdom, genuine in our goodness, and with hearts ever open to You. Weave our lives and the life of our State into the struggle for freedom and justice and peace in our communities.

Guide our Governor, our Speaker, and these Members of our House of Representatives in their tasks to find a just basis for the ending of distrust and in their efforts to discover a strong foundation for cooperation and peace.

To this end we commit our lives in the spirit of love.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

All things come from Thee, O Lord, and of Thine own have we given Thee. (I Chronicles 29:14)

O Lord, whose wisdom is so wise that we often doubt it, whose love is so loving we often deny it, and whose truth is so true we often fear it, grant unto us such a full measure of Your spirit that we may never doubt Your wisdom, never deny Your love, and never fear Your truth.

You have called us to live together in peace and good will. Let Your presence guide all the men and women of this House of Representatives that they may find support for peaceful procedures in their endeavor to establish justice, to maintain order, to develop understanding, and to build bridges between rural and urban people.

Teach us to unite what we ought to do with what we will do, that walking in the way of Your word and obeying Your commandments, we may have life more abundant, liberty more abounding, and love more abiding – all to the glory of Your holy name.

And the House says, “Amen!”

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Rick Brattin.

Our good and gracious Heavenly Father, we come before You today seeking Your guidance, Your wisdom, and Your absolute truths.

We live in a world that is cursed and plagued by sin and evil, and without Your holy word and Your amazing grace bestowed upon us through Your son, Jesus Christ, we would be lost and given over to Your judgment.

And my prayer today is that Your Holy Spirit would fill each and every one in this room and speak through us to do Your sovereign will in this great state. To be bold and courageous and willing to stand for Your truth no matter the cost! As stated in II Timothy 4:3-4:

For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables.

And as I close, may You reveal Your truths, Your will through Your holy word to each and every one here so that we may do what is right in Your eyes and not through the eyes of men.

And in Christ's precious name we pray,

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

He who is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much. (Luke 1:10)

O Mighty Lord, who has called us to be co-workers with You in the advancement of Your kingdom, teach us to understand the meaning of these days in which we live with all its challenges and its triumphs. With this understanding may there come the spiritual power to deal with the many demanding duties of this day courageously, handling ourselves honorably and working for the well-being of our people.

Sustain with Your strength those who are in need and pain. Inspire our people to be compassionate and helpful in their efforts to provide assistance to those who seek work and who will work.

Grant unto us, the members of the People's House, the will and the wisdom to continue to build up the life of our State upon the strong foundations of justice, truth and goodwill. To this end may we be found faithful in our stewardship and honest in our votes.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness and faithfulness. (Galatians 5:22)

Almighty God, ruler of all hearts, without whom no civilization can be great and no people can be good, we thank You for the blessings bestowed so abundantly upon us as a State. By our faith in You and Your trust in us, may we keep the spirit of freedom alive in our day, realizing that it is a gift to be earned by just and good people of every generation of Missourians.

Make us as the Representatives of our State more responsive to You and more responsible to our people that we may sincerely seek the good of all and endeavor to maintain our hopes in righteousness and peace.

Awaken in our citizens a willingness to make sacrifices for others. To this end we pray that they and we may think clearly, plan courageously, decide confidently, and, by Your grace, achieve creatively for the good of all men and women and the glory of Your Most Holy Name, now and forever!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him. (Psalm 37:7)

O Powerful God, Our Creator, grant that we may have so enjoyed our evening that our bodies have been renewed and our spirits restored, now making us ready for the great and important responsibilities of this day.

Give us steadfast hearts that no trouble may overcome, only strong spirits that no temptation may overwhelm, and steady minds that only worthy thoughts may keep us healthy, noble and honest.

Teach us to serve You and our State faithfully and fully, to give and not to count the cost, to fight and not feel the wounds, to vote and not seek the rewards, except that of doing Your will and seeking only the best for our great people.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Diane Franklin.

Almighty God, take us back to the first time we saw Old Glory rippling in the breeze with red and white stripes and white stars on a field of blue. When at the core of our souls we realized this is my flag, the symbol of a country where freedom rings.

As representatives of all Missourians, we are bestowed with a great responsibility and duty to carry out the patriotic ideals of our citizens.

Our journeys here are often arduous; however, the refrain "We the people..." shall guide us to absolution and serve as a beacon of hope to the people of the twenty-fourth state of the Union.

May God continue to guide us all across this great nation and here, in our great state of Missouri.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2017

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Richardson in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Psalm 46:1)

Almighty God, whose love is the light of life and whose law is the litany of liberty, grant us wisdom to use in right ways the freedom which is our heritage by keeping ourselves dedicated to You and devoted to our State.

Give us the faith to go out into this day with courage not always knowing where we are going but with the assurance that You are with us, Your hand is sustaining us and Your spirit supporting us all the way.

Strengthen the men and women throughout the world who are risking their lives on our behalf and seeking to keep freedom alive in this country.

Comfort us with Your presence and give us strength. In life and in death, may we all realize that You are our refuge and strength.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.
